...ASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—...

...E. A. Meserve, Republican attorney, yesterday issued an appeal strongly indorsing the candidacy of Donald Keith for City Attorney.

Unqualified opposition to the industrialization of residential districts was voiced yesterday by Walter Kays, Councilmanic candidate from the Third District, who expressed himself as particularly opposed to the proposed new quarry and crushing mill in the Ynez Canyon.

Wilmer E. Bromley, ... youngest candidate in the Councilmanic race, hailing from the Seventh District, in announcing candidacy stated he will be glad to serve the people if they so desire.

Neal R. Olsen, candidate from the Fourth District for the Council, came out against the construction of the exclusive Santa Monica Mountains residential district as an important issue in his campaign. Olsen served as a member of the City Council from 1917 to 1919, is indorsed by a number of improvement and business associations, and has been active in promoting the progress of his district, his backers stated.

Indorsement by Marshal ... well-known attorney, of the candidacy of Judge Guy P. Bush, who ceed himself in Office No. 1 of Municipal Court was announced ... Bush's supporters yesterday.

Judge R. Morgan ... candidate to succeed himself in Division No. 3 of the Municipal Court yesterday received the indorsement of the United Veterans' Legislative League and the Disabled War Veterans of the Twelfth District.

"Your work in the past, on the bench, shows that you possess fairness, impartiality and the proper temperament required of a good officer, and we feel that you would have made an enviable record if you had been elected," Harry Mayfield, president of the organization, ... "We wish to assure you of the wholehearted and enthusiastic support of all members of this organization."

Judge Gilbreth has received the indorsements of the Los Angeles Bar Association, the League, Colored Voters' Republican League, Eighth District Progressive League and the United Veterans of the Republic.

Many of the city's most prominent civic leaders are active workers of the committee in charge of the campaign of Judge ... Carleton, former district attorney of Montana, now a candidate for Division No. 2 of the Municipal Court, according to an announcement issued ... from Carleton-for-Judge campaign headquarters, 1116 C. C. Chapman building.

The following is the personnel of the committee: Charles H. Arthur W. Brakman, C. C. Merrill L. Granger, George ... Carl Hyde, Grover L. Jones, ... McNamara, Robert Morrison, ... Neuner, W. W. Wilkinson, ... Green, Mrs. Alice ... Mrs. Frank Spring, Mrs. ... Schloesser, Mrs. Julia W. ... Miss Ruth Sterry, Mrs. ... Stearns, Mrs. E. R. ... Harriet W. Works, Mrs. ... Mathers and John R. ... campaign director.

That the City Council has robbed of powers which have ... assignment of U. S. Prohibition ... to city commissioners, ... in running for City Council ... the Fifth District, and which ... himself to work for an amendment ... to the city charter which would restore authority to the City Council, ... his campaign headquarters announced.

"The City Council is the only body which represents the people because its members are elected by them and not appointed by others. We have had numerous examples just how arbitrary and unfair our commission can be when they are not amenable to the people in the same sense as our Council members, and consequently the necessity to become arbitrary is more marked."

In indorsing Perry Thomas for election to office as Municipal Court, the United Veterans of the Republic did so because they believe that in his qualifications and conscientious public service both as a deputy City Attorney and as a member of the City Civil Service Commission, it was decided by a vote taken ... day by George Glover, ... of the ex-service men's organization.

"Mr. Thomas is a well-equipped attorney, and we believe he fulfills our demand for a man who will devote his entire time to a clean, honest and efficient administration," Mr. Glover said. "His record is above reproach and his service to the city has been meritorious."

Will Rogers Remarks:

BOSTON, April 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] When Mr. Hoover appoints some judge, or some prominent position, he sends out the names of the fellows who wanted him appointed. That's to stop these politicians from autographing every application that comes along. Some of them were so promiscuous with their indorsements that they must have been working on a commission. Now a lot of them are kicking on this plan. But for every politician he loses he will gain two more friends.

The biggest marathon race we have in this country finished here today, and an old boy from Canada won it because he never owned a Ford and didn't know how to run one. Outsiders won everything. We ride good but we get out of wind walking to the garage.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Bloom of Impending Failure Deepened by Passing of Lord Revelstoke

Germans Reported Trying to Prevent Final Break-up of Experts' Meet

PARIS, April 19. (AP)—The second Dawes committee today ended the tenth week of its efforts finally to settle the German reparations problem in the gloom of threatening failure and bereavement for the death of one of its members, Lord Revelstoke of Great Britain, distinguished banker.

Broken and tired by the failure of the conference to arrive at a satisfactory settlement, Lord Revelstoke died in his apartment at 7:30 a.m. today. Heart disease was given as the cause.

His brother, the Hon. Cecil Baring, was at his side when the end came.

Intimates said the famous Britisher, who shared with Sir Josiah Stamp the leadership of the British delegation, had been under an intense strain throughout yesterday's session of his subcommittee. At this session the German delegation refused a compromise with the Allies, making imminent its adjournment and failure.

Last night he complained of being tired.

PUBLIC WORK MENACED

Anti-Alien Bill Protested

Hurley Act Bars Employment of Mexicans on Jobs Whites Will Not Accept

Means Prohibitive Cost and Curtailment of Building; Aqueduct Threatened

A wave of protest against Senate Bill No. 112, providing that no alien may be employed on public construction work of any character in this State, started in Southern California yesterday when the full import of the Hurley bill, backed by the labor lobby at Sacramento, was set forth in advices from the capital. The bill has already passed the Senate but a bitter and determined fight will be made against it in the Assembly.

The bill is aimed at the employment of Mexican laborers on road-building gangs, street work, dam building or any other form of construction by or for any California city, county or other political subdivision or the State itself. No contractor could employ any Mexican or other alien on any work under public jurisdiction. Mexicans could not be used, for example, to help build the Colorado River Aqueduct, notwithstanding that to bar them as laborers on that gigantic project would make its cost prohibitive, in the view of the engineers in charge.

Mexicans constitute a very large proportion of the total supply of unskilled labor of California, especially in the southern portion. Contractors customarily give the preference to Americans in employment but declare that it is impossible to get Americans to do heavy pick-and-shovel labor, particularly on road gangs or in desert construction work, for the maximum wages paid for this class of work or even a large increase over the going scale. The effect of the bill becoming law, in their opinion, will be very largely to increase the cost of all public work, thereby adding heavily to taxes, to make necessary the importation of Filipino and Porto Rican negro labor and, withal, to make public construction as difficult as to bar contractors from bidding on it. This, they continue, will result in curtailing the entire program of State highway construction, county road-building and all other classes of public work, thereby throwing out of employment a great number of skilled workmen employed in certain phases of such construction.

A consensus of available estimates indicates that the Hurley bill, if enacted, will add 25 per cent to the cost of public works and will reduce them in volume by 25 per cent. Both figures are regarded as conservative.

MENACE, SAYS BENT

"Some big public jobs will be crippled to such an extent that they will become almost impossible while others will not be undertaken at all if the bill to prohibit the employment of aliens by contractors on public work is made to law," declared Arthur Bent of Bent Brothers, prominent California contractors.

"This measure is not one in the public interest," declared Mr. Bent. "As a matter of fact it is against public interest and welfare. We find that American labor will not do the work now done by the Mexican. We cannot hire Americans although we always attempt to employ citizens first.

"This condition is not due to the pay scale for unskilled labor but to the class of work. We pay Mexican labor from $4.50 a day to $7 a day for certain class of work but Americans will not swing a pick and do the other things for which we employ the Mexicans.

"It must be remembered by every one behind this bill that if it should be made into law every big public job would cost a great deal more than at present and that all work would be slowed up to the danger point."

"MEANS HIGHER TAXES"

The Associated General Contractors have been fighting the anti-alien labor bill for four years and will continue to do so, according to Melville Dozier, manager of the association.

"We went on record against this bill four years ago, again two years ago, and are on record against it now," declared Mr. Dozier yesterday. "We are conducting an active fight and will continue to do so until it is defeated. The general contractors know that if the bill should become law then the public will have to meet an increase in building costs.

"American labor should, and is given preference over Mexican labor, but the contractors in the south cannot hire enough common day from the American ranks and must turn to Mexican labor. Then again there are classes of work which Mexicans are able to accomplish better than the Americans, and again the Mexicans are paid from $4 to $4.50 a day for the same class of work that Americans would have to be paid $5 to $7 for. The work is not worth the pay and in the long run, on a public job the taxpayer would have to make up the difference.

"Two big things must not be forgotten in this fight. Americans won't do this work unless they are paid more than the work is worth and in the second place, the additional cost will be assessed against the public in the long run.

"If the bill becomes law, then many of the large public jobs now being talked of, may as well be wiped off the slate because the

TORNADOES AND RAINS TAKE TOLL

One Killed and Property Damaged Through Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas

KANSAS CITY, April 19. (AP)—One casualty, with several persons injured and considerable damage to property, was reported tonight in the wake of heavy winds and rainstorms in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

A 7-month-old baby was killed near Cleburne, Tex., early tonight, and several persons were injured in a tornado that struck a farming community. Considerable damage to buildings was reported from Paris, Tex. Heavy wind ripped through that city early tonight and blew with cyclonic force for thirty minutes. A wind blowing fifty-four miles an hour caused thousands of dollars' damage at Dallas.

Missing the centers of population, a tornado swept through the northern part of Grant County, Oklahoma, late this afternoon, demolishing farm buildings and disrupting communication lines. Earlier in the day a tornado swept through Harper county, injuring a woman and her child, with a good deal of crop and farm property damage.

Kansas streams were swelling from general rainfall, ranging from light showers to five inches. Two miles of track on the main line of the Union Pacific Railroad between Wamego and Belvue, Kan., were reported under water as a result of heavy rains.

BILL WOULD SAVE SARDINES

Measure Drafted to Restrict Fertilizer Output of Canneries in Move to Preserve Fish Schools

SACRAMENTO, April 19. (Exclusive)—In an effort to prevent the destruction of the sardine schools in the waters off the California coast and thus preserve this food stock for future generations, Senator Young of Los Gatos will bring before the Senate for passage next Monday Bill No. 434, providing that canners may reduce but 20 per cent of their product to fertilizer.

At present the law is designed to limit the canners to 25 per cent reduction, according to Senator Young, but a decision by Superior Judge Tappaan, Los Angeles, when the Fish and Game Commission brought abatement proceedings against a number of canners, has overridden this restriction. The present bill is designed to cure this defect.

EXTINCTION FEARED

Last season canners handled 210,000 tons of sardines, Senator Young stated today, of which they rendered 135,000 tons into fertilizer. Unless Senate Bill No. 434 becomes a law, Senator Young says, the canners will reduce all their catch to fertilizer and completely destroy the sardine schools within five years. In addition to destroying the sardines, according to the commission, this situation will result in departure of larger food fish, which subsist on sardines.

The fishermen themselves are in favor of the bill as they see their future livelihood disappearing. Senator Young has several emphatic letters from fishermen's organizations, appealing to him for assistance. They point out that a number of large vessels, with seines operated by donkey engines, are preparing to invade Southern California waters with the prospect of completely depopulating those waters of fish.

CANNERS SPEED UP

Because there are tremendous profits in the fertiliser-making phase of canning, Senator Young says, the canners are proceeding to

SIX LIFERS CANDIDATES FOR PARDON

Paul Kelly and "Times" Bomber Among Eligibles for Release This Month

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, April 19. (AP)—An April parole calendar that reveals six life-termers as being eligible for pardon was released today by the State Board of Prison Directors.

Foremost among the convicts on the calender are Paul Kelly, convicted of manslaughter for the killing of Ray Raymond, actor, in a fist fight in Los Angeles, and Matt A. Schmidt, serving a life term for first-degree murder in connection with the bombing of the Los Angeles Times Building.

Oscar Bowers, convicted of first-degree murder in Los Angeles, it is announced, also is eligible for parole.

Later a musicale is planned with Mr. Tibbett, a baritone, as soloist.

FOUR NAVY FLYERS KILLED

Airplanes Crash in Midair Over San Diego and Plunge Into Shallow Water

SAN DIEGO, April 19. (AP)—Four naval flyers met death this afternoon when two planes collided and fell 600 feet just north of the golf course at Coronado.

THE DEAD

Lieut. William K. Patterson.
Ensign Harold R. Sheehan.
Ensign Herbert Bassett, Jr., Naval Reserve.
H. H. Brown, radio man first class.

The two planes, piloted by Lieut. Patterson and Ensign Bassett and carrying Brown and Ensign Sheehan, respectively, as passengers, were attached to Scouting Squadron No. 3 of the U. S. S. Lexington and were operating at the time from the North Island naval air station.

This afternoon they were returning from aerial gunnery practice near Oceanside and had swung in to land at the air station field. Ensign Bassett's plane, it was reported later at headquarters of the aircraft squadrons, battle fleet, apparently collided with that piloted by Lieut. Patterson, and the two fell into the shallow water covering a mud flat near Alameda avenue and First street, Coronado.

The three officers were killed instantly, their bodies being recovered from the cockpits of the wrecked planes. The ambulance from the Coronado fire department was rushed to the scene. Brown, it is reported, apparently was thrown clear. He still was living and was rushed to the Naval Hospital in a vain effort to save his life. He died, however, before the hospital was reached. The planes, two Vought Corsairs, were demolished.

Lieut. Patterson, who was married, was born in Pennsylvania in 1897 and entered the regular Navy from the reserve, in which he had served three years, in 1921.

Ensign Sheehan was born in Massachusetts in 1905, and entered the naval academy from that State in 1923.

Ensign Bassett, a reserve officer, was married and came from Macomb, Ill. He was about 25 years of age.

Brown, the radio man, had been in the Navy nearly eleven years. His home was Billings, Mont. He was married also.

A naval board of inquiry is to be called to investigate details of the crash.

HARDY'S DEFENSE STORIES CLASH ON MAJOR ISSUES

Woolley and Bardin Describe How Women Signed 'Miss X' Affidavit, but Differ on Details

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, April 19. (Exclusive)—Two witnesses were produced before the Senate today by the defense of Superior Judge Hardy, on trial on impeachment charges, for the purpose of contradicting the damaging testimony of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff, the woman who said Judge Hardy conspired in the Miss X hoax, but while denying parts of her story, managed to get at cross purposes themselves on several major details.

The witnesses were Roland Rich Woolley of Los Angeles and former Judge J. A. Bardin of Salinas. They were asked to describe in detail the circumstances surrounding the appearance of Mrs. Sielaff and the mysterious Miss X at Bardin's Salinas office August 18, 1926, when both women signed affidavits to the effect that it was Miss X, and not Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple evangelist, who was the companion of Kenneth Ormiston, radio man, at a cottage at Carmel.

STORIES DIFFER

Judge Hardy and Mrs. McPherson receded into the background while the witnesses recounted, again and again, the making of the affidavits. Mrs. Sielaff testified last week and upset the defense materially. She said she has known Woolley since childhood, that he employed her in Los Angeles in July, 1926, to go to San Francisco, where she met one Martin whom she identified as Jack Woolley, a cousin of the attorney, who directed her in the Miss X hoax, that she then went to Los Angeles, where she received more details from Judge Hardy and Mrs. McPherson's mother and business manager, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, then went to Salinas, where the affidavits, which she termed "false in every line," were drawn up by Bardin and Woolley and signed.

The most astonishing part of Woolley's testimony was that he had never seen or heard of Mrs. Sielaff before her appearance at Judge Bardin's office, although it is conclusively proved that fifteen days before this date she had been at Angelus Temple and had made statements to Arthur Veitch, another McPherson lawyer, Mrs. Kennedy and Judge Hardy. Woolley at this time was considered to be the McPherson chief counsel.

FOUR COPIES MADE

Judge Bardin testified that Woolley gave no indication of ever having seen Mrs. Sielaff before. On cross-examination, Assemblyman Little of the managers brought out three discrepancies in the testimony of the witness. Judge Bardin said that four copies of the affidavits were made and two copies were given Woolley, one was kept for himself and the other was prepared for Dist.-Atty. Keyes of Los Angeles, after a discussion concerning giving it to Keyes. Woolley said there was no such discussion and he gave Keyes a copy on his own initiative later. Then Mr. Little dragged out a statement taken from Woolley by Keyes September 18, which indicated that Woolley gave the statement to a newspaper instead of the District Attorney.

Another discrepancy brought out was Judge Bardin's testimony that during the affidavit conference a long-distance telephone call came in and Woolley talked to some one. Bardin supposed was Mrs. Kennedy, telling her that the "woman had arrived and her expenses from Los Angeles were taken care of." Woolley denied in toto such a telephone conversation.

ANOTHER POINT

Judge Bardin testified that it was his idea that affidavits be made, while Woolley said the subject first was broached by Mrs. Sielaff.

One interesting point in Judge Bardin's testimony was his identification of Mrs. Viola Kimball, Mrs. Sielaff's sister, as the Miss X. Mrs. Sielaff says it was Rachael Wells and not her sister.

Judge Bardin first said it was a coincidence that he was in his office with Woolley at 8 o'clock of a Sun-

NEW LIGHT ON DEATH

Electrical Link Discovered

Science Identifies Vital Force and Traces Dissolution to Loss of Voltage

Normal Growth of Cancer Cells Also Set Forth at Meeting in East

PHILADELPHIA, April 19. (AP)—Two recent discoveries, one that death may be due to loss of minute quantities of electricity from the body, and the other that cancer cells grow no more rapidly than normal cells, were explained to the American Philosophical Society here today.

The electrical experiments were reported by Dr. George W. Crile, director of the Cleveland Clinic and the Cleveland Clinic Hospital. The cancer findings were from Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute, New York.

Dr. Crile described the vital force which is life as "an electric strain or potential." Certain forms of life he was able to measure in terms of voltage. He took fruit juice and, by restoring its lost potential, was able to cause in it some of the manifestations of the life of the original fruit.

Thirty-five years ago, Dr. Crile said, he first began to search for the "essential feature in living organisms, which is lost upon death."

SUMMARY OF RESEARCH

"I propose now to offer new experimental evidence which identifies a form of energy that is lost in death. These researches may be summarized as follows:

"In animals, plants and fruits a potential exists during life and disappears at death."

In a living apple Dr. Crile found a potentiality of fifty millivolts and that the fruit had "a steady respiration, consuming from three to four cubic centimeters of oxygen every hour." The apples responded in potential and respiration to anesthetics, adrenalin, temperature changes and exclusion of oxygen "just as they have acted on the rabbit and the dog."

Experimenting with apple juice alone he found that potential could be induced and, while it existed, there was respiration like that of the living apple.

LIFE DEFINED

"Life," he said, "may be defined as a potential which is maintained and is varied adaptively according to environmental conditions; that potential being maintained by chemical activity—mainly by oxidation.

"In the higher multicellular organisms life is an adaptive difference in potential between the brain and the other organs and tissues, especially the liver."

On cancer Dr. Carrel said:

"With the help of new techniques developed during the past years in my laboratories it has become pos-

FOUR-TOED SHEIKS ON WAY

We'll All Be Handsome, Have Tiny Tummies and Lots of Brains—in a Few Thousand Years

PHILADELPHIA, April 19. (AP)—Peering a few thousand years into the future, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, anthropologist, in an address tonight before the American Philosophical Society predicted that man will live longer and grow handsomer.

He based his forecast on an exhaustive study of man's past and present.

WHAT HE EXPECTS

"Man will have a longer life, and an easier one. He will be taller. Increased size will not, however, tend toward what we would call giantism today," Dr. Hrdlicka said.

"The face will be handsomer. It is slowly proceeding toward refinement and character. Eyes will be deeper set, the nose prominent and narrow, the mouth smaller, and the chin prominent.

"Teeth will be smaller and diminished in number as food is refined. There will be a weakening of the hair on the head, but not of the beard.

"Heads will be slightly broader and larger and there will be a greater brain capacity. The skull will grow thinner, as will the facial bones. The face will be more lively and expressive."

ONE TOE MAY VANISH

Dr. Hrdlicka said that hands and feet will be more refined, the fingers and toes longer, and he sees a possible gradual disappearance of the fifth toe. Internally there will be diminished size of the digestive organs and intestines.

There is no promise of eventual equality of races and the gulf between the front and the back ranks probably will increase rather than decrease, the speaker predicted, and he added:

"There always will be masters and servants.

"Man has developed, in all probability, gradually from the nearest subhuman forms and under the exciting influences of environment. He is truly a product of nature.

BRAIN EVOLUTION

"His future evolution will be mainly in the intellectual direction. There is no perceptible limit to the future possibilities, especially in mentality."

The greatest danger to continued advance of the human race, in Dr. Hrdlicka's opinion, lies in the birth-rate in families of the most intellectual type.

"The cause is not understood but unless some adaptation or compromise becomes manifest, it will mean that the talents and geniuses must keep on rising from the lower strata. Already the birth rate of 'the torch-bearers' is unsatisfactory," he said.

BOMBS RAIN ON REBELS

Federals Aiding Almazan

Attacks on Nogales Made to Keep Troops Away from Path of March

Yaqui Indian Soldiers Key to Anticipated Battle in Pulpito Pass

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

NACO (Ariz.) April 19.—Gen. Manso and Gen. Bernal, who were rebels until a week ago, slipped into Naco tonight and went into retirement and seclusion at the Naco Hotel.

With Fernando Chacon, the Mexican Consul, they are planning a renewal of a propaganda campaign. Circulars signed by Manso and Bernal were dropped today on both Nogales and into the cavalry camp of Gen. Yucupicio. They inform the rebels that they are being deceived and misled.

BOMBS ON NOGALES

Between bulletins, they dropped fifteen bombs upon Nogales. The reason for concentrating so much sudden attention upon Nogales is obvious. It is the hope of Federals to make Nogales so hot that the rebels cannot detach troops to impede the march of Gen. Almazan through Pulpito Pass. To this end Gen. Rodriguez has renewed his threatening march along the border. He attacked and recaptured the town of Mesquite inflicting a loss of twenty rebels killed.

DRAMATIC MOVE

The march of Almazan through the Pulpito is the most dramatic and one of the most important movements undertaken by the Federal army. If he comes through successfully the rebels will find themselves squeezed between Calles marching north from Navojoa, and Almazan, marching across the State of Sonora.

The rebels are making more earnest preparations to head off Almazan than they have shown in any other campaign in the war. Troops are already on the way back from Nogales and it is to prevent still more being shipped that Nogales is now being bombed.

YAQUIS IMPORTANT

Much depends upon Urisalejo's Yaquis. If they remain loyal to the rebels Almazan will have a terrible time getting through the pass. They are the finest mountain fighters in the world.

There are many signs, however, that the rebels suspect the Indians of getting ready to stamp out to the hills and let them who started the revolution finish it.

SCOUT COMMENTS

"Desah-o-Hay," an Apache scout at Fort Huachuca, eagerly discussed with me the conduct of the Yaquis in this war, and what can be expected of them in the fight to stop Almazan.

"The Yaqui," he said, "is all mixed up in his ancestry, he is part Apache, part negro and part Mexican.

"His Apache blood makes him a fine and courageous fighter. He knows woodcraft and the forces of nature. He knows to a certain sense the proper balance between the purely physical and spiritual. He knows a little of the laws of mind over matter which made the Apache a fine warrior. He knows that other forces in addition to the purely physical must be used in war as in all other activities of life.

"His other blood, however, makes him an unstable character. He rushes into fights through passion which a true Apache never does. He rushed into this war on impulse. Now his interest has languished. They never can get anything out of a Yaqui unless his heart is in the work, and his heart is not in this war. You will see. He will not, as you Americans say, 'deliver the goods.'"

RODRIGUEZ WHIPS GARRISON OF REBELS

MEXICALI, April 19. (Exclusive) Gen. Abelardo Rodriguez's long-expected drive from the west on the Sonora rebel forces was launched when an advance detachment of 150 men from the military base at San Luis attacked and captured Sasabe, an outpost forty miles west of Nogales, at 7 o'clock this morning.

According to reports received at military headquarters in Mexicali the 300 revolutionary soldiers who occupied the post were routed after an hour of brisk fighting during which eight rebels were killed, ten wounded and twenty-six captured. Twenty-two fled across the border into Arizona for refuge. The Federals lost two killed and five were wounded. Captured equipment included twenty-six horses, twenty-seven rifles, 3000 rounds of ammunition and one truck.

Simultaneously with the advance of his infantry troops Gov. Rodrigues announced through Col. A. R. Pareyon, chief of staff, that daily aerial attacks are to be launched against Gov. Topete's troops from three airdromes.

BOMBS FOR REBELS

Bombing squadrons now have been organized at Naco and San Luis in Sonora, according to Col. Pareyon and bombing pilots have been instructed to "attack rebels troops wherever they are found." Two of the planes are equipped with machine guns, which will be used for strafing operation against ground forces.

Gen. Rodriguez's army has been engaged for the last four weeks in constructing a road parallel to the American boundary from San Luis east toward Nogales, a distance of 220 miles. Capture of Sasabe this morning indicates that the construction job is now practically completed and the way has been opened for Rodriguez's troops to advance directly on Nogales. Gen. Rodriguez now has under his command three infantry battalions, the Fifth, Twenty-seventh and Thirty-eighth and the Sixty-fourth Regiment of cavalry, all stationed at Naco.

NOGALES GOAL

The San Luis army includes the Twenty-first and Twenty-eighth battalions and two volunteer units. His total force at San Luis numbers 2000 men.

That the Federal government is expecting to regain possession of Nogales within the next few days, was indicated last night when forty-two customs line riders formerly stationed at Nogales, Son., left here in special cars for American Nogales. These customs officers crossed the line into the United States on March 3, last, when Nogales was seized by the rebels and later were transferred to Mexicali for temporary duty. They were granted special immigration visas by the United States immigration office here which will enable them to remain on the American side of the line until the Federal army recaptures Nogales.

PALL CAST OVER EXPERTS' MEET

Lord Revelstoke Dies Under Strain of Sessions

Plenary Session Monday May Mark Break-up

might be salvaged out of the work of the conference rested tonight upon talks which the Germans are reported to have had this afternoon with other experts concerning the possibility of reopening negotiations.

The American delegates to the committee are unable to say anything as to the future, other than that the plenary session Monday alone can show whether there is a chance to save the negotiations from failure.

FAILURE ESTABLISHED

For most people connected with the committee and for those following its work, failure of the conference already has been established.

It remains, however, for the plenary session to establish officially the fact that the committee cannot proceed further with its efforts to reconcile the divergent theses of the German and the Allied delegations.

Until the full committee meets at 11 o'clock Monday morning no further activities of the experts are anticipated.

The plenary session this morning adjourned at once out of respect for Lord Revelstoke, who was found dead in his bed.

The only development today was the contention by the German delegation that Dr. Schacht's proposals contained nothing of a character that should have broken up the conference.

NO NEW PLAN

The Germans brought forward no new proposal, however, and so far as it could be learned, they showed no inclination to withdraw the conditions which their chief had posed for any increase of his offer of thirty-seven annuities averaging 1,650,000,000 marks. (Approximately $396,000,000.)

It was said in German circles that their figures are susceptible of a certain increase, but no indication was given that they will increase their offer without maintaining the political considerations which Dr. Schacht declared are absolutely imperative if Germany pays any more than he offered.

Until those conditions have been withdrawn, it is made plain in Allied circles that there is absolutely no chance of reopening negotiations.

Among persons close to the French delegation, there is an inclination to regard activities of the Germans today as tending to nothing more than shifting the responsibility for the breakdown of the conference.

MEMORANDUM NOT ISSUED

The German delegation refused to give out its memorandum here, but Berlin dispatches quoting the German press cite Dr. Schacht's references to Upper Silesia and former German colonies.

Neither the Americans nor the other Allied experts would reveal the contents of Dr. Schacht's memorandum. All they were willing to say was that if anyone wants to know to just what extent political considerations were thrown into the debate they have only to consult the memorandum.

They added that the Germans have only to publish it as it was read before the committee to establish the truth. Dr. Schacht is said to have supplemented his memorandum with remarks in the course of which he referred to political questions in such a way as to provoke a remark from one of the Allied delegates that "you want to revise the treaty of Versailles."

SCHACHT FIRST TO RISE

When the death of Lord Revelstoke was announced in the conference room at the Hotel George V this morning, Dr. Schacht, German spokesman, with whom he pleaded in vain yesterday, was the first to rise. He expressed his sorrow and the sympathy of the German delegates.

John Baring Revelstoke, or Lord Revelstoke, the second Baron of that name, was one of Britain's most distinguished bankers, a director in the firm of Baring Brothers & Co., Ltd.

In the sixty-five years of his life he held such posts as Receiver-General of the Duchy of Cornwall, Member of the Council of the Prince of Wales, lieutenant of the city of London, and director of the Bank of England. His decorations included commander of the Legion D'Honneur and Order of the White Eagle (Russia.)

LEADERSHIP SHARED

He shared with Sir Josiah Stamp leadership of the British delegation to the reparations conference, and during the sessions of the experts' committee headed a subcommittee which undertook such important work as elimination of the transfer clause from the reparations arrangements, commercialization of the German reparations debt, and constitution of an international bank to handle the reparations payments.

He was believed to have held at the end some hope the reparations conference might still emerge with some sort of a settlement, this belief being based on comments to his brother when he arrived at the apartment he maintained at Faubourg Saint Honore. He complained of being tired and then said:

"I don't suppose that this thing has gone beyond repair. It may be patched up yet."

CONDOLENCES EXPRESSED

Expressions of condolence poured into Lord Revelstoke's home. Someone said he might have accomplished in death what he failed to do as a living man yesterday. He said the Englishman's death will cause the reparations experts to stop and think and perhaps avert the impending failure of the conference.

RESERVE SECRETS GUARDED

Advisory Council Session With Federal Board Still Veiled in Mystery

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—Whatever action may have been taken today at an unannounced joint session of the Federal Advisory Council and the Federal Reserve Board remained a secret at its conclusion.

As the Advisory Council left the board room, members said a resolution had been adopted and will be given out. Nothing was forthcoming, however, and Walter Lichtenstein, secretary of the council, said he knows nothing of it.

The council, which is comprised of one member from each of the Federal reserve districts, has the power to call meetings at any time but heretofore it has held quarterly meetings and usually adopted resolutions approving the action of the Federal Reserve Board. It has authority only to make recommendations to the board.

The council was said at the Federal Reserve Board to have called the meeting of its own volition, and after holding a session at a hotel to have invited the board to meet with it. This meeting continued for two hours.

The Federal Reserve Board held an hour's session late in the afternoon but no announcement was forthcoming when it adjourned.

sible to define tissue cells not only by their shape and structure, as was done previously, but also by their functions."

Thus, he explained, cells are identified by their mode of locomotion, their architecture, rate of growth, residual energy, secretions, conditions of medium in which they live, and substances they require for nutrition.

ERRONEOUS CONCEPTION

"These techniques," he said, "have been applied lately in New York and also in Europe to the study of cancer.

"The classical conception of the malignant cells has collapsed almost completely. Thus, these cells are not anarchical. They grow no more rapidly than normal cells, they have no more growth energy, and they are not necessarily diseased. They do not possess any specific morphological characteristics, but they differ from the normal by certain properties.

"A striking fact is that they obtain the nitrogen necessary for multiplication from proteins or from protein split products which normal cells of the same type are unable to utilize. Such a property explains their unlimited proliferation within the body, because the substances compelling their multiplication are located within their reach in the tissues."

MELLON'S RIGHT TO JOB BACKED

Surprise Ruling of Mitchell Given to Senators

Decision Deferred Again as Result of Action

Secretary Sends Letter on His Stock Holdings

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—A decision on the right of Secretary Mellon to hold office was deferred again today by the Senate Judiciary Committee, after it had received an opinion written by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell for President Hoover upholding Mellon. The propriety of his serving has been questioned on the basis of an old statute forbidding the Secretary of the Treasury to be interested in trade or commerce.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, an intimate friend of Mr. Mellon laid the Attorney-General's opinion before the committee along with a letter from the Secretary stating that his sole business connections are those of a stockholder.

ONLY ONE QUESTION

The committee adjourned without fixing a time to discuss whether to proceed on the inquiry into Mellon's service, which was ordered by the Senate in adopting the resolution of Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee. Chairman Norris said there is no intention of calling Mr. Mellon, in view of his letter.

Senator Norris said the question has narrowed to the proposition of whether a stockholder in business enterprises can serve as Secretary of the Treasury under the old statute now in effect. Senator Reed replied that if a stockholder cannot be Secretary of the Treasury, every secretary for the last 100 years has served in violation of the law and it will be difficult to fill the post hereafter.

SURPRISE RULING

The opinion of Mr. Mitchell came somewhat as a surprise. There had been no intimation that the President had asked for ruling.

The letter of Secretary Mellon, which was addressed to Senator Reed, explained that he resigned all directorships and other executive positions in the business world before entering the Cabinet eight years ago. It detailed his business interests, noting that before becoming Treasury Secretary he owned "a substantial amount of stock" in the Gulf Oil Corporation, the Aluminum Company of America and the Standard Steel Car Company among other business corporations, and that he still owns it. Mr. Mellon added, however, that in all instances his holdings are "much less than a majority of the voting stock of such companies."

FIGHT STARTED ON HURLEY BILL

cost would be so great that the taxpayers could not agree to the improvements."

"Labor costs would be increased by at least 50 per cent, and the speed of jobs cut down by 25 per cent, if the act prohibiting the employment of alien labor becomes a law," said S. M. Griffith, president of the Griffith Company, paving contractors.

"I cannot believe that persons behind this bill can know the labor conditions in Southern California," declared Mr. Griffith. "If passed, the bill will make it almost out of the question to attempt certain classes of public jobs.

"Almost all of the contractors, including my firm, attempt to employ as many citizens as possible, but for some kinds of work we can only hire Mexicans. Americans will not accept the work. If we are prohibited by law from employing these Mexicans, then we might just as well refuse some of the public work because the taxpayers would never stand for the additional cost.

"It should be remembered that while Americans will accept some kinds of work the unskilled labor does not attract them, and huge pay must be offered before they will accept employment and even then sufficient men could not be obtained."

"CANNOT GET AMERICANS"

H. A. Van Norman, general manager of the Department of Water and Power, said:

"It has always been the desire of the Department of Water and Power to employ only American citizens in its labor crews. However, we frequently find it impossible to get American citizens to do pick-and-shovel work. The work must be done.

"It is not a question of wages. The department pays good wages for this work. However, if there are not sufficient American citizens available, the adoption of a law by the Legislature will not help that situation one whit. The problem appears to be one of immigration and naturalization and, in my judgment, should be approached from these angles rather than from the one employed in the alien-labor bill pending in the Legislature."

New Assistant Native of California

Has Been Abroad for Trade Promotion

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—Appointment of Dr. Julius Klein, now director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, to be Assistant Secretary of Commerce, was announced today by President Hoover.

The action followed almost immediately upon the return of Dr. Klein from a tour of Europe, where he inspected some of the more important American trade promotion offices. He succeeds Walter F. Brown, now Postmaster-General, who left the Commerce Department post to enter the Cabinet.

Dr. Klein, a native of California, began service in the Commerce Department in 1917, but resigned later to take a chair at Harvard University. He was recalled into government service by President Hoover on his becoming Secretary of Commerce in 1921.

Since that time, Dr. Klein has directed the principal bureau of the Commerce Department engaged in foreign trades promotion. He was considered one of the most active and intimate associates of the President during his Cabinet tenure.

HOOVER MAKES PLEA FOR UNITY

out of politics and on the way to solution under economic guidance we have need of unity in the ranks of the farmers themselves and the different groups which reflect their views in Congress. No great step in public action can ever succeed without some compromise of view and some sacrifice of opinion."

Before the President's statement was issued Representative Jones, Democrat, Texas, gave notice in the House that he intends to offer the debenture proposal as incorporated in the Senate bill as an amendment to the House measure. This proposition had been voted down in the House Agriculture Committee, 17 to 4, and even Jones himself has doubts that his amendment could be brought to a vote under House rules.

LACK OF ENCOUNTERS

During the second day of the general debate on the House measure which, in the main, has the approval of President Hoover, there was a noticeable lack of the verbal encounters which marked discussion of the McNary-Haugen equalization fee bill in past sessions.

Only a few references were made to the equalization fee and many of those who had been its supporters in years gone by advocated the new measure. Some of them mentioned the fee as a thing buried in the ballot boxes at the last Presidential election.

Jones was joined in his opposition to the measure in its present form by Representative Nelson of Missouri, another Democratic member of the Agriculture Committee, whose vote also had been cast against the bill in committee. The Republican speakers were unanimous in indorsing the legislation.

The Texan's contention that the debenture plan is sound was met by the declaration of a Democratic colleague on the committee, Representative Aswell of Louisiana, that it would affect only the 18 per cent of agricultural products in which an exportable surplus is produced.

"And," said Aswell, "we would have 82 per cent of the farmers of the country paying tribute to the cotton and wheat growers who produce the exportable surplus."

THOMPSON TAKES ISSUE ON LACK OF UNANIMITY

CHICAGO, April 19. (AP)—Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, tonight said he is unable to understand President Hoover's implication that there is lack of unanimity in the ranks of farm organizations as to the form of farm relief desired.

After reading press dispatches quoting the President as stating some of the organizations are divided on the question, Mr. Thompson issued the following statement:

THOMPSON STATEMENT

"On April 6 a letter bearing the signatures of the chief executive officer of each of the three leading farm organizations was presented to each member of the agricultural committees of the House and Senate. This letter conveyed to the Congressmen the joint conclusions of the trio as spokesmen for their organizations in regard to the task confronting Congress.

"The statement outlined four requisites which these three organizations feel must be met by any legislation to permit it to qualify properly as farm relief.

"The signatures to that document were those of L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange; C. E. Hugg, president of the Farmers' Union, and myself, as president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

FAULT IN CONGRESS

"This joint memorandum was agreed to after a week of constant, harmonious conference and was inspired by the feeling that the time is here when farmers should, more than ever before, work together.

"So far the legislation before Congress represents proposals made by Congress itself. It does not represent legislation offered by the farm organizations and these farm organizations are not responsible for it. So far as the American Farm Bureau Federation is concerned, this organization has publicly expressed a desire to support the President in any sincere effort to devise a rational, effective farm-relief program.

"Any lack of harmony in Congress is to be deplored, but we feel that this is a matter for Congress to be concerned about."

BAY CITY HAS NEW GAS WAR OUTBREAK

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19. (Exclusive)—A spotted outbreak of the dormant gasoline-price war occurred here today when approximately half of the members of the Retail Service Station Dealers' Association cut their retail price 3 cents a gallon to meet neighborhood competition. The result is a prevailing retail price of 17 cents. Garages which previously had maintained a policy of undercutting the service stations by 1 cent, dropped only enough to meet the new price.

AIR UNIVERSITY IDEA ADVANCED

Bureau of Education Plan to Lend Assistance

Radio Commission Also Will Aid Broadcasters

Conference Will Be Held to Work Out Program

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—The Bureau of Education and the Radio Commission are planning to meet radio broadcasters with a view to the establishment of a "university of the air."

Dr. William John Cooper, commissioner of education, who conferred with heads of the National Broadcasting Company, the Columbia chain system and their invitations relative to the possibility of a uniform educational program, has suggested to Secretary Wilbur that a conference of broadcasters and representatives of the Radio Commission and the Bureau of Education be called to consider the plan.

Secretary Wilbur, Dr. Cooper, Chairman Robinson of the Radio Commission, Judge Sykes, commissioner, and others have accepted invitations for a conference as other activities permit.

The broadcasters have told the Education Bureau that they welcome its co-operation in working out of a real educational program for the radio, to supplement as far as possible with educational features the entertainment now used in the schools. With the exception of the Columbia system, which has declined to participate, the broadcasters have agreed to lend their full support to the efforts of the educators.

No DANDRUFF
—how to avoid it

Children usually come home from school with a case of dandruff that may lead to baldness. They get it from contact with others; promiscuous use of combs, brushes and wash basins. For dandruff, being a germ condition, is highly infectious.

Examine scalps often, and at the first sign of dandruff, douse on Listerine full strength, which is powerful against germs.

Keep it up systematically for several days. To your delight, you will often find that your hair dandruff-suppressed and that little scales, crust and loosie.

While smelling and taste enough Listerine is used in a single application to kill even the Staphylococcus aureus and Bacillus typhosus (typhoid) germs—200,000,000 of them in fact—this powerful antiseptic is entirely safe to use full strength in any mouth cavity. This germ-killing power is the reason it is such a wonderful deodorant and why it overcomes bad breath instantly.

HOW ABOUT YOU? Have you tried Listerine Tooth Paste yet? Good as its name—and 25¢ the large tube.

AIR UNIVERSITY IDEA ADVANCES

Bureau of Education Plans to Lend Assistance

Radio Commission Also Will Aid Broadcasters

Conference Will Be Held to Work Out Program

WASHINGTON, April 19. (Ex-The Bureau of Education and the Radio Commission are planning to meet radio broadcasters halfway in the establishment of a "university of the air."

Dr. William John Cooper, Commissioner of Education, who recently conferred with heads of the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia chain executives at their invitation relative to the possibility of a uniform educational program, has suggested to Secretary Wilbur that a conference of broadcasters and representatives of the Radio Commission and the Bureau of Education be called to consider the plan.

Secretary Wilbur, Dr. Cooper, Chairman Robinson of the Radio Commission, have discussed the proposal informally and expect to send invitations for a conference as soon as other activities permit.

The broadcasters have indicated the Education Bureau that they welcome its co-operation in working out of a real course of study for the radio, to synchronize as far as possible with standard courses used in the schools. While they have no idea of establishing a system that could take the place of the public and private schools they do feel that a well-worked-out plan would assist in the radio materially in supplementing the efforts of the nation's teachers.

BLOOMERS MUST BLOOM IN SHOW

Principal Shocked by Chorus Kicking in School Musical Comedy

OCEAN GROVE (N. J.) April 19. (Exclusive)—In this tight little town, where one can be jailed for operating an automobile on Sunday, a battle of the bloomers is raging, with the righteous members of the school board stoutly opposing the girls of the cast of "Kathleen," this year's Neptune High School musical comedy.

It all started today when Principal Harry A. Pitcomb sat in the darkened school auditorium to witness the dancing rehearsal of the chorus coached by Miss Hazel Henderson, a teacher. At the first kick he stared, at the second he gasped, and at the third Principal Pitcomb gulped, blushed and shouted "stop." He decreed that the entire chorus must wear bloomers or the show cannot go on. The school board upheld him when the girls protested.

PATRIOTIC FLYER DIES FOR HONOR

Mexican Aviator Killed for Resenting Insult to Nation's Head and Morrow

MEXICO CITY, April 19.—(AP)—A Mexican army aviator has lost his life in prevention of an insult to his country's President, Emilio Portes Gil, and to United States Ambassador Morrow. By a peculiar twist of irony the insult which he sought to avert materialized anyway just as his life ebbed.

Wednesday night Lieut. Joaquin Garcia Bolanos saw a group of men pasting some posters to walls on the outskirts of Mexico City. He stopped to read one and saw on it the statement that President Portes Gil and Ambassador Morrow were conniving "to destroy Mexico," a subsequent sentence describing Mr. Morrow as the enemy of this country.

Lieut. Bolanos remonstrated with the men and attempted to take the posters from them. One drew his pistol and shot the young aviator, inflicting wounds from which he died early today. The entire group escaped.

Police, at about the time he was dying, discovered walls about the city had been covered with hundreds of the posters and immediately set about removing them.

Ambassador Morrow said nothing of the affair at his usual week-day press conference Thursday evening and it was not until late last night that the reference to him and to President Portes Gil was revealed by the police.

Injured Actor Wins His Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19. (AP)—The District Court of Appeals today ruled that Frederick Peters, actor for the Christy Studios in Los Angeles, was entitled to $25,000 from Kenneth Daum, truck driver, as a result of an accident that occurred during the making of a picture.

Peters, the opinion said, was run over by a tractor driven by Daum. The actor sued Daum and the United Studios, which owned the tractor, and was awarded $25,000 by the Los Angeles Superior Court.

The Court of Appeals reversed the decision against United Studios, which had loaned the Christy Studio the tractor, but upheld the decision against Daum.

General Assembly Discloses Coming St. Paul Report

Delay Urged for Action on Methodist Merger

PHILADELPHIA, April 19. (AP)—Steps taken and recommendations in relation to proposed union of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America with various denominations are outlined in a report made public today and to be presented to the Presbyterian General Assembly at St. Paul next month by the Department of Church Co-operation and Union.

Some of the phases touched on in the report are definite steps toward speedy organic union with the reformed church in America and with the United Presbyterian church; closer co-operation with the Presbyterian church in the United States (Southern;) progress toward union with other Presbyterian and reformed bodies, and deferred action concerning union with the Methodist Episcopal church until after Presbyterian and reformed bodies are united.

ASKS FOR EXPRESSIONS

The report will be presented to the General Assembly by Rev. J. Ross Stevenson of Princeton, N. J., chairman of the Department of Church Co-operation and Union.

"We are convinced," the report states, "that steps should be taken looking to the union of the reformed church in America and the Presbyterian church in the United States of America."

The report recommends that the general assembly express its desire to the meeting of the Reformed Synod at Holland, Mich., June 6-12, to enter into negotiations concerning closer co-operation, and, if possible, organic union, and that Dr. Robert E. Spear, Englewood, N. J., be appointed special delegate to the Reformed Church meeting.

APPEAL TO OTHERS

With regard to the United Presbyterian Church, the report recommends that the general assembly request the assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, which meets at Pittsburgh May 29 to June 4, appoint a committee with which the department may confer, with a view to closer co-operation and, if possible, organic union, and that Rev. Dr. Henry Chapman Swearingen, St. Paul, Minn., be appointed a fraternal delegate to convey to the United Presbyterians the general assembly's action.

As to the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern,) the report says a joint official conference resulted in the unanimous adoption of a paper to be presented to both general assemblies, recommending that the two general assemblies call the attention of all synods and presbyteries to the comity rules and agreements already entered into and enjoin them to act in the strictest accordance. The Southern Presbyterian general assembly is to meet at Montreat, N. C., May 16-23.

"We further recommend," says the report, "that the department be authorized to take up negotiations looking to union with any other of the Presbyterian and Reformed bodies in the United States which may be willing to enter into such negotiations."

'TIGER' HITS AT WAR TILT ON PERSHING

Ex-Premier Says General His Friend and Refuses to "Debate at Coffin"

PARIS, April 19. (AP)—Georges Clemenceau, war-time Premier of France, declared to the Associated Press today that "Gen. Pershing and I are friends," and that he did not wish to be forced into a "debate before a coffin" in connection with an interview between himself and the late Marshal Foch printed yesterday by a French writer. In this article the French journalist, Raymond Recouly, quoted Foch to the effect that the "Tiger" had attempted to persuade Marshal Foch to remove, or have removed, Gen. Pershing from his command of the American Army, toward the end of the war.

"Pershing and I had the same aim, which was to employ the American Army to the best advantage," M. Clemenceau said today, "but every time I met him, I pressed upon him the urgent need of getting more American troops into action.

"He as military commander refused to do so until they were ready. We always had that discussion and we had in this respect different views, but we never quarreled, and we were and we are friends.

"When I went to America the last time he accompanied me to the Metropolitan Operahouse. Later, when I went to Chicago, he was in Indianapolis, but joined me and Gen. Dawes and we three went to Chicago together."

Naval Reserve Cruises Listed

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—Approximately 9000 members of the naval reserve throughout the country will participate in cruises on destroyers and navy training ships during the summer for training in battle maneuvers, gunnery exercises and ship routine, the Navy Department announced today.

The cruises will be of two weeks' duration each. Reservists from the Eleventh Naval District, San Diego, Cal., and the Thirteenth District, Puget Sound, Wash., will cruise on battle fleet destroyers and reserve members from the Twelfth District, San Francisco, will be trained on destroyer Haselwood, which will join the battle fleet destroyers. From the Fourteenth District, Hawaiian Islands, reservists will make their cruises on the mine-layer Ludlow.

'EATING TOBACCO' WINS FAVOR OF LEGISLATORS

SACRAMENTO, April 19. (Exclusive)—The Legislature today was asked to pass a tobacco and cigarette tax. In a bill introduced by Senator Jones of Marysville and Senator Hurley of Oakland it is proposed that an act be passed to "impose a special privilege tax and to regulate sales and distribution by gift or sale in this State, of cigars, cigarettes and smoking tobacco sold or distributed by any firm, corporation or association in the State."

Under the bill as proposed by the Senators a tax of $2 a thousand is to be established on the sale of cigarettes and a tax of 5 per cent of the retail price on cigars and smoking tobacco. Chewing tobacco is to be exempt from the provisions of the bill.

Defense Fusion Appeal Renewed

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—A renewed effort to establish a department of national defense to have supervision over army and navy and aviation activities, was made in the House today by Representative Curry, Republican, California, who reintroduced a measure to provide such authority. A similar bill has been before previous Congresses but was never acted upon.

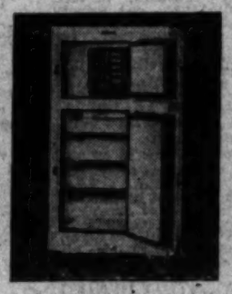
ONE might think the Electrolux costs more to buy than other refrigerators. Noiseless, free from moving parts, vibration and trouble—it certainly is thrillingly different.

But despite these wonderful advantages, the gas refrigerator costs no more to buy than other types. And its operating cost averages far less.

There's a simple reason for this saving. The Electrolux operates on gas and water, and gas and water are relatively cheap. Not only that but Electrolux uses only a small quantity of each. The gas flame is little bigger than a pilot light; the water flow a mere trickle.

There is no moving mechanism. Just a tiny gas flame, a trickle of water, and an ordinary freezing liquid. The flame expands the liquid to vapor. The watercondensesitbackagain. And there you have the whole story, for in this cycle of physical change, intense, even cold is produced.



The Chef Model Electrolux—food capacity 7 cubic feet—makes 50 large ice cubes.

Discovered by scientists at the Royal University of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden, in 1922, the unique principle of the Electrolux has had seven years of thorough practical trial. Today this refrigerator is sold by hundreds of leading public utilities in this country. But before adopting Electrolux, their engineers put it to every conceivable sort of test. And in each case the final report was enthusiastically favorable.

There is not a thing in the Electrolux to renew or replace, ever, unless it be the inexpensive little gas burner, after years of use. The refrigerating liquid is permanently and hermetically sealed within the system. There is not the slightest sound or vibration to this refrigerator. No mechanism to wear, to need oil, to get out of adjustment.

The flame burns continuously. Once you light it the chilling action starts and goes on endlessly without further attention from you.

Should the gas flame ever go out for any reason, no harm is done. The chilling action stops, that is all. The gas automatically shuts off and cannot come back on until you are ready to light it.

Today this marvel is used in tens of thousands of homes. It is being adopted for the finest, newest types of apartment houses everywhere. It is fast revolutionizing the industry.

HARDY DEFENSE STORIES CLASH

Bardin and Woolley Offer Different Versions

Latter Denies That He Knew Mrs. Sielaff in Utah

day morning, when Mrs. Sielaff arrived, but after a while he remembered a call from Angelus Temple some days before which warned him as well as anonymous calls the night before which occasioned his appearance at his office.

He said all the way through he was suspicous of the whole transaction and took minute descriptions of the women, specimins of their handwriting and would have clipped off a lock of hair, had he been able to find his office shears.

QUESTIONS ASKED

Senators sent up a number of questions to be propounded by Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan which showed their interest in how he happened to have Woolley in his office and how he managed to get a notary and a private detective to trail the women on a quiet Sunday morning.

As to the mysterious Martin, Judge Bardin said he never heard of him, but was visited by a brother of Woolley who was passing through Salinas. Mr. Woolley, on cross-examination, said his brother Kenneth was in San Francisco at the time the Carmel episode was published in the newspapers and he telephoned him to go to Monterey county and look after Mrs. McPherson's interest by hiring a reputable attorney.

On direct examination by Defense Counsel Nimmo, Mr. Woolley denied flatly ever having known Mrs. Sielaff in Utah, or before the Salinas meeting, or having a cousin, Jack Woolley. He bluntly denied Mrs. Sielaff's story that he sent her to San Francisco to see Martin, or paid her expenses there.

Mr. Little had a number of transcripts of previous testimony by Mr. Woolley and was questioning him closely as to statements made to Keyes when Mr. Carnahan called a halt.

DETAILS GIVEN

Bardin went into detail: of the "Miss X" affidavits after a flood of questions had been propounded by many Senators. Bardin stated that he admonished and questioned both Mrs. Sielaff and the woman whom she identified as her sister, Mrs. Viria Kimball, as to necessity for truthfulness in the affidavits and the consequences for making false statements. He declared that Roland Rich Woolley, another of the McPherson attorneys, was present when the affidavits were signed in his Salinas office. Mrs. Sielaff on the witness stand, stated that Woolley framed the affidavit and that Judge Hardy knew of the hoax.

According to Bardin, Mrs. Sielaff came to his office with a story to the effect that it had been her sister who had been with Ormiston at the Carmel cottage and that she also had been there part of the time. Woolley and Bardin had spent the day before at Carmel making an investigation.

Bardin testified that when Mrs. Sielaff came to his office to make affidavit she first read a rambling statement of what was to go into the document but that he told her it must be a shorter statement and he prepared one for her signature which Woolley later typed in the absence of a stenographer. The day of the visit was a Sunday morning, shortly after 8 o'clock. Bardin denied that he told Mrs. Sielaff he wanted the affidavit short so that it would not "look false on the face of it."

DESCRIPTIONS TAKEN

Bardin also told how Russell Scott, who witnessed the affidavit signatures as a notary, took careful descriptions of both of the women. Bardin also said that he took numerous precautions to preserve the identification of Mrs. Sielaff and "Miss X," whom Mrs. Sielaff identified as a Rachael Wells. While Bardin asserts it was Viria Kimball. Under the intercession of former Senator Carr, for the defense, Bardin stated that after the affidavits were made Woolley and himself made arrangements with Mrs. Sielaff for her to go to former Dist.-Atty. Keyes at Los Angeles and tell her story.

Under the questions asked by the Senators, who sent them in writing to Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, Bardin first stated that it was coincidence that he happened to be at his office early on the Sunday morning in question. Later another question brought out the fact that there had been a telephone call from Mrs. Kennedy at Los Angeles three days before the visit, and the day prior to the affidavit-making a woman had called Bardin several times attempting to see him. Bardin in turn had asked Woolley, who was at Salinas at the time, to be at his office next morning.

It was brought out by Bardin that Woolley did not let him know that the latter knew Mrs. Sielaff and Mr. Bardin introduced the two, after Woolley stepped from Bardin's inner office. Bardin stated that Mrs. Sielaff was mysterious, that he was suspicious of her; that she was evasive. On a question as to whether he had talked with Mrs. Kennedy about Mrs. Sielaff, Bardin was given the protection of the law as to privileged communication between attorney and client after he hesitated to answer the query.

Prior to the taking of the stand by Bardin, the defense called Bert C. Miller and Colfax Bell, two Los Angeles grand jurymen, who testified that they did not hear Robert W. Bryden, another juryman, ever say that Judge Hardy had told him to tell the jury to "lay off the Aimee case." Assemblyman Little, on cross-examination showed that the Assembly witnesses did not place Miller as being in the room at all at the time, while only one witness mentioned Bell's name and then was not positive that he heard the talk.

Attorneys H. L. Giesler and Milton Cohen, two more of the McPherson-Kennedy array of council, testified that Judge Hardy had nothing to do with their employment and that they never consulted with him.

NEW EXPERIENCE

Russell Scott, the notary who took the affidavits, occupied the stand for a few minutes and admitted that the taking of a Miss X affidavit was a situation new in his experience.

The testimony of Keyes, now a prisoner in the Los Angeles County Jail, taken at the legislative committee hearing three months ago in Los Angeles, was read into the record with the understading, however, that he may be called by the managers in rebuttal.

Keyes then testified that Judge Hardy exercised no influence over his actions and justified his position in asking for a dismissal of the felony charges filed against Mrs. McPherson.

When Woolley completed his testimony, he said he had a statement to make in defense of his character, but Mr. Carnahan took a look at the weary Senate, and said every witness has the presumption of good character and doubted that the Senate cared to listen.

The Senate adjourned as a court until next Tuesday when the defense will resume. Monday will be devoted to legislative matters.

AIMEE McPHERSON PAYS "FLYING" VISIT HERE

Aimee Semple McPherson, still the center of interest in the impeachment trial of Superior Court Judge Carles S. Hardy, now under way in Sacramento, dropped down unheralded at Grand Central Air Terminal yesterday in a Maddux Ford plane from Oakland.

After a flying trip to Angelus Temple the evangelist returned to the airport and departed for the north again on the 2:30 p.m. plane.

Mrs. McPherson refused to discuss the impeachment proceedings other than to say that she expects to appear as a defense witness for Judge Hardy and that she will remain in the north until the hearing is completed.

Despite the reports that Mrs. McPherson's unexpected and hasty trip here was to obtain papers that will be used in the jurist's defense, Angelus Temple attaches said her visit was for the purpose of signing papers in connection with remodeling work now under way at the temple.

THIEF DARE NOT END LIFE NOW

Policeman Spoils Robber's Efforts to Provide Self With Coffin

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19. (AP)—A new kind of thief was discovered here today. A San Francisco patrolman early this morning saw a man trudging up the sidewalk with a "big, long box" on his back. The officer shouted; the man dropped the box and ran. The box turned out to be a coffin which had been stolen from a casket company.

FITZGERALD'S
FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MUSIC

THE LOS ANGELES ORATORIO SOCIETY

By David Bingham

At the Shrine Auditorium today, musical history will be made—it will come through the magnificent performance of Bach's B Minor Mass to be sung by the Los Angeles Oratorio Society under the direction of John Smallman. This is a colossal work—seldom attempted because of its tremendous difficulties for Chorus and Conductor. This organization and its Conductor have done a great work in making Los Angeles one of the music centers of the world. Its development in musical art is keeping pace with its commercial progress. The Fitzgerald Music Company is glad of the opportunity it has had to participate in this development. Mr. Smallman uses the Hardman piano exclusively.

TARIFF TINKERS TERMED LEAKY

Democrats Charge Schedule Information Given

Republicans Sole Gainers Added Grievance

Committee Heads Deny Any Rates Settled On

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—The procedure being followed by the Republicans in forming a new tariff bill was attacked and defended on the floor of the House today as party leaders came to grips over a charge that information on proposed rate changes was "leaking" from the Ways and Means Committee.

Incensed at published reports purporting to give tariff increases agreed upon behind the closed doors of the committee room, Representative Garner of Texas, the minority leader and ranking Democrat on the committee, challenged Chairman Hawley to give the House the truth regarding the reports.

TILSON ANSWERS

Hawley was not on the floor at the time but Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the majority leader, declared he was certain that no information had been given out by the Republicans engaged in framing the law and if there had been an unintentional slip that it must have occurred only tentatively, as it was his understanding that nothing definite had been agreed upon.

Garner said it was unfair, assuming the reports were true, that such information should be made public to persons interested in rates and at the same time denied to members of the House and the country at large. He declared the Democrats, who were excluded from the committee room when preparation of the bill began after the close of public hearings, were especially interested in what was going on in the committee.

INSINUATION MADE

"This sort of procedure enables men to make money," the Texan added.

"I am sorry Chairman Hawley is not here to make a clear statement of the situation," Representative Tilson said, "but I would like to say nothing definite has been fixed in the measure."

The Republican leader asserted that any reports of possible action necessarily must concern something which still is under consideration.

Informed of Garner's attack, Hawley later said off the floor that all of the Republicans on the committee had adhered strictly to the agreement to say nothing about the bill until it was completed and introduced. This, he said, would be some time next week.

GARNER'S FIRST TILT

During his brief remarks, which marked his first tilt with the opposition as Democratic leader, Garner also protested against the tariff framers hearing additional testimony of either government officials or private individuals, now that the public hearings are over.

He mentioned particularly the appearance of Secretary Stimson before the committee Wednesday, saying it was the understanding after the public hearings that no more testimony would be taken.

"That policy went along smoothly until a few days ago," he said, "when Stimson appeared before the committee, not as a Federal official, so stated by the Secretary, but as a citizen. What he told the committee we can only surmise."

DEMOCRAT IMPATIENT

Not waiting to see what the tariff bill contained, Representative Mansfield, another Texas Democrat, introduced bills of his own today, seeking increased duties on figs, tomatoes, vegetable oils and rice and the placing of levies on hides, copra and Patna rice, now on the free list.

SMITH OUT OF OLVANY DISCUSSION

Former Governor Says He Will Not Help Pick New Tammany Chieftain

NEW YORK, April 19. (AP)—Former Gov. Smith indicated today that he will take no part in the selection of successor to George W. Olvany as leader of Tammany Hall.

After a committee from Tammany had conferred with him, he told newspaper men he had advised it he believes the executive committee of Tammany "is fully qualified to make the decision among themselves."

The district leaders who called on Mr. Smith were appointed a month ago to confer with the "big four" of the hall—former Gov. Smith, United States Senator Robert F. Wagner, Surrogate James A. Foley and Mayor James J. Walker—about the selection of a successor to Olvany.

None of the leaders would talk after today's conference, but Mr. Smith issued a prepared statement.

"I have been informed by the committee of seven that it is the policy of the executive committee to select for leader one of their own members," the statement said.

"I have advised the committee that, in view of that policy, I am of the opinion that the executive committee is fully qualified to make that decision among themselves."

The former Governor, in issuing the statement, told newspaper men that "I have typewritten what I am going to say to you, and that's all I'm going to say."

COMMITTEE TO DROP INQUIRY ON WINSLOW

NEW YORK, April 19. (AP)—The sub-committee of the Congressional Judiciary Committee which was about to begin hearing on charges of maladministration of justice against Federal Judge Francis A. Winslow, when he resigned from the bench, announced today that no further action in the case will be taken.

G.O.P. PLUMS GET SUNLIGHT

Hoover Gives Publicity to Patronage Moves

Political Double-Crossers Would be Spotted

Policy on Indorsements New at White House

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—President Hoover's decision to make public the names of the more prominent officials and citizens who indorse candidates for appointment to the Federal judiciary was the subject of much comment today in political circles here.

The question of patronage always has been a lively one in the capital and many an office-seeker has wondered who had backed him and who had furthered the efforts of his rivals to gain a place in the service of the government. Mr. Hoover's plan will give an answer to many such queries. It also is expected to preclude in the future any practice of a politician publicly indorsing one man for a post and privately working for another.

However, it is explained at the White House that this is not the primary purpose of the entirely new plan inaugurated by the President in making public the names of those who indorsed the men whose nominations were sent to the Senate for district and Federal judgeships.

The first thought in the mind of the President, it was said, was to let the country know the high-class of indorsements which the nominees received from Federal and State judges, prominent members of the bar as well as from the politicians.

All three of the Republicans nominated for judicial positions in New York State received the indorsement of the patronage triumvirate set by Mr. Hoover in that State.

SENATE COMMITTEE FAVORS TWO NOMINEES

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee ordered favorable reports today on the nominations of Maj.-Gen. Charles McK. Saltzman, retired, to be a member of the Radio Commission for the fourth term, and Oscar B. Colquitt, former Governor of Texas, to be a member of the Railway Board of Mediation.

Both nominations were approved after Saltzman and Colquitt had appeared before the committee and answered questions.

Saltzman is a Republican from Iowa.

Steinhardt disappeared in January before discovery of shortages of $50,000 in his accounts.

The committee vote was unanimous.

NEW CHIEFS ELECTED BY TEMPLARS

San Franciscan Chosen as State Grand Commander; Annual Conclave Ends

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19. (AP) The seventy-first annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of California, Knights Templar, was brought to a close today with election and installation of officers.

Robert B. Gaylord of San Francisco was elected Grand Commander, succeeding Andrew J. Copp, Jr., of Los Angeles.

The other new grand officers selected are: James T. Langford, Stockton, Deputy Grand Commander; Aubrey R. Parks, Long Beach, Generalissimo; Arthur S. Crites, Bakersfield, Grand Captain General; Purcell Rowe, San Francisco, Grand Senior Warden; C. Stanley Chapman, Fullerton, Grand Junior Warden; Charles H. Snyder, San Jose, Grand Prelate; William D. Knights, San Francisco, Grand Treasurer; Thomas A. Davies, San Francisco, Grand Recorder; J. Robert Moulthrop, San Francisco, Grand Standard Bearer; Charles J. Luttrell, Yreka, Grand Sword Bearer; O. E. Morton, Riverside, Grand Warden.

Rogers Divorce Plans Progress

NEW YORK, April 19. (Exclusive) Final arrangements for a Paris divorce will be made shortly by Mrs. Rogers, wife of Col. Henry H. Rogers, Standard Oil multimillionaire of Southampton, L. I. Mrs. Rogers sailed for Europe tonight on the French liner Ile de France.

Rogers is reported now in Paris, where both have established a legal residence, and Mrs. Rogers is returning to Paris when the case goes to court, as under French law both parties must appear when a divorce is granted.

The action, if it goes through, will break up one of the most prominent and influential families, both socially and financially, in the United States. The vast Rogers estates already are in process of being dismantled and sold.

"TRADER HORN" WILL BRING WHISKERS HERE

HONOLULU, April 19. (AP)—Alfred Aloysius Smith, author of "Trader Horn," a book of African adventures, arrived here today from Australia. "Trader Horn," as he is popularly known, said he plans to leave tomorrow for Los Angeles to see a motion picture of his book, and "show them my whiskers." Later he expects to continue his journey to England and Egypt.

LAW VIOLATION DENIED BY SOUTHERN RAILWAY

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—A general denial that its control of the Mobile and Ohio and New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad in any way constitutes violation of antitrust laws was entered before the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Southern Railway system, in reply to a commission complaint that such control constitutes a violation of the Clayton Antitrust Act.

NEXT TIME THEY WILL NOT STIR

Two New Representatives Learn "Arise" May Not Mean "Get Up"

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—The word "arise" does not always mean "to get up on one's feet."

Two newly elected Representatives have learned as much in the House.

They were seated when the motion was put that "the committee do now arise."

It was adopted and the pair arose.

They stood for a moment and then sat down with reddening faces as they saw that the motion was only part of the formula by which the House moves to the adjournment stage.

PORTES GIL BANS SLOT MACHINES

Flourishing Business at Juarez Proscribed in His Fight Against Vice

MEXICO CITY, April 19. (AP)—One of the first moves in President Portes Gil's campaign against vice has been a ban on slot machines, which, appearing within the last few days, have done a flourishing business in Juarez, Chih.

When Gen. Almazan, commanding Federal troops in Chihuahua, learned these machines were in use at Juarez, he wired the President for more authority. His message asserted the "vicious pastime" of dropping "centavos" (half-peso pieces, about 25 cents,) into the machines was made all the worse by the fact that the machines were "jadronas"—not on the square. The President lost no time in authorizing Almazan to order immediate cessation of slot-machine gambling.

It seems, according to the statement from Chapultepec Castle to the press, that gambling houses ran full blast during the rebel occupation of the city. When the Federals recaptured it the gambling houses were closed, whereupon the gamblers imported slot machines from the United States.

Campbell Hits Pretty Fair Clip in Speed Try-out

VERNEUK (Cape of Good Hope) April 19. (AP)—Capt. Malcolm Campbell, British racing driver, who is seeking to break the 231 miles an hour mark set by Maj. H. O'D. Segrave, touched 215 miles an hour in a trial run here today in his car, Blue Bird.

Capt. Campbell experienced difficulty at only one stage when, as a result of a bump, he was literally shot into the air and traveled thirty feet without touching the track.

Michigan Files Dry Law Teeth

LANSING (Mich.) April 19. (AP)—A minimum sentence of one year imprisonment and $2000 fine was prescribed for bootleggers yesterday by the Michigan Legislature. The maximum sentence for a first offense will be four years and the fine. It is said to be the most severe liquor law in the United States.

Gov. Green has indicated he will sign the measure, and the action of the Legislature virtually makes the bill law.

Balloon Shield Turns Lightning

AKRON (O.) April 19. (AP)—Elimination of lightning as a danger to balloonists has been partly accomplished by use of a protective shield, Ward T. Van Orman, the designer, said today. He will use one of the devices in the 1929 National Balloon Races May 4 at Pittsburgh.

Van Orman, who won the National Balloon Races in 1924, '25, '26 and '27, and the international race at Antwerp in 1926, also is experimenting with a device to protect the balloon itself from lightning.

Six Suffocated as They Sleep

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) April 19. (AP)—A woman and five children were suffocated as they slep when a defective kitchen stove set fire to the home of Harvey Purucker on the outskirts of South Bend last night.

The victims were Mrs. Mary Cooley, 73 years of age, grandmother; Aloysius Purucker, 15; John, 13; Edward, 10, and Louis, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Purucker, and Katherine Guard, 12, orphan cousin of the boys.

Drug Hospitals Curbed in Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19. (AP)—The State cannot operate a narcotic hospital anywhere other than on State property, and patients sentenced to such an institution may not be paroled until eight months after sentence, Atty.-Gen. Webb ruled today in an opinion to Earl E. Jensen, State Director of Institutions.

REVIVAL URGED IN SHIPBUILDING

James A. Farrell Declares America Lagging

New Construction Here and Abroad Compared

Government Commended for Sale of Lines

BALTIMORE, April 19. (AP)—A call for attention to revival of the shipbuilding industry of the United States was sounded today by James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, in the final address of the national foreign-trade convention.

Describing the building by the maritime nations of the world in the last eight years of some 1350 ocean-going vessels, aggregating 9,200,000 gross tons, while American yards produced about forty vessels, aggregating 400,000 tons, Mr. Farrell said:

PARITY ADVOCATED

"In another ten years at the present rate of building, considering the useful life of a ship is twenty years, some Macaulay then will be predicting that an American will be standing on the bridge of a lonesome ship, scanning the horizon in vain for a craft bearing the flag of his country."

Urging that cargo ships be put on a parity with foreign vessels in costs as an aid to shipbuilding, Mr. Farrell declared that while the Jones-White Act was helpful to passenger and mail vessels it did not give the same aid to strictly cargo vessels which make up the bulk of American tonnage.

SALE COMMENDED

The speaker commended the Shipping Board for turning over to private owners several government services and the fleets used on those routes.

John A. Hambleton, vice-president of the Pan-American Airways, who accompanied Col. Lindbergh when he blazed the air-mail trail between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone, told of the development of air transportation to the West Indies.

Fire Death Toll of Race Horses Set at Fifteen

HAVRE DE GRACE (Md.) April 19. (AP)—A check today showed that fourteen horses perished in the fire which destroyed two stables at the Havre De Grace race track here last night, and one other racer, Adrienne G., owned by Joseph D. Keith, was killed after it broke a leg during the excitement which accompanied the blaze.

The horses burned to death included Scipio, also owned by Keith; Parchest, Arno and Hilo, owned by H. C. Cox; Inlaid, Goulash and El Campo, owned by William M. Denham; Shasta Klan, owned by C. E. Applegate; Lass O'Gowrie, owned by James McNally and Lady Jane, Nay Guinea, My Chum, Waterfall and Edwin B., owned by Jerry Murphy.

Man Kills Girl, Woman and Self

ST. LAURENT (Man.) April 19. (AP)—J. Desjardin, cornered by a posse seeking him for the slaying of Mrs. F. Richard, who attempted to prevent the man eloping with her 16-year-old daughter, shot and killed both himself and the girl this afternoon.

RADIO TIP-OFF ALTERS THIEF'S WAVE LENGTH

CHICAGO, April 19. (AP) — Radio is a great invention, the burglar said.

A woman, observing the burglar leisurely plundering the third-floor apartment at 5737 Prairie avenue, telephoned police. Police notified radio station WGN so that word might be flashed to touring squad cars, equipped with receiving sets.

A moment later listeners on the WGN program heard this:

"Detective squads, attention. There's a burglar on the third floor at 5737 Prairie avenue."

The squad of Lieut. Walter Storms heard the call and sped toward the address given. The officers entered the apartment and found the robber gone.

In a corner a radio was going full blast. Tucked under the lid was this note:

"Dear radio man: Thanks for the tip-off. You're a swell announcer. I'm now signing off."

schools are being drawn to Communism.

Other resolutions urged the Congress to limit immigration from Mexico, the West Indies and South American countries; to provide "a navy appropriate to American dignity and power," and to make larger appropriations for deporting "thousands of alien criminals."

Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, retiring president, dedicated the new memorial auditorium of the society.

HIGHWAY MEMORIAL

The other memorials dedicated today was a statue at Bethesda, Md., commemorating pioneer mothers. It was the last to be unveiled of twelve markers on the transcontinental National Old Trails Highway.

A total of $1,625,000 has been subscribed to the fund for Constitution Hall, Mrs. Brosseau announced, expressing the belief that the balance of the $2,000,000 needed would be obtained in the near future.

PLANE SAVES INDIANS BFSET BY EPIDEMIC

OTTAWA, April 19. (AP)—How an epidemic of influenza that had taken the lives of twenty-two Indians of a tribe of 900 in Manitoba was checked by the use of an airplane was disclosed in government reports today. News of the epidemic reached the government agent of Indian affairs at Norway House in Manitoba on March 30 and he called on the air operations branch of the Department of National Defense for aid. An airplane was ordered by radio to proceed to the Indian settlement at Island Lake, near the northern tip of Lake Winnipeg. Taking aboard supplies and a physician, Flight Lieut. F. L. Maudsley proceeded to the scene and the epidemic promptly was checked.

MILESTICK USED ON WORLD AGAIN

New Radius Measurement Given for Universe

Einstein's Relativity Theory Applied to Problem

Physical Society Also Hears About Fog Beacons

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—A new measurement of the universe, giving its radius in miles as 328 followed by seventeen ciphers, was announced before the American Physical Society in session here by Ludwik Silberstein.

The earth's radius at the equator, in comparison, is 3963 miles. The radius of the universe is more than 350 billion times as great as the distance from the earth to the sun, the scientist said.

The new value, he explained, is backed by weighty reasons, making it more reliable than former estimates. It will serve to give astronomers a better notion of the size of the vast world in which the sun and earth are only parts of one family.

To arrive at this better understanding of the physical universe, his measurement was founded on application of Einstein's theory of relativity to observed velocities of certain distant stars.

A formula was evolved and applied to a total of thirty-five stars of one type and twenty-four variable stars of solar type. The measured value is twenty times smaller than the one derived in 1924.

Results of studies on the fog-penetrating power of different lights were reported by Dr. E. O. Hulbert of the Naval Research Laboratory to show that aerial beacons now in use are as good as man can devise.

"The sun," he said, "is the strongest source of light we have, yet its rays cannot pierce fog. It is quite unlikely that man can devise any better methods than the powerful searchlights he uses."

MOTION-PICTURE TYPE OF X-RAYS PERFECTED

BERLIN, April 19. (Exclusive)—Two Berlin X-ray experts, Kurt Jakobson and Dr. Gottheimer, assert they have solved the problem of making motion-picture X-rays. They will submit a practical test at the forthcoming Vienna X-ray Experts' Congress.

The process is much cheaper than the present still photographs as the cost is approximately 8 cents per foot of film. The discovery is said to mean a notable advance in medical research and diagnosis.

Violin Student Sent to Prison

NEZ PERCE (Idaho) April 19. (AP) A youthful bandit who robbed the Lewiston National Bank yesterday with a threatening note today pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve ten to twenty years in the State penitentiary.

The young man gave the name of Paul Edwards, but admitted that it is not his real name. In order to pay for violin lessons, he said, he obtained $2000 from the teller of the Lewiston bank.

Texans Indorse Oil Treaty Idea

FORT WORTH, April 19. (AP)—Members of the oil and gas bureau of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, meeting here today, unanimously indorsed the suggestion of Secretary Wilbur that the oil conservation plan of the American Petroleum Institute be made the subject of an interstate treaty by the leading oil-producing States.

Members expressed hope that Texas officials will co-operate in the movement.

Fleeing Trustee Ends Own Life

NEW YORK, April 19. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Tuttle announced that David Steinhardt, fugitive trustee and receiver in bankruptcy, fell dead after surrendering in the Robert Morris Hotel in Philadelphia today, and that a bottle of poison was found in his clothing.

Colquitt is a Democrat, but he told the committee he voted for Herbert Hoover.

Millions Dying in Kansu, Missionary Reports

Children Slaughtered for Food by Elders

Moslem Rebels and Pursuers Ravage Province

PEKING, April 19. (AP)—Cannibalism is on the increase in remote Kansu Province, where thousands of people are dying daily from starvation under the shadow of the Great Wall of China and along the frontiers of Tibet.

Missionary William Simpson of the Assemblies of God Mission at Minchow, Kansu, reported today to the International Famine Relief Commission that "famine conditions over all Kansu are now tenfold worse."

"Moslem rebels have devastated all the south and west of Kansu," Mr. Simpson's report stated, "and they have been pursued by troops who likewise have consumed or destroyed all the foodstuffs that they could find.

"Eighty per cent of the people are foodless and without seeds for the next crop planting.

"Children are being eaten in many districts. Many of them are afraid to venture out of doors, either by day or night, for fear that they be lured off and eaten.

"Kansu is doomed. There is no grain for sale. We are supporting at the mission 200 children who otherwise would have starved or fallen victims to cannibals."

At last—a new and still better Eastern oil for the motoring West

The New Mobiloil

gives you approximately 20% more oil mileage, and an appreciable increase in power. These are reasons why Mobiloil will keep the first-year feel in your engine for at least 30,000 miles

If the above figures make you skeptical—if they cause you to say: "No oil could do that"—please be assured that the records on which they are based are even more startling!

A few months ago, we engaged the Atlantic City Speedway to conduct final tests for the New Mobiloil. Special instruments were fitted to the cowls and floorboards of stock cars, and thousands of high-speed miles were run.

These tests, conducted with other high-grade oils in competition, actually bettered the figures quoted in our opening statement above. That is why we are willing to definitely offer you 20% more oil mileage, and more power than you can expect from other oils of equal viscosity generally specified for your car.

Even when we say that the New Mobiloil will keep the first-year feel in your engine for at least 30,000 miles, we are well within the facts established by our tests—for Mobiloil has actually preserved the first-year feel in many test engines for more than twice this distance.

From an ancient Court of France comes this style of the KNABE Mignon Grand

IN THE reign of Louis XV, furniture attained a graciousness and an air of luxury which have not been excelled in the 200 years since Dubois and Gouthiere designed their masterpieces for the King.

The same rare beauty which causes Louis XV furniture to be so eagerly sought by collectors and to command such exceedingly high prices, makes this Louis XV Knabe Mignon a charming showpiece for your own home.

Only 5' 8" this Mignon Grand is a furniture gem which can be attractively placed in any apartment, even a very small one. Its wood is the figured walnut favored by leading decorators of today. Its tone has the rich sonority of larger grands. Only a small amount down is required to put the Knabe Louis XV Mignon Grand in your home at once. You have 2½ years to pay the balance and if you have an old piano we will make a liberal allowance.

It is Faust. Swords clash in the duel scene, a soldier sinks to the ground—curtain! Valentine, so recently fallen, gets up, dusts himself off, hurries out to telephone. Nearby, Mephistopheles, his villainies temporarily complete, sips a glass of water. Still further back-stage, in sound-proof rooms, other singers are limbering up their voices for the act to come. In each room there is a piano. Each piano is a Knabe. Why a Knabe? Let the director of the Metropolitan, Mr. Gatti-Casazza, answer that question:—"It is our policy to engage only the very finest artists. Naturally we assume the same attitude in the selection of our piano."

With the Ampico, allowing you to hear your favorite music played by the greatest artists of each class, a Rachmaninoff or a Lopez, the Mignon Louis XV Grand is $3450; only $345 required as an initial payment. Come in and hear it.

HUNTED MAN UNDER ARREST

Fallbrook Resident Charged With Shooting Wife

Woman in Critical Condition in San Diego Hospital

Husband Blames Jealousy for Family Trouble

SAN DIEGO, April 19.—After two days in hiding in the fastness of Bonsall Canyon, near Fallbrook, Ernest Lee Rice, 40 years of age, fruit rancher, surrendered to a posse of state traffic officers and sheriff's deputies today and was lodged in county jail shortly before noon today. The surrender of the near-fatal shooting Wednesday evening of his estranged wife. While her husband is being held in jail, Mrs. Frances Rice, 38, is lying in a ward at County General Hospital, where she is given a fighting chance for her life.

Rice made no denial of his part in the shooting. He did deny, emphatically, a report to the effect that he had threatened to take the life of his 4-year-old son, Lee.

"During all the time that we were separated," he said, referring to the estrangement of himself and his wife, "I took care of my boy both as a father and mother both."

Officers, returning from Fallbrook, said reports from residents of Fallbrook substantiating Rice's story.

The "eternal triangle" was the cause of it all, Rice told the officers. Their report bore out a theory that jealousy as the cause for the shooting, which was entertained at the first by Undersheriff Ed [illegible].

"Ever we had our little trouble on the street, I took to the woods," stated in the Undersheriff's office the party of officers grouped about him. He went on to say that while he was safely entrenched behind a rock cliff, hidden in the underbrush, he thought it best to stay out of hiding and surrender [illegible].

Last night, however, Deputies [illegible] and Jack Tillery, who had not relaxed vigilance since reaching Fallbrook a few hours after the shooting, had ascertained that a short distance the place where the fugitive was concealed and determined to effect capture of him today. They had left Fallbrook in company with State Traffic Officer Cliff Reed, Frank Campbell, J. Laporte and H. V. Nielsen for that purpose when they in-[illegible] Rice.

The captured man was brought to San Diego within two hours.

Mrs. Rice was not heard to inquire about her husband's condition while he was being held in the Undersheriff's office. Her wounds, before the operation for the extraction of the steel-jacketed bullet lodged in her body, expressed hope for reconciliation. Her condition this morning was regarded as critical. She suffered a broken jaw and internal wounds from the shots.

No charges has as yet been filed. Undersheriff Cooper indicated he [illegible] would make complaint, charging Rice with "assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder."

PIONEERS CELEBRATE

Long-Time Residents of Inglewood Meet, Eat and Tell Interesting Tales of the Long Ago

INGLEWOOD, April 19.—Inglewood pioneers, some of sixty in number, several of whom have lived nearly half a century in this community, gathered today at the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce in observance of the attainment of its majority by the municipality. Mrs. Mina E. Kelso, widow of the city's first Mayor, was guest of honor, and she and another old settler, who returned to this city especially for this occasion, recalled the political battles that preceded the final incorporation of the community, the twenty-first anniversary of which was celebrated today. Willis Grove was the man who aided the first Mayor in the incorporation fight, which, he said, failed by a few votes to go over the first time, but within six months the issue was again brought up by the indomitable city father, and carried to a successful issue.

Approximately 400 persons gathered for the luncheon at the chamber, to hear the old-timers recall the early days and listen to an address on "The Romance of El Centinela Rancho," the 2000-acre grant from the Mexican government to Juan Abila, on part of which the present city of Inglewood stands. The speaker was E. Palmer Connor, chief title searcher for the Title Insurance and Trust Company of Los Angeles.

FIRST POSTMASTER

Dr. S. J. Hindman, Inglewood's first postmaster, and who, as a physician, gave himself up to die about thirty-five years ago but was persuaded to come to Southern California first, told of the good old days, as did also Adolph Leuzinger, soon to celebrate an uninterrupted quarter century as a trustee of the Inglewood Union High School district, and who is to be honored by having the new $400,000 branch high school at Lawndale named for him, was also heard from, as well as Oral and Leo Calkins, Inglewood's first merchants, and Carl Matson, the first feed merchant.

INTRODUCED OLD-TIMERS

Harvey Demosthenes Mosely, for a quarter century resident here and the founder of the neighboring community of Lawndale, that now figures so prominently in the oil news, was chairman of the day and introduced the old settlers in turn, including Mrs. John McPhee, past-president of the Inglewood Woman's Club, who also gave brief reminiscences of the days following the collapse of the great Southern California boom, when sidewalks built by the boomers were for years overgrown with grass and burried under silt from the irrigation ditches.

POPCORN KING

City Councilman Robert Haenggi introduced as "the former popcorn king of the Centinela Valley," he having made his start here growing that grain, declared that all the popcorn he grew and sold was sure to "pop," and that although Inglewood has grown a hundred fold since he first knew it, it is just as friendly and good a place to live in as ever.

A feature of the day was singing by Senorita Carmelita Verdugo, Inglewood resident and scion of the famous old Verdugo family, who in honor of the occasion composed and sang, in addition to other numbers of her own composition, a song entitled "Inglewood." She and a group of authentic Spanish troubadores in characteristic costumes added color and atmosphere to the occasion, which will long be remembered, it was declared by President A. E. Chamberlain of the chamber, who welcomed the guests to the gathering.

SKY-HIGH WEDDING IS PLAN

Ventura Couple Expect to be Married in Airplane Next Sunday

VENTURA, April 19.—Dan Cupid is flying high for his victims these days—at least he expects to Sunday, when he has an engagement with P. C. Riner, 38 years of age, and Miss Grace Phillips, 32, both of Ventura. At 2 o'clock the couple, accompanied by the minister yet to be named, and by Mrs. Myrtle Hubbles, witness, will take off from the Chadbourne-Donse flying field at Montalvo in a cabin plane for a little spin. When they return to earth at the same field they expect to be man and wife.

W. S. Smith, chief pilot of the Chadbourne-Donse Company, stationed at Santa Barbara, is to pilot the plane. The plane is to fly over the Santa Barbara county line to be in "Santa Barbara air," when the final "I do" is said, to satisfy the license requirement that the marriage be in Santa Barbara county, where it was issued.

Girl Leaps From Auto; Badly Hurt

SOUTH PASADENA, April 19.—Fifteen-year-old Dorothy Krage of 1309 Hill Drive, was taken to the Pasadena-avenue Receiving Hospital with a fractured skull while police were searching for a motorist of the car from which the girl is reported to have leaped on South Avenue 60.

From the victim's rambling story, the police gathered that she was on her way to school when a man in a car offered her a ride. Believing she knew him, she accepted the invitation, but in the 700 block on Avenue 60, she discovered he was a stranger and jumped from the fast moving vehicle after he had refused to stop and let her out.

Police stated that the motorist in the case did not harm the girl or make any threats against her, but they wish to question him to verify the story.

Dental Clinic at Ontario

ONTARIO, April 19.—Plans for a free dental clinic to aid the unfortunates of Ontario took a decided step forward today with installation of a dentist's chair in the municipal health center in City Hall.

Local dentists have agreed to donate a certain time each week for the clinic. Dr. Calvin L. Emmons, city health officer, and member of City Council, is supervising installation of the free clinic. An appropriation for its establishment has been voted by City Council.

Miss Bertha Schwarzwaelder of city health department in charge of the clinics is convinced the general health of youngsters of the poorer families will be benefited by the clinic.

COMMITTEE DISCUSSES CONTROL OF TERMITES

REDLANDS, April 19. — Control of termites will largely be found in prevention, according to M. E. Armstrong, building inspector, who has just returned from a meeting of the termite investigation committee held in Los Angeles. Scientists of the University of California made a report on the investigation they have made so far.

It was brought out that the talk of termites has given many unscrupulous people a chance to frighten people and sell certain methods of control. Not as much damage has been done as people sometimes think, and the only methods of control are to break up the nests and replace the timbers that have been attacked.

Better than this, is prevention and an effort will be made at once to get California cities to adopt in their building codes a section which will make it unlawful to place mud sills on the ground in any building. If wood is kept away from the ground there is little chance of termites getting a start.

AVIATORS ORGANIZE

SANTA ANA, April 19.—Orange county aviators elected L. R. Crawford of Santa Ana as president of the Eddie Martin Pilots' Association at an organization meeting held last night at the Santa Ana Cafe. Fifty were present, representing not only communities of the county but also points in Los Angeles and Riverside counties.

The organization was completed by the election of Crawford as president, Dr. W. C. Mayes as vice-president, and Miss Ethel Richardson as secretary.

Large Supply of Water on Hand for Irrigation

VAN NUYS, April 19. — The new growing season in San Fernando Valley opens with all water reservoirs filled and the irrigation water situation is in excellent condition, it is stated.

Anthony Lavelle, manager of the consumers' service section for the valley, at the Van Nuys office of the Water Bureau today said that whether there are additional rains or not, it is not likely there will be restrictions placed this season on water for irrigation in the valley. He says the reservoirs are well filled and that conditions at the head of the Los Angeles Aqueduct in the high Sierras are most satisfactory.

Most of the city reservoirs now hold close to their capacity, and water in storage is ample to meet both domestic and irrigation requirements for the year. Just before the last rain in the valley, which was the heaviest of the year, growers had started a general irrigation of orchards and fields, and a heavy run of water was used, but since then, of course, very little irrigation water has been used and demands on the reservoirs now are slight.

Water pumped from the gravel-bed reservoirs of the valley has been helpful for the last two or three years, and the city is now preparing to increase the capacity of the pumping plant on Vanowen street, according to P. C. Scott, manager of the water department branch plant here. Tests for ground water levels are being made on Vanowen street and in the western end of the valley, and it is indicated the city is not going to permit any underground water supply to go to waste or remain unused.

It also is stated by officials here that within another year the capacity of the reservoir at Chatsworth will be increased, and that probably another large reservoir will be established, either in Bell Canyon, west of Owensmouth or in another spot, if found to be more favorable.

WALNUT GROWERS TO MEET

ANAHEIM, April 19.—Reports on the past season's business and election of officers will feature the annual meeting of the Anaheim Walnut Growers' Association to be held at the Anaheim packing-house tomorrow at 2 p.m., Manager Walter Ross announced today. Mr. Ross has just mailed out $10,000 as payment for cull nuts from the 1928 crop, bringing total payments to Anaheim growers to $150,000, he said.

CITY READY TO CARE FOR THOUSANDS

Visitors to Ramona Play Sure of Adequate Facilities for Their Entertainment

HEMET, April 19.—This city has completed festive preparations to entertain pilgrims by airplane, motor car and motor bus journeying to view the opening performance of the seventh annual presentation of Southern California's most famous outdoor play, the Ramona Pageant, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Streets are gay with colorful decorations to welcome visitors from all parts of Southern California. Passengers arriving by airplane at Harmon Field, San Jacinto's municipal airport, will be transported free to the bowl by public-spirited citizens and their planes guarded during the showing of the pageant.

Automobilists will be able to drive their cars to the rim of the bowl to discharge passengers, with parking space for 5000 automobiles within a few yards of the entrance. Hotels and resorts of the region have completed preparations to accommodate a record throng.

Glamorous fiestas of the days of the dons and early historic episodes will be presented by a cast of 200, including a group of twenty Spanish dancers, soloists and a chorus of 100 voices.

The manner of presentation of the play is unique in that no artificial properties of any kind are used, the action of the play taking part about a replica of the old Camulos hacienda on the opposite side of the bowl. The remarkable acoustic properties of the bowl make a whisper audible for several hundred yards, permitting the staging of different episodes of the play in different parts of the bowl. The effect is created that the audience is viewing the events of decades ago actually taking place.

Presenting the leading feminine role of Ramona for the sixth time, will be Dorise Schukow, star of outdoor drama. Herbert Heyes will portray the role of her Indian lover, Alessandro, with citizens of Hemet and San Jacinto who have portrayed the same parts year after year in supporting roles.

The Ramona Pageant is staged annually as a community nonprofit enterprise by the people of the twin cities. All profits are turned back into permanent improvements of the bowl, which has been transformed from a canyon pocket to a modern amphitheater seating 5400.

Ground-Squirrel Battle is Waged in Valley Area

ENCINO, April 19.—This has been ground-squirrel week in the southwestern end of San Fernando Valley, so far as the County Horticultural Department is concerned . . . and it has been rather tough on the burrowing rodents. All along the Ventura Boulevard district, between Calabasas and the Ventura county line, two mounted crews from the department, under the direction of A. P. Hart and John Paul, have been putting out poisoned barley. By using saddle horses the crews have been able to move quickly and many thousands of acres of grain and pasture land have been treated. On acreage, near buildings or poultry yards, the crews have used a carbon disulphide spray pump which forces the vaporized chemical into the burrows, and is very effective.

According to Hart and Paul ground squirrels are not only a nuisance, but are carriers of certain diseases, and are destructive to grain and orchards. Often they harvest, more of the walnut crop than growers realize. Many young squirrels have been noticed in the district now being treated, and if they are not checked, the men say, will soon migrate from the parent burrows. Natural enemies of the squirrels are becoming fewer with each year, so now artificial extermination methods are imperative.

The work of killing the rodents and noxious weeds in the valley area is under the direction of the Horticultural Commissioner of Los Angeles county, ho has placed Inspector Howard Brown in charge of all work. Brown has headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce at Van Nuys, where ranchers may communicate with him regarding pest-control problems.

New 'Gas War' Breaks Out in San Diego

SAN DIEGO, April 19.—San Diego is in the throes of another gasoline price war today with retail quotations ranging as low as 14 cents per gallon and 17 cents seeming to be the prevailing figure.

The "break" from the general 20-cent price came when one of the large oil companies reduced its owned and controlled station prices to 18 cents, according to Bryan Mesch of the local retail dealers' association.

Other stations rapidly followed and the 17-cent figure is reported now the most popular.

Tank wagon prices to retailers are quoted at 19 cents per gallon with a 3-cent rebate in most cases.

"The present situation, with dealers buying gasoline for 16 cents and selling it for 17 and 18 is a most uneconomical one," declared Mesch today.

"Elimination of a large number of independent stations evidently is the purpose of the large oil company in cutting prices. This would result in a big loss to the community as a great deal of money is invested in these stations," he concluded.

Workman Hurt at Glendale

GLENDALE, April 19.—Hans Peterson, 60 years of age, of 3140 Perlita street, Los Angeles, was taken to the Santa Fe Hospital in Los Angeles today after his skull had been fractured by an automobile axle he was carrying while at work for Peter L. Ferry, contractor, San Fernando Road and Broadway.

Peterson was alone on the Ferry lot at the time of the accident, and the actual manner in which he was injured is not clear. It is the theory of police Sergeant A. M. Wickham, who investigated, that the axle was caught in the mechanism of an excavator, running at the time and at which Peterson was working. Other employees of Ferry found Peterson lying on the ground with the front of his head crushed and rushed him to the Glendale Medical Group for first aid, after which he was transferred to Los Angeles.

WILLS MONEY TO CHURCH

SANTA ANA, April 19. — A bequest of $2000 to the Christian Science Church here is contained in the will of Mrs. Eva L. Beaton, who died at her home in this city, the 8th inst; it was disclosed when the will was filed for probate. Mrs. Beaton left property in Orange county valued at $20,500. Minnie J. Hayward of Santa Ana, sister of Mrs. Beaton, was appointed executrix of the estate, and beneficiaries named in the will include Mrs. Carrie Stearns, Mrs. Goldie Johnson and Mrs. Hazel Vinson, all residents of this city.

IMPERIAL VALLEY ACREAGE

California's "Winter Garden" Reports 406,943 Acres Now Under Cultivation

EL CENTRO, April 19.—Imperial Valley now has 406,943 acres of land under cultivation according to the current crop report issued by the Imperial Irrigation District. The total area of the district is 605,000 acres, but 90,000 acres of this is classed as nonirrigable and 108,057 as being out of cultivation.

Of the field crops alfalfa leads with 228,875 acres reported. Barley ranks second with 56,240 acres; corn, 40,126; bermuda, 20,994; wheat, 10,317; Sudan, 1256, and oats, 1731 acres. A number of other lesser field crops of smaller acreages are also given in the report.

In permanent crops the report gives grapefruit as leading with 8763 acres. Grapes rank second of the permanent crops with 4797 acres reported. Asparagus is third with 2580 acres. Strawberries, pecans, plums, olives, oranges, dates and a number of other permanent crops are listed with from twenty to 200 acres reported.

Of garden crops lettuce leads with 31,270 acres planted during the 1928-29 season. Cantaloupes rank second with 27,284 acres; peas, 10,238; watermelons, 6277; honeydew melons, 3338; honeyball melons, 2347, and carrots, 1496 acres. There are also a number of other garden crops listed with from ten to 500 acres given. The report was compiled by M. J. Dowd, chief engineer and general superintendent for the irrigation district. It is said to be the most complete ever made in this valley.

RIVERSIDE ARBOR PLAN TO PROCEED

Court Denies Injunction to Halt Erection of Spanish Pergola on Street

RIVERSIDE, April 19.—Defeated by a court decision in the first round of his fight to prevent the Spanish Arts Society from extending its Seventh-street arcade past his property, B. B. Bush of 490 West Seventh announced he will take further action to block the erection of the imitation wood pergola. Bush and A. T. Sharpe, a neighbor, were yesterday denied a temporary restraining order against the Spanish Arts Society, which is composed of several leading citizens of the city, and is financing construction of sidewalk cloister from the railway tracks at Vine street, to the Mission Inn, on both sides of the street.

The two plaintiffs charged their properties would be depreciated considerably in value if the society was allowed to erect the cement framework of the pergola over the sidewalk flanking their frontages. They demanded a temporary restraining order to halt work on the arbor until the matter could be brought to trial. Superior Judge Morton, after hearing arguments on the matter, denied the request for the injunction and unless further action is taken by the two plaintiffs, it is believed operations on the project will be resumed and the arcade raised in front of the properties.

Bush's and Sharp's homes are within a block of Orange street, goal of the pergola construction and the court maintained that omission of this portion of the cloister would make a harmful break in the continuity of the covered walk. The two men objected to the plan of the society to plant creeping vines on the imitation wood structure, contending that their properties virtually would be shut off from view to persons in the street when the vines spread.

Oxnard Man Badly Burned

OXNARD, April 19.—Jay F. Fetters, local manager of the Shepherd Crook Company, popular air pilot, is recovering today from a serious accident yesterday which nearly cost him the sight of both eyes.

With George Lund of Oxnard Fetters was testing a tractor on the Augustine Peirano ranch near Del Norte when the machine exploded. Fetters was looking into the cylinders at the time and the flames enveloped his face and neck.

Fetters used a little of the quick thinking he has acquired in aviation and plunged headlong into a plowed field burying his face in the dirt. Lund and another man rushed to his aid and extinguished the flames that were still burning at his neck and collar.

He was rushed to Oxnard where his burns were treated and an examination of his eyes made. According to the attending physician it is believed the injury to his eyes will not be serious or permanent.

CITY COUNCIL ACTS TO ABOLISH 'BOTTLE NECK'

SAN FERNANDO, April 19.—The City Council, at a special meeting here, took action which will eliminate the last "bottle-neck" on San Fernando Road by voting to instruct the City Engineer to draw plans and specifications for the widening and improving of Porter avenue from North Maclay avenue to the norwthwesterly city limits. This work, which has been delayed for more than three years, will afford a wide thoroughfare to correspond to San Fernando Road, which has been widened to seventy feet on both sides of this city.

Recently the Council was requested by Los Angeles City Councilman Randall, engineers of the Automobile Club of Southern California and county road-department officials to expedite the needed widening work. The county allocated $14,000 two years ago to help pay the costs of the widening and threatened this week to withdraw the sum unless definite action was taken.

The widening proceedings are the most important ordered here for many months, as the improved highway will greatly relieve traffic congestion on San Fernando Road through this city.

CEMETERY TO ERECT BEAUTIFUL STATUE

SANTA BARBARA, April 19.—Ettore Cadorin, Santa Barbara sculptor, has been commissioned by the Forest Lawn Memorial Park Association to do an original bronze figure of a woman carrying a Grecian lamp. The figure will be placed in the Forest Lawn Mausoleum, Glendale, adjacent to a replica of the Canova statue of the Three Graces.

Mr. Cadorin came to the United States in 1915 from Italy to lecture in Columbia University. In 1925 he came to Santa Barbara. His best-known works are two statues in the Libreria Di Sansovino in Venice, a memorial in marble to Wagner and the fountain and sculptures at the Santa Barbara County Courthouse entrance.

Lloyd St. John Sees Air Soon Full of Planes

VAN NUYS, April 19.—Announcement is made today of the installation of a completely equipped meteorological station at the Metropolitan Airport, northwest of here, to furnish weather data service for pilots of the air. The Daniel Guggenheimer Fund for Promotion of Aeronautics and the United States Weather Bureau assisted in placing the station here.

It is now estimated that San Fernando Valley has a preliminary investment of about $5,000,000 in industrial aviation enterprises and an estimated annual capacity production of $8,000,000. By July, it is said, there will be a pay roll of 1750 men on various aviation plant pay rolls.

Lloyd St. John, industrial aviation authority, who organized the Metropolitan Airport and who was instrumental in locating the Boeing Transport Corporation and the United Aircraft in the valley, today declared he believed that within a year this new aviation district's pay roll would reach $5,000,000.

"Nobody today has any conception of the number of commercial and passenger planes that will be in the air five years from now," St. John said in discussing the general aviation situation here and in other parts of the United States.

Couple Married After Divorce

SANTA ANA, April 19.—A second honeymoon, following a marriage made necessary after a "friendly annulment," was in prospect today for a Los Angeles couple.

In order to allow her husband, Eugene D. Swartout, the right to collect government compensation insurance, Mrs. Grace Swartout had her marriage annulled in Superior Court here.

Mrs. Swartout's suit for the annulment was filed, heard and granted late yesterday. According to her testimony, she and Swartout were married February 18, 1904. At the time, it was later discovered, Swartout was still married to his first wife, Alice M., a divorce action against her not having been completed.

Mrs. Swartout said that she and her husband would be remarried as soon as the case has been cleared up with the government compensation bureau.

Banker Builds Fine Home at Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, April 19.—Plans and specifications for the construction of a home for Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Behrens on Las Tunas Road, on the summit of the Riviera, to cost $66,000, were presented to City Building Inspector L. L. Pope.

Mr. Behrens, a retired New York broker, and his wife are living in El Canto Hotel awaiting the completion of their new home on a four-acre site.

The residence will be one of the most pretentious on the Riviera, containing two stories and a basement. Plans were drawn by Reginald D. Johnson, architect, designer of the Santa Barbara Biltmore.

RIDERS INJURED WHEN CYCLE STRIKES TRUCK

COVINA, April 19.—Severely crushed by their falling motorcycle which was struck by a truck, B. Dichman and Louis M. Thomas, both of this city, sustained serious injuries this morning when they collided with K. D. Hawk, truck driver, who was making a left hand turn at the intersection of Lone Hill and Cienaga, near San Dimas.

Dichman's left leg was crushed besides lacerations and abrasions about the body. He was rushed to the General Hospital in Los Angeles, and Thomas, who suffered cuts and bruises, was taken to the Covina Hospital, where attendants stated that he will be confined for several days.

The truck driver was uninjured, according to the report of Capt. T. P. Gordon, of the San Dimas sheriff's office, who investigated the accident with Deputy W. C. Ronn.

CITY SUBMITS OFFER TO PAY

Los Angeles Tenders Ventura County $94,895.37

Amount $68,000 Less Than Supervisors Asked

Matter Under Consideration by County Officials

VENTURA, April 19.—Ventura county supervisors this morning were asked to accept $94,895.37 from the City of Los Angeles for the damages sustained by the county in the St. Francis Dam flood more than a year ago. The offer was laid before the supervisors by Dist.-Atty. James C. Hollingsworth following several days of negotiations with City Attorney Jess Stephens and Assistant Attorney Green of Los Angeles.

The board heard the proposition in special meeting, but deferred acceptance until Monday afternoon at 2 p.m., at which time County Engineer Charles Petit will be present to explain some of the figures.

COUNTY CLAIMS GREATER

Altogether the county had filed claims against the City of Los Angeles for $163,105, making a difference of about $68,000.

This difference, however, was not one of money spent by Ventura county which Los Angeles refuses to pay back, as Hollingsworth explained. As a matter of fact, Hollingsworth told the board that the offer made by Los Angeles would probably more than cover the actual cash spent by the county on flood work, as itemized in the figures given him by the county engineer, since the latter "figured high" on all his estimates.

CLAIMS DISALLOWED

The $68,000 difference is represented chiefly by the following disallowed claims and disagreed claims:

(1.) The county claimed $35,000 damage from the introduction of the puncture vine. No money has been spent on this, however, said Hollingsworth. On the contrary, Los Angeles has already paid $5000 toward fighting this menace and feels that this payment, together with the contention of Los Angeles investigators that the vine was already in the river bottom, should relieve the city of all responsibility there. The supervisors did not seem disposed to object.

Estimated damage of $10,000 from possible changes in the Santa Clara river bed, Los Angeles feels that an agreement reached yesterday between engineers and attorneys for both the county and the city will cover this claim.

A similar claim for a like amount from the future hasard to roads, irrigation ditches, pipe lines, etc., rejected entirely for the same reason.

OTHER CLAIMS REJECTED

Rejected claims totalling $6031.50 for photographing flood victims, patrol duty, guard duty, geological investigations taken as preparation for legal actions against Los Angeles if necessary. Hollingsworth said he was convinced that the Los Angeles attorneys were right in contending that these things were done as a governmental function in time of disaster and could not, therefore, be charged against Los Angeles as a property or life loss, or future damage.

DAMAGE TO BRIDGES

Difference of about $12,000 on the claim of the county for rebuilding the Bardsdale bridge, due to a difference in the estimated depreciation of the bridge at the time it was washed out. The county asked $54,895 for the bridge and was allowed $42,757.

A similar difference of about $3000 on the Willard bridge, the respective figures being $39,062 asked and $36,290 allowed. The supervisors appeared not to be disposed to question either of the last two allowances. Practically all other claims were allowed, either in full or in large part.

Stored Fruit Delays Shipping

ANAHEIM, April 19.—Five thousand cars of winter navel and miscellaneous variety oranges remain in storage, making the opening of the Valencia shipping season inadvisable at this time, L. D. Savage, assistant sales manager for the California Citrus Fruit Exchange, reported last evening at a dinner meeting of the North Orange County Exchange Managers' Club.

Vast quantities of lemons also are in storage awaiting more favorable market conditions, Mr. Savage said.

The present crop of Valencia, although small, surpasses in color and quality the crops of many preceding years, Henry Ramsey, exchange field manager, reported.

The association went on record as favoring participation in the coming California Valencia Orange Show to be held here May 23 to June 2.

The next regular meeting will be held in July at a place yet to be announced where officers will be elected.

ATTEND "SADDLE" BREAKFAST

SANTA ANA, April 19.—More than 800 Orange county residents, members of the Santa Ana and Fullerton Breakfast clubs and the El Rodeo Riding Club, are expected to attend the "saddle" breakfast at the Orange County Fairgrounds Sunday morning, May 19, it was announced by George Boyd, chairman of the committee on arrangements, at the meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast Club at St. Ann's Inn today.

SUMMER BAND CONCERTS

OWENSMOUTH, April 19.—The first band concert sponsored by the local Merchants' Association, will be given on the evening of the 27th inst. Most of the players have been recruited and trained locally. The concerts will be given each two weeks during the summer months.

The Story of the World War

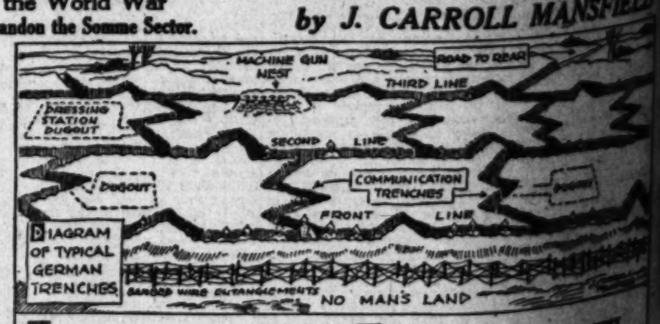
by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE GREAT ALLIED DRIVE ON THE SOMME FRONT IN THE SUMMER AND FALL OF 1916 BROUGHT BOTH THE ALLIED AND GERMAN ARMIES TO THE POINT OF EXHAUSTION. DURING THE WINTER OF 1916-1917 THE FIGHTING ON THE WESTERN FRONT SLACKENED. PROFITING BY THIS LULL, THE GERMANS IN MARCH, 1917, BEGAN A STRATEGIC RETREAT FROM THE SHATTERED SOMME REGION TO THE NEW "HINDENBURG LINE."

THE RETREATING GERMANS LEFT THE REGION THEY VACATED A SCENE OF INDESCRIBABLE RUIN AND DEVASTATION. VILLAGES WERE REDUCED TO CHARRED HEAPS, FIELDS LAID WASTE AND FRUIT TREES CUT DOWN. TO HINDER PURSUIT, WELLS AND SPRINGS WERE POLLUTED, AND THE ROADS PLANTED WITH MINES SET TO EXPLODE AT THE SLIGHTEST TOUCH.



THE TERRITORY THUS ABANDONED BY THE GERMANS WAS A STRIP OF LAND 30 MILES WIDE AT ITS BROADEST POINT AND STRETCHING 100 MILES FROM ARRAS TO THE AISNE RIVER. THE STRAIGHTENING AND SHORTENING OF THEIR LINES ACHIEVED BY THIS WITHDRAWAL MORE THAN REPAID THE GERMANS FOR THE LOSS OF GROUND.

AFTER TRANSFORMING THE SOMME DISTRICT INTO A DESERT, THE GERMANS FELL BACK INTO THE SECURITY OF THE HINDENBURG LINE, AN ELABORATE, FORMIDABLE SYSTEM OF TRENCHES THAT SEEMED STRONG ENOUGH TO SUCCESSFULLY DEFY ALL ASSAULTS.

Mrs. Harry Pressler

Few women golfers in the United States can boast the record of Mrs. Harry Pressler, the brightest star in San Gabriel's diadem, who yesterday won the California State women's championship by defeating Miss Kathleen Wright of Flintridge, 3 and 2, in the finals at the Beresford Country Club. Mrs. Pressler also holds the western women's championship which she won at Indian Hills, Chicago, last year for the second consecutive time, and the Southern California women's championship at Bel-Air. A national women's championship is all Mrs. Pressler needs to round out a perfect record, and her friends are prognosticating a victory in that event not so long hence.

SCHMELING SHEDS BOSSES TO PERFORM FOR CHARITY

NEW YORK, April 19. (Exclusive)—As a result of a compromise effected today between the warring stockholders of the pugilistic firm of Max Schmeling, unincorporated, and the various promoters who have been claiming priority rights on his services, the German heavyweight will be free to fight Paolino Uscudun, the Basque battler, at milk fund boxing carnival to be held at the Yankee Stadium on June 27. It was agreed by all concerned to lay aside their differences and to defer impending legal suits until after the battle to be fought for charity. Fifty per cent of the receipts will go to the cause.

KANSAS RELAYS ON TODAY

Coach Pipal in Quandary as to What Events He Will Enter Oxy Athletes at Meet

LAWRENCE (Kan.) April 19.—The old weatherman took a hand in the opening of the seventh annual Kansas Relay Carnival today and converted the Memorial Bowl track into a fair excuse for a lake.

Rain started pouring down at a late hour last night and has continued almost incessantly all day.

Rain did not deter meet officials, however, and the relays were run off as scheduled. Most of the afternoon was taken up with the running off of the numerous high school events. Wendall Smith, Occidental's "iron man," was right up among the leaders at the conclusion of the first five events of the decathlon.

COACH JOE PIPAL

Smith did not measure up to his best performances, however, and will have to score heavily tomorrow to win. Charles of the Haskell Idians and Churchill of Oklahoma are leading at the half-way mark.

Coach Joe Pipal is in a quandary today as to what relays he will enter tomorrow due to the injury yesterday of Fred Appleton, who was a member of all three teams. If Appleton's shoulder holds up the Oxy mentor plans on entering a four-man half-mile team and a distance medley outfit.

The former quartet consists of Ruth, Howard, Appleton and Belman. In the medley team Fred Appleton will run a 440, Don Imber an 880, Rudd Crawford three laps, and Capt. Burl Goodheart a mile. The latter squad stands an excellent chance of winning. The Kansas relay record for the event is 10m. 50s.

TROJANS CONQUER VISITORS

Trample St. Mary's 9 to 5 in League Game; Retain Chance at Title

Clinging tenaciously to the slight chance they have to win the California Intercollegiate League pennant, the S. C. Trojans romped over St. Mary's, 9-5, yesterday, and cinched the series, if nothing more. The final game will be played on Bovard Field, at 10:30 this morning.

The Trojans battered Dana for all nine of their runs in the four innings he twirled, while "Lefty Larry" Dihel was turning in a brilliant game. Fischer followed Dana to the mound and, although he usually was in trouble, he managed to prevent additional scoring.

SAM CRAWFORD

Four hits netted the Trojans two runs in the opening frame, and two additional runs clattered across in the second, without a single safe hit being registered. The Saints, after scoring one in the first frame, boosted over three more to tie the score in the first half of the fourth, only to have the Trojans blast out five markers in

CARDINALS AND BEARS COLLIDE

Stanford Track Team Rules Heavy Favorite Today

California Faces Trimming from Redshirt Stars

Carter Expected to Collect Mile from McKinnon

BERKELEY, April 19. (Exclusive) Expecting defeat, but hoping to make a brave face before the inevitable, the University of California track varsity will repair to Palo Alto tomorrow afternoon for the thirty-ninth annual field-and-track meet with Stanford University. California has not won from Stanford in this particular sport for the past six years. Although this year's team is somewhat stronger, generally speaking, than past squads, it will not do much better.

"DINK" TEMPLETON

About the only remnant of a reputation that the Golden Bears can save tomorrow is their high-point score record. This they can do by preventing the acquisition of 91 points. In 1893, when the Bears were gay, they amassed this number of points. No Stanford team has been able to duplicate or surpass that feat.

Rained out of what was to have been its final practice yesterday, California spent practice hours yesterday and rest hours today in passing over what promises to be the highlights of the track fest. Harry Carter and Alex McKinnon should have some fun with the mile run. The former will beat out his Stanford rival, however, unless his recently infected foot goes back on him. The 100-yard dash will offer a real battle if Spenser Bisbee does not get stage fright. He has done 9 4-5s. on occasion and consistently has turned 10s. flat. Hector Dyer of Stanford frightened Capt. Charley Borah of the Trojans in the sprint races, and may have a big edge on his own track. If Clark should find the Cardinal oval to his liking he might even beat Johnny Morrison, Templeton's foremost one-lap man to the tape. Al Pogolotti cannot develop into the world's greatest living hurdler as long as his injured ankle affords him no spring. He will have to travel in order to take the decision from Ross Nichols, Ward Edmonds and Smith.

Grid Leaders Battle Over Fumble Rule

NEW YORK, April 19. (AP) The new football fumble rule has stirred up another controversy with Sydney E. Hutchinson, chairman of the council on athletics and the football committee at the University of Pennsylvania, and Edward K. Hall of the national football rules committee as the principal debaters. Declaring that the new rule making it illegal for a player on the defending side to run with a fumbled ball has met with "almost unanimous" disfavor, Hutchinson asks that application of the new regulation be postponed until 1930.

Schwartz and Dano in Draw

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19. (AP) Corporal Izzy Schwartz, flyweight champion, and Pablo Dano, former Filipino title holder, fought ten rounds to a draw here tonight in a nontitle bout. Schwartz weighed 111 3-4 pounds and Dano 113 1-4.

The Filipino, quick as a cat on his feet and aggressive, proved himself a tough customer and Schwartz, pride of New York, was forced to come out at top speed in the closing rounds to even up the match.

DATE FOR WEDDING ANNOUNCED BY LEWIS

CHICAGO, April 19. (AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, today set May 4 as the date for his marriage to Miss Elaine Tomasco of Chicago, at Riverside, Cal. It will be his third trip to the altar.

Sacramento Hurler Strikes Out Ten Cherubs

BY BOB RAY

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," sagaciously remarked Manager Buddy Ryan of the Sacramento club yesterday afternoon as his Senators walked off of Wrigley Field with a 6-to-5 victory over Marty Krug's Angels.

Krug's Angels.

And there was considerable reason for the Sacramento skipper's bit of verbal wisdom, for the wind that swept over Wrigley Field yesterday played no little part in the Solons' triumph. The balmy breezes, let it here be recorded, took a fancy to a couple of high flies from Sacramento bats and proceeded to blow them out into the bleachers for home runs. Those two breezy homers, which were made by Joe Harris and Frank Osborne, accounted for three of the Solons' runs and proceeded to put the Sacs just far enough out in front so that the Angels couldn't catch 'em.

JOE HARRIS

After once being blown out in front, Ray Keating, the veteran spitballer who did the slabbing for the Senators, saw to it that the lead held out until the nine innings were over and another victory

Hollywood Cops Third Game of Series from Indians by 6-to-2 Margin

SEATTLE, April 19. (AP)—With Pipgras ineffective and Holleson holding the locals scoreless until the seventh inning, Hollywood took the third game of the series against the Seattle Indians here today by a 6-to-2 score.

Seattle was minus a leader with Manager Ernie Johnson confined at his home by influenza.

ERNIE JOHNSON

After a double-header with Seattle Sunday the Hollywood club will take to the air for Portland to catch the Cascade Limited for Los Angeles, for their games with San Francisco, in the first flight ever made by a Pacific Coast League baseball team.

BAKERSFIELD DOWNS SAN BERNARDINO, 9-1

SAN BERNARDINO, April 19. (AP) Roy Joiner had the San Bernardino Padres eating out of his left hand here today, pitching Bakersfield to a 9-to-1 victory in California Class D league play. The southpaw allowed but four hits.

Three errors and a single gave the Padres their lone score of the game in the third inning. The Bees swarmed upon "Lefty" McDougall in the eighth to put six runs across the plate, and sent the Padre moundsman to the showers.

LANE CHARTERS AIRPLANES TO TRANSPORT STARS SOUTH

SEATTLE, April 19. (AP)—The first airplane flight ever made by a Pacific Coast League baseball team will be taken Sunday by the Hollywood club to enable the team to ope nits series with San Francisco, in Los Angeles Tuesday afternoon. Sixteen players, Manager Oscar Vitt and President William Lane of the Hollywood club will ky from Seattle to Portland after the double-header with Seattle Sunday. This will permit the team to catch the Cascade Limited for Los Angeles. Otherwise the Hollywood-San Francisco series would have to be postponed a day as in the past years on long jumps. The flight will be made in two airplanes. The seven other players of the club will go south by train.

MORGAN'S DEMANDS INCREASE

Junior Lightweight Champion Now Asks $30,000 for Defending His Title Against Baby Sal; Callahan Preps for Spug Meyers

Tod Morgan's price for signing to defend his junior lightweight title against Baby Sal Sorio yesterday jumped out of the percentage class.

TOD MORGAN

Frank Churchill, manager of the champion, notified the Olympic that it would require a flat guarantee of $30,000 to make the match. Matchmaker Wad Wadhams had previously offered Morgan 45 per cent of the net and promised to take care of Sal.

Another offer was to give Morgan 55 per cent and let him pay Sal off as his own bargain. Churchill, on this basis, made Sal the proposition of 15 per cent if Morgan

Grafton Leabo did not meet Wadhams yesterday and a late schedule meeting with Churchill also fell through. The match seems no nearer being made than it was earlier in the week.

There were no new developments kept the title and nothing if he lost it.

In the proposed Hudkins-Walker bout except that it was disclosed Jack Kearns would seek to get $150,000 for Mickey instead of $100,000.

Kearns was unable to regulate his business yesterday so he could officially sign Mushy Callahan to a contract. The formality is scheduled for this morning at 11 o'clock in Kearns's home on Kingsley Drive.

Teddy Hayes joined Callahan at the Main-street gymnasium yesterday, where the champion is training to box Spug Meyers in the Olympic next Tuesday night.

Hayes said Kearns already has one offer of $30,000 for a Callahan title bout. Mushy is in great shape for the Meyers bout.

Johnny Miles Cops Marathon

BOSTON, April 19. (AP)—Johnny Miles of Sydney, N. S., today won the annual Boston Athletic Association marathon for the second time. In repeating his 1926 victory today he shattered the old record of 2h. 37m. 7 4-5s. by covering the twenty-six miles, 385 yards in 2h. 33m. 8 4-5s.

Kari Koski, running under the colors of the Finnish-American A. C. of New York, was second and Willie Kyronen of the same club was third. Both Koski and Kyronen broke the old record established last year by Clarence De Mar, veteran Melrose runner. Koski's time was 2h. 35m. 26s. and Kyronen's was 2h. 35m. 44s.

Whitey Michelsen of the Millrose A. A. of New York, came in fourth, less than two minutes behind Kyronen. Michelsen's time was 2h. 37m. 22 1-5s.

Miles was running under the colors of the Olympic Club of Hamilton, Ont.

Jack Lamb of the Dorchester Club, who led the field during the first half of the race, was in fifth place at the finish. His time was 2h. 39m. 25s. De Mar, six time winner of the race, was ninth in 2h. 43m. 47s.

Bruins Annex Tennis Match

Coach Bill Ackerman's University of California at Los Angeles tennis squad, champion net outfit among the Big Four universities in California, yesterday afternoon sustained its reputation by conquering the racketers of the University of Southern California on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis Club by the count of 5 to 2. The Bruins won three singles matches and both doubles contests.

Summary of matches:

Southern California High School Track and Field Preliminaries Today at Coliseum

PARROTS PRAY FOR WET SKIES

Frannie Kilfoil Not to Compete Today

L. A. High Roman Runners Picked to Win

Paso Robles Sends Down Team of Five

The entire Poly High track and field team are praying for rain to postpone the Southern California prep track and field trials on tap today at the Coliseum. According to the Mechanic coach, Eddie Leahy, if it should happen to rain and today's affair is put off until next Saturday, Frannie Kilfoil, the Mechanic's star sprinter and broad jumper will be able to compete. Kilfoil pulled a muscle in his leg in the City League trials and has not run since then. If he were competing in today's meet Leahy's team would have a fair chance to take the title next Saturday. The captain would have a chance for three first places, both sprints and the broad jump.

EDDIE LEAHY.

In the neighborhood of 700 athletes will compete in today's meet. Schools as far north as San Luis Obispo and as far south as San Diego are sending teams here for the affair. Athletes in three divisions, Class A, Class B, and Class C will participate.

Clif Reynolds's L. A. High Romans, City League champions, are slight favorites to win the Southland prep title inasmuch as they are entering the largest number of men in tomorrow's meet. Fourteen men will carry the colors of L. A. High this afternoon. This doesn't include the relay team. Dave Foore, Red Houck, Wiley, Cheshire, Reed, Phelps, Hoye, Lessly, Campbell, Nemethi, Limeburner, Johnson, Crawford and Smith make up the list.

Word from Paso Robles has it that Coach C. C. Christiansen is bringing a team of five men down for the meet. Heading the list is Clark Smith who heaves the discus around 125 feet and Harold Folsom in the half-mile. Folsom is a very pretty runner and hasn't been defeated all season. Just what he will do against fast competition remains to be seen. The rest of the squad include Joe Oaks in the century, broad jump and high jump, Rudy Roe in the shot and discus, and John Hurley in the hurdles.

Mercury Swim Stars Return With Laurels

The L.A.A.C.'s diving champions came home on the Southern Pacific Apache yesterday carrying with them first and second honors in the American Amateur Union's swim meet held in New York.

Mickey Riley annexed first place in the three feet and ten feet diving contest, and established himself as the first holder of four national diving championships to have the titles at the same time. Harold Smith took second place in both events.

At the station to meet the arrivals were the families of both boys, and Miss Georgia Coleman, women's Olympic swimming champion.

Trojan Frosh Battle Stars

Coach Tommy Davis's Trojan frosh track squad will keep in shape for the coming Fresno relays, this morning by meeting an all-star squad of Junior College athlete on the Compton High School vola. The squad is composed of men who placed in the all-conference meet held recently at San Mernardino, with the exception of the Glendale and Riverside entries.

Another meet that is of interest to track fans is the Glendale J. C.-Riverside J. C. fracas. Glendale, winners of the dual meet pennant of the western division, and Riverside, who annexed the eastern division crown, will battle for the dual meet championship of the Jaysee conference.

Capt. Frank Wykoff and his man are heavy favorites to walk off with the meet by a top-heavy score.

SAN DIEGO NOSES OUT ORANGE COUNTY NINE

ANAHEIM, April 19. (AP)—The San Diego Aces, pouncing upon the offerings of Salzbrenner in the early frames, nosed out a 5-to-4 win over the Orange county nine today. It was the Aces' third straight over the Orange men in their California Class D league series.

Orange county staged rallies in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings, but the combined scoring fell one short of tying the contest. Kostell, Orange shortstop, featured with a sensational stop of a hot grounder in the fifth. Score:

San Diego	5	7	0
Orange County	4	11	0

Brown and Kaufman; Salzbrenner, Moodz and Lemon, Millikan.

THREE CONFERENCE GAMES ON SCHEDULE

Three Southern Conference baseball games will be staged this afternoon. The biggest interest centers in the La Verne and Occidental tilt at La Verne which has a large bearing upon the leadership of the circuit. In the two remaining contests, Caltech meets San Diego in the southern city while Redlands skips to Pomona for its initial ball game of the year.

RABBIT PUNCHES

WHAT OLD MEN?

"GOLF is an old man's game."

That is an annoying statement and one totally unfounded on fact. Generally speakin, it is an excuse employed by has-been athletes too lazy to exercise who sit around in swivel chairs and tell of their exploits in the "good old days."

Back in the dim and distant past golf probably was an old man's game.

But it wasn't much of a pastime then. It didn't gain real popularity until the kids started playing it and put a punch in the sport.

Events of the past few weeks offer indisputable evidence that golf is anything but an "old man's game."

Consider the results of three tournaments, for example.

Davy Martin, a 19-year-old kid, won the San Gabriel invitation tournament.

The same 19-year-old kid won the Lakeside tournament a couple of weeks later.

Then came the Pasadena invitation tournament.

Danny Sangster, a 16-year-old kid, won it, and the runner-up was a 19-year-old freshman in Stanford.

Now the old boys who infest tournament play—"the old men"—want to limit competition to two classes—under 30 and over 30.

Y-e-a-h, "golf is an old man's game!"

THREE FOR MRS. PRESSLER

WHILE on the subject of golf three rousing cheers should be given Mrs. Harry Pressler.

This little lady of the Southland has now annexed three major championships in a row—the western at Chicago last summer, the Southern California and the California State.

In the latter she defeated another southern girl—Miss Kathleen Wright—and the winning score of 3 and 2 was the closest anybody got to Mrs. Pressler throughout the tourney.

Some critics expressed a belief that because she had not been playing much of late Mrs. Pressler would not get far in the State championship.

She not only got far, but won hands down. She confounded all prophecies that she was not on her game, and demonstrated that a sound style surpasseth all.

She showed up the other girls in th ewomen's western last year by repeating her 1927 victory—the first time a repeater had appeared since 1911—and she seems to be off to the races again this year.

SAME OLD STRATEGY

YOU can't teach an old dog new tricks and neither can you teach Marty Krug new wrinkles about switching pitchers.

The boss of the Angels ran true to form yesterday when he kept Deacon Plitt on the mound until the game was lost and then sent in Clyde Barfoot.

Krug had every excuse in the world for yanking Plitt in the sixth when the Deacon was pounded for a double, single and homer after two were out.

But the Angel skipper couldn't read the handwriting and he let Plitt stick around for another inning. That move cost two more runs. The wind-up was 6 to 5 in favor of the Senators.

A switch in time would have saved the ball game. Instead of being two games down to the Sacs this morning the Angels would be all square.

HOPPE LOSES DECISION TO JONES IN LEGION GO

Tommy Jones, another Georgia peach from Atlanta, lived up to all advance notices last night at the Hollywood American Legion, and gave the veteran Dick Hoppe a thorough thrashing. At the end of ten rounds Referee Lee raised Jones's hand without a bit of hesitation. The southern battler won eight rounds, Hoppe one, while one was even. Tommy used both his hands to good advantage, keeping his right in Hoppe's left eye most of the night.

Jimmy Piela got a typical Hollywood decision in the semi-wind-up. Ray Montoya really won the fight but Referee Steve Nyland gave the bout to Piela. The fans as usual raised quite an uproar, filling the ring with a downpour of programs, papers, etc.

Carmen Tuzmolini added another technical knockout victory to his growing string, by putting Eddie Gooty away in the fourth round of the special event. Gooty caught most of Carmen's blows with his nose, and when Referee Nyland stopped the affair, the Gooty blood was flowing freely. Matt Codan took a decision over Reggie Aguayo in one of the four-round preliminaries, while Pat Hayward beat Ferris Brown in the opener.

KANSAS RELAYS ON TAP TODAY

SEAL HOCKEY TEAM TRIMS VANCOUVER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19. (AP)—Outplayed at their own game of rushing mass play the Vancouver hockey team bowed to the San Francisco aggregation by a 3-to-1 score here tonight. Gaston Scott of San Francisco was the star scoring all three goals. Vancouver, champions of the Pacific Coast League, were credited by newspaper men with making their score on a fluke when Jerwa tossed the puck for the lone Vancouver score.

ROTARIANS TO PLAY AT FOX HILLS TODAY

Rotarian golfers, assembled here for their district conference will compete this morning over both eighteen - hole courses of the Fox Hills Country Club in a medal-play tournament.

New Grappling Kings Crowned

Four new wrestling champions were throned and two were reseated in the finals of the A.A.U. titular tourney, which concluded last night at the Hollywood Athletic Club.

Perry Martier of the H.A.C., captain of the 1924 Olympic team, successfully defended his title in the 160-pound class by defeating Al Hood of Long Beach in the feature match of the evening. Louis Ardounin of the L.A.A.C. was the only other title-holder to retain his laurels.

Those deposed were Peters Morgan of the L.A.A.C., 112-pound class; Glenn Cooper, unattached, 118-pounder; Jim Rivers, L.A.A.C., 147-pounder, and Allen Ferguson, H.A.C., 175-pound gladiator.

Results of the finals follow:

112 pounds—Claude Newman (H.A.C.) defeated George Tarumoto (Whittier High.)

118 pounds—R. C. Wrigley (L.A.A.C.) threw G. L. Cooper (unattached) 4m. 55s.

126 pounds—Ralph Bolton (L.A.Y.M.C.A.) defeated Lawrence Sharp (L.A.A.C.)

135-pounds—William Morphonos (L.A.A.C.) threw Ray Campbell (L.A.A.C.) 2m. 22s.

147 pounds—R. B. Robertson (S.D.Y.M.C.A.) defeated Sam Fisher (L.A.A.C.)

175 pounds—Marion Patty (L.A.A.C.) threw Alan Ferguson (H.A.C.) 8m. 30s.

Heavyweight—Louis Ardounin (L.A.A.C.) threw Frank French (S.D.A.C.) 7m. 50s.

HARDING NOSES OUT GARFIELD NINE, 2-1

Coach Fitzmaurice's Garfield Bulldogs lost a close decision to the Harding nine yesterday, the Warriors nosing out the Bulldogs 2-1.

The game was played at Garfield. A home-run in the second inning by Curtiss with one man on base won the game for Harding. Whitey Snider, star Warrior shucker struck out 16 batsmen, while Leo Ray, Garfield hurler, fanned 12.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Harvard	2	3	1

Snider and Shanaway; Leo Ray and Vernon Ray.

FRANKLIN NINE COPS

Coach Bill Loper's Franklin baseball nine trimmed the Loyola High team 7-2 yesterday on the Panther's diamond. The Franklin boys hammered the three Loyola pitchers hard. Sal Machuca hurled all the way for Franklin.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Franklin	7	6	4
Loyola	2	3	1

Machuca and McCue; Montane, Inkdrofer, Powers and Amestoy.

LOS SERRANOS EVENT STARTS

Stevens, Hensley Tie With 75's in Title Class

Constable Shoots Fine 73 to Lead Strong Field

Girard, Rancho Tournaments Get Under Way Today

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Frank Stevens, Jr., of Lakeside, who just last week won the Ojai invitational, is well on his way toward repeating in the Los Serranos 54-hole medal play tourney, which started yesterday.

Les Hensley of Long Beach shot a 75 to tie Stevens for honors in the scratch to 7-handicap class. Dick Smith of Riviera had a 76. E. D. Chamber, Dave Martin and Cliff Little shot 77's, and Paul Lavelle had a 79.

W. H. Constable, 21-year-old golfer of the Potrero Country Club, playing in the 8-to-13 handicap division, turned in a sparkling 73, par golf, to lead the entire field. He has a nine-stroke lead on his nearest competitor, S. J. Fellows, who shot an 82. L. M. Blackmer was next with an 83.

Between seventy-five and 100 golfers are expected to tee off today. The majority will play 36 holes tomorrow.

FOX HILLS GOLFERS DEFEAT POTRERO

"Bring on the next match."

That is the battle cry at the Fox Hills Country Club following their victory over Potrero Country Club, 34 matches to 30, in the second event of their home and home interclub play. A total of 148 golfers competed, 10 matches finishing all square. Potrero won by a three match margin at home, both events being played under handicap.

Manager Jess Puryear of Fox Hills has challenged Virginia Country Club of Long Beach, suggesting the first match be played at Virginia and the second over the new championship east links at Fox Hills, Potrero and Fox Hills used both courses yesterday. If Virginia and Fox Hills clash play will be at scratch with at least thirty golfers competing and the losing golfers will be hosts at dinner.

Bud Beckley and Danny Sangster of Potrero won low gross while Bob Robinson of Fox Hills was next with 77. Low net trophies went to Jack Thurmond, C. E. Freshwater and C. E. Paterson, all of Potrero, who tied with 67's. Results of the individual matches:

Jay Jacobs (F.H.) defeated A. E. Britton (P.) 3 and 1; J. W. English (F.H.) defeated Dr. Southworth (P.) 1 up; A. M. Carlson (F.H.) defeated C. Peterbaugh (P.) 2 and 1; Riley Hoeug (F.H.) defeated Cummindon (P.) all square; Dr. C. R. Manhart (F.H.) defeated Harry Schroeder (P.) 3 and 2; Guy Hanna (P.) defeated Dr. Hoeugman (P.) 2 and 1; Fred Ackerman (F.H.) defeated Dr. Wilson (P.) 2 up; Jack R. Baker (F.H.) defeated C. E. GIRARD TOURNEY IN FIRST ROUND TODAY

The first round of play in the club championship of the Girard Golf and Country Club will take place today and tomorrow. The defeat of sixteen in the championship flight will form the first or president's flight. Two or three matches in this championship flight stand out as being apt to be very close. The winner of the Victor Girard and Jack Chelew match will have to play very close to par. Howard Jones wil lbe hard pressed if he hopes to defeat young Bob Bechtelheimer. The vice-president's and secretary's flight will be played at handicap and in those two flights some matches will be watched with a great deal of interest. The match between young Bob Schmidt, who shows promise of developing into a very good golfer, and Ed Wickstrom should be close as should the match between his father, Mr. H. L. Schmidt, and Henry Dalton.

It is planned to hold one round of match play in all flights every week until the event is over.

PAIRINGS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

J. Johns vs. J. Harrington; A. L. Clark vs. Forrest Cornett; C. V. Beswar vs. W. E. Bechtelheimer; Dr. M. A. TELEPHONE COMPANY GOLFERS CLASH

More than 125 golfers of the Southern California Telephone Company have signed up for the qualifying rounds today and tomorrow of their spring tournament at the Montebello Park course. Match play will be started the following week.

The Standard Gasoline Company employees have arranged an eighteen-hole medal-play tournament for April 27 at Montebello, and the entry list now exceeds forty.

KEATING TAMES ANGELS

Solon Spitball Hurler Fans Ten and Sacs Annex 6-to-5 Triumph Over Seraph Squad

chalked up in the Sacramento win column. Keating, who had his spitter breaking sharply and was using a change of pace that kept the Seraph sluggers continually off balance, sent ten of the Angels back to the bench on strikes. That, in case anyone should ask you, is quite a few strikeouts for one afternoon.

TOO MUCH SALIVA

Keating's spitballs were so effective yesterday that Skipper Ryan is going to start another moist-ball hurler—Pudgy Gould—against the Angels today. Doc Crandall, also a spitball pitcher, previously had beaten the Angels this week so the Sacramento manager believes that the best recipe to beat the slugging Seraphs is saliva in generous proportions. In fact, Buddy is so enthused with the success of the veteran spitball pitchers during these slugging days that he announced he was going to try and get "Spider" Baum, the former pitcher who is now spitting only on the end of his pencil while performing his duties as secretary of the Hollywood Stars, to sign up and hurl a game against the Angels tomorrow.

Before the Seraphs get spitballed right out of the Coast League picture, we suggest that Prexy Joe Patrick order a lot of signs 'acked up at Wrigley Field strictly prohibiting any expectorating in the $1,250,000 baseball plant. It's worth a trial for there are still a number of people who believe in signs.

Anyhow, the Angels got only seven hits off Keating's salivaed offerings and were quite fortunate to score two of their five runs.

Deacon Plitt, the bespectacled right-hander, started on the mound for the Angels but petered out after pitching five innings of good ball. The wind also worked against Plitt's continued success, but it became evident to all but Marty Krug that the Deacon was showing signs of blowing up in the sixth. Before Krug discovered that Plitt wasn't what he should be, the Senators had come from behind and were leading, 6 to 3, after their turn at bat in the seventh.

PLITT FINALLY JERKED

Krug finally took Plitt out for a pinch hitter and Clyde Barfoot famed the Solons in the last two rounds, but it was too late then.

The Angels got off to a three-run lead in the fourth inning with the aid of three Sacramento errors. Only one of the runs was earned. Bobby Jones got a single to start the rally and Webb's infield out put him on second. Berger beat out a slow roller to Krasovich, putting Jones on third. Tolson hit a grounder down to short that French first fumbled and then threw away wut in right field in an effort to force Berger at second. Before the ball could be retrieved, Jones and Berger had scored and Tolson was on third. Jacobs fanned, for the first of three times, but Severeid missed the ball and had to throw Jake out at first. Jacobs and Camilli got tangled up at first and Tolson scored on the play. The Sacramento players claimed interference by Jacobs, but Umpires Casey and Chadbourne did not allow their claim.

Sacramento got its first run in the fifth when Severeid doubled to left center, took third on an infield out and scored on Hoag's sacrifice fly to Statz.

The wind took sides with the Solons in the sixth and three runs came over after two were out. Monroe began the excitement with a double and scored on Camilli's single to center. Harris then hit a towering fly that looked as though it would be easily caught by Webb. But the wind kept blowing the ball until it finally dropped into the bleachers and put the Sacs ahead, 4 to 3. Harris gave a puzzled look toward the bleachers when he was first informed that he'd hit a home run.

Plitt wobbled some more in the seventh, which opened with Osborne lifting one on the breeze for another home run into the bleachers. Krasovich's single, Keating's sacrifice and French's double brought over the last Sacramento run in the same inning.

ANGELS THREATEN

The Angels threatened in the eighth and managed to put over two runs on three hits, but Keating pitched his way out of difficulty. Statz tried to get out of the way of the ball, but it hit his bat and dropped on the right-field line for a double. With that lucky start the Angels started to go after Keating. Jones smashed a single to center and Statz went to third. Krug holding Jigger at the far corner rather than take any chances with Hoag's bullet arm. Webb hit a long one to left field, but the wind kept it from going over the fence and Osborn finally caught the ball after running uncertainly along the base of the fence. Statz came in after the catch. Berger doubled to left center to put the tying run on second. French threw out Dittmar, Jones scoring and Berger taking third, but Jacobs fanned for the third time, leaving the tying run stranded yet so near and yet so far.

PLAYGROUND BOYS HOLD SPOTLIGHT

Junior Olympic Events to be Run Today

Hundreds of youngsters in the Junior Olympic Games for Los Angeles playgrounds will compete today in elimination meets. Boys who qualify with high scores in today's competition will be entered in district meets to be held next week. Following this competition the youngsters will gather in a city-wide playground final, the best of which then to be entered in the Southern California finals.

Meets today are scheduled for the following playgrounds: Hazard, South Park, Verdugo, Pacoima, Yosemite, Echo Park, Hazard, State-street and Vineyard.

Johnny Falcon, national amateur champion last year, will be present at several playgrounds today. He will show the boys how to perform the five events on the program. Falcon will be accompanied by his coach, Ivan Bell of Ames. Johnny is not eligible for competition this year, but he is still vitally interested in what's going on.

their half to sew up the contest.

With the exception of the fourth inning, Dihel twirled great ball. He was master of the situation at all times. He received brilliant support. In the sixth frame, Bob Tarchone and Kreiger of the Trojans robbed Thomas, Kasper and Fischer of hits on three scorching drives, with sensational catches. Doug Hanby, Bing Boswell and Ward Ward all collected a pair of hits for the locals.

Simas, visiting catcher, suffered a broken hand in the seventh inning, and was replaced by Kasper. Simas is out for the rest of the season. The box score:

MISSIONS WIN AGAIN FROM PORTLAND

PORTLAND (Ore.) April 19.—The Missions made it four straight today over Portland, despite a wonderful pitching exhibition by Haffey of the Beavers, who allowed a home run and a single in three times at bat, struck out four and quelled both Boone and Hall's fast ball hurling. The score was 5 to 2. The game was held to a half-hour by a driving rain which struck the field in the ninth inning. The score:

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 19. (AP)—The Yankee Cornelius McGillicuddy reminded the Yankee Stadium today that he finds the yoke of baseball management waiting for him just as it was when he left the game. Connie Mack, one of baseball's most successful managers, was back in the harness today as the glare of a World series championship once more played upon the features of John Pierpont Quinn, starting his twenty-sixth season as a baseball pilot.

SUN BLINDS HAAS

The Yankees shaded the House of Mack by 2 to 1, but it required a well pitched, four-hit game by Waite Hoyt to turn the trick. Even Hoyt would have been insufficient support for the battling work of fire that spurted through the back of Connie Mack Stadium into the eyes of Mule Haas in the seventh and sent the sun crept beyond the banks of the Hudson.

In the seventh Quinn had added an extra scratch single—by the way, he was the only Yankee to get a hit after the second—no Yankee had advanced beyond first base and only three had gone that far, as a result of perfect pitching by Hoyt and Haas, who accepted fly to Ruth by Haas in the sixth.

Ruth had opened the seventh with a weak infield roller, which he fanned an easy fly to short left. The sun played a stream of fire across the vision of Haas, and the ball fell at his feet, good for a double because of Gehrig's presence on second. Almost before the ovation created by 20,000 fans had died away, Meusel drove Gehrig with a double to the right field corner.

Two hits were not enough, it proved again in the eighth. Grabowski, Hoyt had gone out when Haas hit the one which Haas also failed to run for a double. Miller Huggins sent into center field, but Haas dropped a single into a corner at Barry, scoring Meusel with what proved to be the winning run.

BUT FIVE BLOWS

The Yankees totaled only five hits off the veteran Quinn, hardly able to vie with the sort of attack to which the champions had resigned through their lack of heavy cannonading. Connie Mack has the satisfaction of seeing that his opponents will not get such stiff box work as displayed today—and he will have one more chances to redeem last year's verdict of six victories and sixteen defeats. SOX ANNEX

ST. LOUIS, April 19. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns lost their first game of the season today, the Chicago White Sox taking the final of a two-game series, 5 to 4. The Sox were held hitless until the eighth, when Sewell and Metzler hit home runs. Two runs coming with one on and two out in the ninth from the mound. Blankenship and Kamm knotted the count. Then in the ninth Sewell and Metzler worked a double steal, Gaudi coming home with the winning run. Score:

TIGERS SLAPPED

CLEVELAND (O.) April 19. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians came from behind in the last three innings to snatch a 7-to-4 victory from the Detroit Tigers today. The decision gave the Tribe the series, three games out of four.

Vic Sorrell, Detroit right-hander, did not allow a man to reach first base in the first five innings, but weakened in the sixth and seventh and finally gave way to Prudhomme. Except for one inning in which the Tigers reached him for three hits, and as many runs, Willis Hudlin was effective.

The Indian infield hung up three more double plays, bringing their total to eleven in four games. The score:

PHILS CLUBBED

PHILADELPHIA, April 19. (AP)—The Giants pounded the Phillies for the second successive game to take a 14-to-5 victory. The heavy hitting of the New Yorkers was the only feature of the game. They hammered out twenty hits off Roy, Elliott and Collins starting off with seven runs in the opening inning. Jimmy Welsh contributed a homer to this onslaught. The Phils got three runs in their half of the first, added another on Cy Williams's homer in the sixth and one more in the seventh.

The game was marred somewhat by a near-battle in the Giants' dugout. Don Hurst, Philadelphia first baseman, went after Harry Kelly on the bench. They were pulled apart and Hurst was banished from the game.

BRAVES BEST

BOSTON, April 19. (AP)—The Braves celebrated Patriots' Day by riding rough shod over the Brooklyn Robins in morning and afternoon games. The morning decision was taken by 6 to 5. The winning run crossed the plate with one out in the ninth, when Bissonette fumbled Richborough's grounder and let Hearn score from third.

Some 20,000 fans saw the afternoon contest, in which Ed Brandt held the flock to three hits. The Braves won by 5 to 1. Dazzy Vance was the losing pitcher. Score:

REDS RAPPED

CINCINNATI (O.) April 19. (AP)—Hafey's two home runs featured today's game here, in which the Cardinals defeated the Reds, 9 to 4. The first of the circuit blows came in the sixth with none on and was driven over the scoreboard in left center, the first time the feat ever was accomplished. The second was in the ninth with one on base. Both teams fielded raggedly and received poor pitching. Pittenger starred at bat for the Reds with three singles. Ford, leading fielding shortstop last year, made two errors. Score:

BARRON TO TAKE ON CRUIZE TONIGHT

Dario Barron, included among the three leading Mexican lightweights, meets Benny Cruize, 22-year-old Boston Italian, tonight at the Main Street Athletic Club. Cruize, making his first western ring appearance, is conceded an excellent chance to beat Barron. Cruize has lost four decisions in thirty-seven starts, drew with Benny Bass, beat Billy Petrolle and lost a close verdict to Honeyboy Finnegan.

Manuel Trevino tackles the Pacific fleet's leading bantam, Filipino Joe Gonzales, in the semi-wind-up. Kewpie Hernandez, with eleven straight wins to his credit, faces Dick Chang, Chinese 115-pounder. There are three other preliminaries.

POMONA PREPS WIN OVER REDLANDS, 7-2

REDLANDS, April 19.—Pomona High School won the first Citrus Belt League baseball game here this afternoon from Redlands by a score of 7 to 2. Bulldog errors contributed largely to the score, for the eight hits that Pomona got were well scattered, and wild throws did the work. There were two home runs during the game, Bauer getting one for Redlands and Afflerbaugh one for Pomona. Hotsinger, the Pomona pitcher, struck out seventeen Redlands batters. The score was:

	R.	H.	E.
Redlands	2	5	1

Hotsinger and Decker; Villeras and Barker.

CON O'KELLY FINISHED UP BY MALONEY

Boston Heavyweight Stops Irishman in Third Round of New York Bout

NEW YORK, April 19.—Jim Maloney of Boston, 203 1-2 pounds, won a technical knockout victory over Con O'Kelly of Ireland, 193, in their third meeting at the Coliseum here tonight. Referee Tommy Sheridan stopped the fight after fifty-two seconds of fighting in the third round, awarding the decision to the rejuvenated Bostonian.

The attendance was estimated at 10,000 with receipts, also estimated, at $30,000.

CONCRETE UNITS EFFECT MERGER

Marbelite Subsidiary Joins With Two Companies

New Products and National Sales Field Loom

Consolidation Made Without Additional Financing

Marbelite Corporation of Illinois, subsidiary of the Marbelite Corporation of America, has consolidated with the American Concrete Products Company and the Chicago Concrete Post Company, it was announced here yesterday following a meeting of directors of the parent organization at which the merger was ratified.

Under the plans of the consolidation, which, it is stated, will involve no additional financing, a new company will be formed to be known as the American Marbelite Corporation. Marbelite Corporation of America, the parent company, will own approximately 50 per cent of the capital stock of the new company, and will be well represented on the board of directors as well as in the management.

The new company is to capitalize under the laws of Illinois with an authorized issue of 25,000 shares of no par value common stock. All three companies will use Marbelite patents in connection with the manufacture of street-lighting standards.

With the consolidation in effect, officials believe that a much broader market will be established at once as several other concrete products finding wide favor are now being manufactured by the companies coming into the merger. Marbelite Corporation of America announced early this month the development of two entirely new products which is expects to place on the market shortly.

Marbelite Corporation of America was formed in Los Angeles in 1922 under the laws of Delaware, and is listed on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. The preferred stock has an 8 per cent dividend record extending back five years, while dividends of 8 per cent annually have been paid on the common for the last four years.

The common stock was recently split up three-for-one, and the par value reduced from $25 a share to no par. The company's old stock has sold at an average of around double the par value for several years. A dividend has not yet been declared on the new stock.

Marbelite Corporation of Illinois was formed by the parent company last year and began operations in Illinois about April 1, 1928.

SOUTHERN CONTINENT LURE TOLD

South America Declared Field of Opportunity by Investment Banker

South America is on the threshold of an era in which American investment capital will flow into its industries and utilities as European capital flowed into the United States, following the Civil War, J. C. Lutweiler, New York investment banker, told a group of Los Angeles bond dealers yesterday noon at the Biltmore. Mr. Lutweiler, who is the president of Baker, Kellogg & Co., Inc., was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Charles S. Thomas, vice-president of George H. Burr, Conrad & Broom.

More than $1,000,000,000 of American capital is now invested in South American enterprises, Mr. Lutweiler said. These investments have been made by such companies as United Fruit, the Guggenheims, American and Foreign Power, Bethlehem Steel, Armour & Co., and numerous other well-known American corporations. Investments in the securities of South American companies is only beginning, however, and he predicted that American investors will find profitable opportunities in the bonds and the equity securities of South American companies.

In every country on the southern continent, Mr. Lutweiler told his audience, are numerous possibilities for consolidation and development of companies in which the common stocks will have an attractive future. Chain stores, gas utilities, light and power companies, steam railroads, electric railroads and telephone companies were among the opportunities he mentioned.

Preceding Mr. Lutweiler on the program, John R. Mott, Los Angeles attorney who accompanied President Hoover on his preinauguration tour of South America, briefly outlined some of the aspects of trade and commerce in the southern republics.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19. (AP)—Many of the market favorites moved into higher ground on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today, the industrials standing out in relief in trading.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, April 19. (Exclusive)—Bearish sentiment still reflecting the unfavorable statistical position in crude rubber brought quit more selling of futures on the New York Rubber Exchange today. Selling which emanated from speculative sources and stimulated by a further drop in the foreign markets, took prices down from 50 to 60 points in an active trading session. In the near positions May sold down to 19.50c, but rallied 10 points at the close. Sales were 1814 contracts, or 4535 long tons.

London was dull, with spot showing a loss of 1-64 at 9 9-16d. Outside spot declined ⅛c to 19¼c.

COSMETICS NEW OIL UNIT

Standard of New Jersey Buys Concern Making Cold Creams; By-products Numerous

BY EARLE B. CROWE

Stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey may be surprised to learn that their company will shortly become a manufacturer of cold creams and toilet preparations. On first thought this seems a strange departure from the business of producing and refining petroleum, but actually there is an intimate connection. Oil companies are as much interested in cosmetics for women as meat packers are in laundry soap.

From the multitude of industrial oils obtained in the refining of petroleum is one used as the base for the manufacture of cold creams and cosmetics. The petroleum companies have been selling this grade of oil to the cosmetic makers for years on which a satisfactory profit is made because of the enormous sale in this country of cosmetic preparations. And now the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, knowing of this huge volume of business, proposes to harvest not only the profit from the raw material, but from the finished product itself.

Daggett & Ramsdell, Inc., well-known manufacturer and distributor of cold creams and cosmetics, is the company that Standard of New Jersey will absorb if permission is given by the court for the transfer by trustees of the entire capital stock.

TREND IS NEW

Only recently have oil companies gone into the complete manufacture and sale of by-products, although for years they have been manufacturing and selling the essential raw materials to a wide variety of specialty manufacturers. Not long ago, as an indication of the trend, the Royal Dutch-Shell group acquired control of the Flintkote Company, manufacturers of asphalt shingles and roofing. Oil companies are the chief source of supply for the raw material.

Finished products now manufactured by the large oil companies from refinery by-products include a range of articles not generally appreciated. The volume of oil or grease represented in these products is not large, but the total annual sales of merchandise run up into respectable figures.

For the household the oil companies manufacture and sell furniture polish, fly spray, insecticides, cleaning fluid, floor dressing, household lubricating oil, candles, medicinal oils, etc. They also make and sell petroleum wax, marking crayons, harness oil, shingle oil, automobile polish, cigarette lighter fluid, and roof paint.

CANDY MAKERS SERVED

To various industrial users are sold flushing oils, tanners' oils, wool oils, spring oil, hand separator oil, battery sealing compound, etc. Petroleum ether is made for watchmakers to clean delicate instruments; crystal oil for candy and bread makers to prevent stickiness, and soap oils for the manufacture of soap.

Asphalt is furnished to shingle and roofing manufacturers, and to road builders; road oil for country roads, cleaning fluid to cleaners, fuel oil to industrial establishments, Diesel oil for Diesel engines, and industrial oils for ice machines, turbines, marine engines, etc.

As the petroleum industry becomes more stabilized the companies will devote more time and energy to complete control of the by-products business. The time may come when the revenue from these products may rival the profits from some of the main operating divisions, but at this stage of development the chief concern is gasoline first, then fuel and then lubricants.

F. E. Sanford Gets Position With Exchange

F. E. Sanford, sales manager for Dean Witter & Co., has been appointed assistant secretary of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, John Earle Jardine, president, announced yesterday. The appointment is effective May 1.

Mr. Sanford will succeed Carl P. Miller, who last week was appointed secretary and manager to fill the position resigned by Norman B. Courteney. Mr. Courteney will shortly become executive manager for E. A. Pierce & Co., in Southern California.

Before joining Dean Witter & Co., Mr. Sanford was sales manager for Blyth, Witter & Co., and also served as department manager for Blake, Moffitt & Towne paper company. He has been a member of the board of governors of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association for the last five years and is assistant secretary of the Southern California section of the American Chemical Society. His experience in the investment banking business covers eleven years.

Gold Ace Mine Stock on Curb

Capital stock of the Gold Ace Mining Company has been approved for listing and will be called for trading today on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange, Philip S. Leo, secretary and manager of the exchange, announced yesterday. There are 1,000,000 shares of 25 cents par value outstanding.

Property of the company lies at Carrara, Nev., on the Tonopah and Tidewater Railroad. Six tons of ore now being shipped to the United States Smelting and Refining Company is expected to return $50,000, or enough to retire bank loans and accounts payable, G. Ray Boggs, president stated. A mill with 100 tons daily capacity will be in operation soon and should net the company in ore blocked out, $15,000 to $20,000 monthly, he asserted.

RATIFY CAPITAL INCREASE

NEW YORK, April 19. (Exclusive)—Stockholders of the National Bank of Commerce of New York today approved the increase in capital from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 preparatory to the merger with the Guaranty Trust Company.

ACTIVITY ON WOOL MART SHOWS GAIN

Weekly Survey Reports Increase in Buying as Prices Ease Down

BOSTON, April 19. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

There has been rather more business the last ten days in wool in consequence of further price concessions, which have been most pronounced on medium wools. These latter wools are evidently receding to normal price parity with fine wools.

Further buying of medium clips in Idaho to a limited extent is reported at 32 to 34 cents chiefly. In Ohio and Michigan buying is reported at 35 to 40 cents for medium and 30 to 33 cents for fine wools, according to the lot.

Foreign markets are generally steady with moderate demand Yorkshire is barely firm on Merinos.

The manufacturing position is hardly changed. Business moves moderately.

Mohair is dull. Bids for 275,000 pounds at Brackettsville, Tex., Tuesday, all rejected at maximum of 50 cents for adult and 60 cents for kid.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1929, to April 17, 1929, inclusive, were 56,297,000 pounds, against 58,515,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1929, to April 17, 1929, inclusive, were 69,302,800 pounds, against 72,699,800 pounds for the same period last year.

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations tomorrow:

MITCHELL PROPOSAL APPROVED

Abolition of Income Tax on Capital Gain Viewed Favorably on Street

NEW YORK, April 19. (Exclusive) Wall-street banking quarters gave a generally favorable response today to the suggestion by Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank, that abolition of the Federal income tax on capital gains would afford a solution of the credit problem.

Coupled with their approval, however, was the comment that it would be difficult to make Mr. Mitchell's proposal effective because a revision of the tax laws by Congress would be necessary. Banks were of the opinion that it would prove difficult to obtain affirmative action by Congress should the plan ever be brought before that body in the form of a bill.

Bankers who discussed the Mitchell proposal preferred to speak anonymously. One well-known banker head of a large commercial banking institution, said that he heartily commended the proposed abolition of the capital tax as the United States with the possible exception of Canada is the only country in the world which levies such a tax. He also commented that the recommendations of the National City bank president were in line with principles originally enunciated by Secretary Mellon.

Steel Concerns Show Big Gains During Quarter

NEW YORK, April 19. (Exclusive)—Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, Acme Steel Company and the Pittsburgh Steel Company reported March quarter earnings today far in advance of profits for the same quarter last year.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube net income totaled $4,430,316, the highest for any quarter on record, and equal to within 78 cents a share of the entire annual dividend requirements of $5 a share on 1,000,000 shares of no par common outstanding, or at the annual rate of $16.58 a share. In the same period last year, $1,663,515, or $1.43 a share was earned.

Acme Steel Company earned $788,034, equal to $2.67 a share on 274,437 shares of $25 par value capital stock against $460,576, or $2.51 a share on 182,958 shares for the first quarter of 1928.

Net profits of the Pittsburgh Steel Company totaled $2,333,661, after preferred dividends, equal to $4.54 a share on $253,500 shares of common stock. This compares with $637,449 in the preceding quarter, and $905,822 in the September quarter. The company did not issue quarterly reports before the September quarter.

NEW GROUP ENTERS OIL INDUSTRY

Formation of Company to Take Over Miley's Holdings Announced

Formation of a new oil company to take over the assets of the Miley Oil Company and personal belongings of E. J. Miley, president of the concern, was announced yesterday. With new oil property that will be included in the deal, the company will have a daily production of between 5000 and 6000 barrels, according to Mr. Miley.

New financing in connection with the deal will be handled by Clifford De Lorme, who has just announced his resignation from Bradford Kimball & Co., to become vice-president and treasurer of the Miley concern. Mr. De Lorme went to San Francisco yesterday and on his return will complete the details of the new financing.

No public offering is contemplated at the present time, Mr. Miley said. The name of the company will be made public later. The new deal does not involve the Miley Petroleum Exploration Company, nor does it include any other companies except the Miley Oil Company, Mr. Miley stated. The new concern, which will be operated as a producing company marketing crude oil, will have holdings in most of the major oil fields in California.

Mr. Miley said that the recent proposed merger with the Gilmore Oil Company was definitely out of the picture. Several weeks ago the attempt to consolidate these two companies and the Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation failed and resulted in a lawsuit being filed against Irving Augur, president of the latter company.

London Market Tone Cheerful

LONDON, April 19. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a cheerful tone today but trading on the whole was on a small scale. Industrial securities were steady and talking-machine issues quiet. Artificial silk had a better tone and textiles were quiet. Dunlops were harder and Chemical Securities steady. Oil issues were quiet and mining securities steady. Rubbers had an easier tone and Ford Motors, Ltd., held around £3 3-4.

The gilt-edge division was well supported. Home rails were lower and Argentines quiet. Canadian Pacific issues were higher. Foreign securities were quiet.

Erkes on Bank Clearing Board

H. R. Erkes, vice-president and chairman of the board of management of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association at Los Angeles, has been elected a member of the executive committee of the Los Angeles Clearing-house Association, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Erkes succeeds J. F. Sartori, president of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, who recently resigned because of the pressure of other affairs.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 19. (AP)—Early advances in cotton today on steadier Liverpool cables and some uncertainty as to weather developments over the week-end were followed by reactions under a renewal of near-month liquidation which appeared to be combined with some local and southern selling. The mid-afternoon market was quiet at net declines of about 3 to 7 points.

ADVERTISING GIVEN BOOST

Rail Head Stresses Value of Publicity in Address Before Foreign Trade Conference

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—David Leslie Brown told the foreign trade conference that to build American business in foreign lands not only goods of merit must be sold at reasonable prices, and handled in a way satisfactory to the peoples of each country, but they must be backed up by advertising and constantly more advertising.

"Advertising," he said, "is the fuel, the gasoline of business—the motion power."

Mr. Brown's wide experience in foreign countries convinces him American methods of advertising will doubtless be those other nations will follow.

What American goods are the most popular in Europe? Automobiles, tires, sewing machines, typewriters, cameras, adding machines, fountain pens, cigarettes and soap are a few. The biggest selling brand of soap, even in France, today is an American soap. It is advertising, on the American plan, that has made it known.

"If anything," Mr. Brown said, "advertising abroad pays better than over here." He advises American business men to back up foreign distributors in a whole-hearted way.

"When profit and loss looks sick in the export business," he said, "look for remedies in savings—but not in advertising budget."

Latin America holds the greatest promise for the foreign trade of the United States, according to Lawrence A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central system.

Coming from the head of the only distinctively north-and-south railroad in the United States, touching Chicago and New Orleans, and all important points between, such statement is important.

Mr. Downs is a thorough believer in Latin-American commerce. He has studied its growth.

The handicaps which the United States worked under in South America in the early days are largely gone. Today the United States has its own banking facilities in Latin America, its own telegraph and radio systems, and is a large investor in the mines, public utilities and railroads of Latin America.

"There are now as many United States dollars at work in Venezuela alone, as there were in the entire South American continent sixteen years ago," said Mr. Downs.

At that time, only 8 per cent of our commerce with South America was carried in United States vessels. In 1926 the figure was 46 per cent.

"Latin America is turning to the United States today as this country turned toward Europe three-quarters of a century ago. The people of Latin America need our markets as we need theirs. They need our capital to build their railroads and highways, to improve their cities and their ports and to develop their natural resources. The situation is ideal for co-operation that will redound to the self-interest of us all," said Mr. Downs.

This railroad executive was born in Greencastle, Ind. He is a graduate in engineering of Purdue University. He went into railroading after graduation, and moved up in it until he reached the presidency of the Illinois Central. His home is Chicago.

Some years ago I was talking to Henry L. Doherty in his magnificent apartments on the top of one of the downtown New York skyscrapers. He was running over the keys of his pipe organ for his own amusement. He played by ear and not by note.

We got to talking about home life.

"I have been so absorbed in my work all my life that I have had no time to think of getting married," said the public utility magnate. "It just seems that when I have finished one job there is another one waiting. There are so many things to be done and so little time to do them. I guess that's the answer."

An out-of-town business man arrived as I was leaving, and that was long after midnight. But the pace he set did finally tell on him.

Two years ago Henry Doherty became a very sick man. He went to Battle Creek, Mich. There he remained for two years with a severe case of arthritis.

The announcement of his marriage to Mrs. Percy Eames, who had nursed him through this two-year illness, the only illness of his life, has just been made.

Mr. Doherty, now 58 years of age, is one of the outstanding men in the field of public utilities, street railways, oil, gas and electricity. He is considered one of the richest men in the United States.

ASSETS OF FINANCE CONCERN INCREASE

Assets at cost of Incorporated Investors, investment company, reached a total of $29,126,709 as of March 31, last, representing an increase for the quarter of $10,161,430, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company. The market value over cost value has increased from about $6,000,000 to more than $8,000,000 during the period.

Wheat Up After Sagging to New Low for Season

CHICAGO, April 19, (Exclusive)—Liquidation by longs was on in the grain markets early, with May wheat selling down to 1.15½, a new low for the season, and off 1¾c from the close of Thursday, while all deliveries of rye were in new ground on the crop. Stop-loss orders were caught on the break, but short covering appeared in volume and all grains rallied sharply from the inside figures, with wheat off ⅛@¼c at the last, May being 1.17¼@1.16⅞. July 1.21@1.20⅝ and September 1.23⅝@1.23⅜. Corn was ¼c lower on May at 91¾@91⅝, while July was unchanged to 95@95⅛ and September ¼c higher at 96¼. Oats were ⅛c lower to ¼c higher, May being 48, July 45⅞ and September 43¾. Rye failed to rally and closed 1¼@2¾c lower, with May 95⅛, July 97⅛ and September 97⅛.

Disappointment over the farm-relief bill, the breakdown of the reparations meeting and a sharp drop in the price of German marks were factors that induced longs in wheat to let go freely, as well as further rains in the Southwest and weakness in Liverpool. Support was lacking early, but the decline of 7⅛@8¾c from the high of Monday resulted in a stronger technical position and caused many of the local element, who have been bearish, to take the buying side, and there was also aggressive commission-house buying at times. A feature was the heavy selling of May and buying of July at 3⅛@4c, in part representing changing over by longs. Northwestern wheat markets showed strength with Winnipeg closing unchanged to ⅛c higher, and May there finished 6¾c over Chicago, the greatest difference of the season. Minneapolis was ⅝@⅞c higher and Duluth durum ⅛@¼c higher for the day. Export demand at the seaboard was fair, with sales of 300,000 to 600,000 bushels in all positions. Liverpool lost 1¼@1¾d for the day, with increasing pressure of unsold Argentine wheat afloat a factor. Buenos Aires surprised the trade and closed ⅛@¾c higher.

Weakness in the North American cash wheat situation is attracting attention. A Duluth message claimed that so far only about 7,000,000 bushels vessel room had been chartered for loading at Montreal up to the end of May and there have been repeated claims that eastern and Canadian ports would be congested shortly after the big movement from the head of the lakes gets under way.

Canadian exportable surplus on March 31 was officially estimated at 96,000,000 to 112,000,000 bushels after allowing for bread, seed and carryover requirements.

While corn was lower at the opening in sympathy with wheat, there was a good class of buying and the market rallied sharply, with cash interests absorbing part of the offerings in the pit. Shipping demand was good and sales 180,000 bushels, while receipts are small and weather conditions over the belt unfavorable for field work, and further rain was expected overnight. Buenos Aires closed ½c lower.

Liquidation was on in May oats early and the market dropped sharply, with the loss recovered later, the East buying May and selling September. Trade in rye was light.

Provisions failed to show much change in price despite a brisk trade. A concern with foreign connections bought September lard freely and the selling was by packers and cash interests. Receipts of hogs were 19,000 and prices at the yards ruled steady.

OIL NEWS

BY EDWARD C. KEGLEY

Lunacle area, which continues to baffle the attempts of operators to discover its limits, is on the verge of another effort to discover an extension to the westward.

Two wildcats drilling on the edge of it, and now a wildcat site is staked on the east side. The first will be made in a test that was drilled by the Circle Oil Company in 1926. This test is to shoot 4200 feet, and when operations suspended, the deepest was ever filed.

Yesterday it was reported drillers were starting to shoot for the purpose of going into the hole.

The first No. 1, as the test is known, is due west of the Lunacle oil field, and due north of the old Gardena field. It is some little distance from the Union Oil Company's Wilmington field, which is scheduled to shoot 6850 feet, and is the extension of the Torrance field several years ago, which proved to be a "duster."

It is reported that in March, 1927, a well was drilled was quitclaimed to Harold R. Morrison.

Drilling

Producer No. 2 well of the Signal Petroleum Corporation, one mile south on the north dome at Seal Beach, has resumed drilling ahead.

The well came in three weeks ago from approximately 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas and making a few barrels of high-grade oil in spots. Considerable difficulty was encountered in killing it and it blew for some time before the flow of gas could be checked.

The well is considered a certain producer. It is seven miles southwest of the Millham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 1 well, on which drilling is to be resumed from 7230 feet and is expected to find a few barrels of oil a day.

Shooting

Shooting of Producer No. 1 well of the Signal Petroleum Company at Santa Fe Springs yesterday made a successful shot-off test at 7565 feet, and below it to 7760 feet, and below that a production test. The well is now in deep tests in the northwest corner of the field, one of the deepest in the district.

Drilling Summary

The average oil production at Santa Fe Springs is 134,500 barrels daily, produced by 123 wells in the field.

Twenty-four wells are drilling, forty are idle, six are abandoned. There are 135 active wells in the field.

Two Wells

Signal Drilling and Producing Company yesterday took over Lease No. 1 and No. 2 wells on Block No. 416, in Seal Beach townsite, and are now producing from the sand. Norwest No. 1 well is being drilled immediately and

LINE ON STOCK MARKET EASIER

Standard eased at 118 1-4 on the curb, pending an issue of stock for retirement of preferred under consideration. Directors of the company will meet here Tuesday to consider an increase in the dividend rate from $4 to $6 also the question of paying United States Steel extra for a time, but the latter was unchanged.

FOURTH GAINS

Chrysler was among selling up 2 points to a record price of 70 1-4, a new high of its gain of 3 1-2 points. Telephone was firm in pronounced fashion, a block of 10 points to 180 changing hands. It closed, however, 2 points off its best. American Telephone also moved to a record price of 319.

Radio was again a feature in the oils, climbing 3 points. New Haven moved up 2 points on its earnings statement. Radio sold up about 4 points, but lost most of its gain. Some of the amusement issues were in good demand, Stanley Company and Keith-Albee preferred mounted 7 and 83 points. Union Car, United States Distributors, Commercial Solvents and Columbian Carbon also moved substantially higher.

Coppers again turned heavy, Anaconda, Greene Cananea, and Calumet & Arizona losing 2 or 3 points. A number of recent favorites yielded to profit taking, including American Can, Hershey Chocolate, United States Industrial Alcohol, Indian Refining and Ingersoll Rand, losing from 2 to 6 points. Allied Chemical sagged 6 points, and Crex Carpet added 7 points to its 17-point loss of yesterday, getting down to 33. National Lead, Goodyear and Graham Paige were under pressure.

Commodity markets were easy. Wheat dropped about 2 cents a bushel, then rallied on reports of better export demand. Cotton futures closed barely steady as some selling came into the market on reports of better weather. Sugar futures sagged slightly.

Foreign exchanges sagged somewhat on pessimistic reports over the reparations conference, but on cables later in the day indicating the negotiations would be resumed, improved. German marks dropped below 23.69 cents, then rallied to about 23.70. Sterling cables were a shade lower at $4.85 5-16.

California oranges generally were sold on higher or unchanged markets at eastern and middle western auction centers yesterday with, however, a noticeable trend toward lower prices at some points. Lemons found less favorable markets and were reported lower at a number of centers. Other market reports indicated conditions ranging from unchanged to spottedly higher and lower to higher. A holiday resulted in suspension of sales at Boston for yesterday.

Analysis of trading developed the following price range per box:

LOS ANGELES HARBOR

BIDDING ON OIL CARRIERS BRISK

More Than Score Submitted to Shipping Board

Offer of Antietam Company $2,649,000 on Lot

Tender of Basis of Tonnage Highest Ever Made

BY WALDO DRAKE

With a tender of $2,649,000, the highest offer ever made for Shipping Board cargo tonnage, the Antietam Steamship Corporation of Philadelphia, yesterday was high bidder at Washington for the last five units of the Shipping Board's tanker fleet, which at one time numbered 143 vessels. Award of the five tankers—the Meton, Dilworth, Hagan, Baldbutte and Baldhill—is expected to be made by the board to the Philadelphia firm today.

More than a score of oil companies on both coasts, including three Los Angeles concerns, submitted bids for the vessels, which have heretofore been reserved from sale by the Shipping Board as the best of its once great oil fleet. Antietam's offer amounts to $529,800 per ship, or $55.60 per ton, the five units aggregating 47,641 deadweight tons.

It is reported reliably in local shipping circles that the five tankers will be placed in Los Angeles-Philadelphia fuel oil and gasoline service by the Atlantic Refining Company, at present maintaining a powerful tanker fleet in North Atlantic trade out of this port.

All five ships have previously operated out of this port, though the Dilworth, now en route here from Manila under charter to the States Line of Portland, is the only one in active service. The Baldhill and Baldbutte are laid up at Mobile, the Hagan at New York and the Meton at San Francisco.

DEPARTURE OF FILM EXPEDITION DELAYED

An expedition for film novelties into the South Seas and Dutch East Indies and consuming a year will leave Los Angeles next month in Frances P. Graves's fisherman-type schooner Pasqualito. Capt. George Kliebengatt, former master of Zane Grey's Fisherman, will pilot the fifty-five-foot craft, on which will be Graves, Frederick W. Murnau, film director, and several assistants. The expedition was to get under way next week, but Capt. Kliebengatt fell between the dock and the ship yesterday and broke his leg.

After cruising the South Sea Islands, the party will sail for Bali, in the Dutch East Indies and other islands seeking the wild pigmies, whose very existence is mere hearsay.

The craft will be renamed the Bali, and registered under the German flag. She has just been reconditioned and rerigged at the yards of Garbutt & Walsh.

Reminiscent of the days of sail was the arrival of the Erskine M. Phelps, from Oleum yesterday. She came in as barge for the Union Oil Company without rigging, and under tow by the Red Stack tug Sea Lion, but in her prime she was as proud a full-rigged ship as sailed the seas. That was in the years following her building at Bath, Me., in 1892, when she circled Cape Horn for the Lowell line. Several old salts have sailed on her, including Capt. Will Curtis, who was her master three years and who was among the first to go aboard her. Union Oil Company acquired her in 1913 and for three years sailed her to Hawaii before converting her into a barge, for the short haul between Port San Luis and Oleum. She was brought to help relieve excess storage here, and sailed for Oleum last night with 32,000 barrels of crude oil.

More than 130 passengers will sail for Hawaii at noon today on the Lasco flagship City of Los Angeles, which also will take out several thousand tons of Southland products. Among the travelers will be C. C. Hildebrand, one-time manager of the Ford Motor Company of Detroit; J. A. King, sales manager for Marshall Field & Co., Chicago; H. E. Webster, attorney of Buffalo, and George H. Downing, retired capitalist of Los Angeles. The Diamond Head of the same line is due with 3600 tons of molasses, sugar, honey and pineapples from the Islands Monday, and will disembark fifteen passengers.

W. P. Maggio's motorship Hermosa has forsaken the fish trade temporarily, and will sail today under a trip charter to West Mexico for tomatoes. Anent fruit movements, the Royal Mail steamer Lochmonar will sail for United Kingdom today with 30,000 boxes of citrus fruit, and the Furness motorship Pacific Trader will bring in 25,000 bunches of Panama bananas tomorrow.

Lasco's six liners served almost 2,000,000 meals last year, according to Frank Burns, port steward, and E. F. Miller, purchasing agent. The whole world contributes. There are caviar from Russia, sardines from Norway, cheese from Europe, chutney and spices from India, and hundreds of items from America's larder. One cruise to Hawaii required 1000 pounds of turkey, 750 of geese, 500 of ducks, 300 gallons of ice cream and upwards of a ton of coffee and tea. One of the line's biggest orders will be for the approaching cruise of sixty-four days around South America.

The sixty-five-foot fishing boat Minnie F, owned by Antone Kovich, ignited from a backfire of her engines, burned and sank off Avalon Thursday, according to word yesterday. Antone Parica and Mat Butorovich escaped in a dory and rowed three miles to Avalon. The loss is $7000.

Landslide for School Bonds in San Gabriel

SAN GABRIEL, April 10.—Voters of the San Gabriel Elementary School District today approved a $65,000 school bond issue by the overwhelming majority of 526 to 34.

The funds will be used to erect a new school in the Clarence-avenue district, build an auditorium and other additions at the Washington school, and purchase equipment for the Lincoln school.

This district now has 1200 children, an increase of 60 per cent within the last five years.

ARIZONA'S GAS TAX COLLECTIONS JUMP

PHOENIX, April 19. (AP)—Showing a net increase of $17,372.90 over the previous month's revenue, March collections of the 4-cent motor fuel tax amounted to $206,176.45 after all deductions and allowances have been made, according to announcement by the motor vehicle division of the State Highway Department. February collections netted $188,803.55, a comparison reveals. The State's five-eighths portion is $128,860.19 with $77,316.26 to be divided among the counties as their three-eighths share of the revenue.

Bills Passed by Assembly

SACRAMENTO, April 19. (AP)—The Assembly passed only three bills today:

Assembly Bill No. 744, Freigenbaum, to pay a small claim against the State.

Senate Bill No. 4, Cobb, to provide that the State reimburse counties for advanced expenses in returning fugitives.

Senate Bill No. 761, Sharkey, containing minor amendments to the act relating to the support of the indigent.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Aumenta el Horror del Hambre en China

PEQUIN, Abril 19.—Aumenta el canibalismo en la remota provincia de Kansú, donde diariamente están muriendo de hambre millares de personas a la sombra de la Gran Muralla china y a lo largo de la frontera del Tibet.

Según informes del misionero William Simpson, han empeorado considerablemente las condiciones de escasez y de hambre en toda la provincia de Kansú. Las malas cosechas y las devastaciones de los rebeldes musulmanes han reducido a los habitantes de este antiguo puesto avanzado de la civilización china a la condición más lamentable. Los musulmanes han devastado todo el sur y el oeste de Kansú, según asienta el señor Simpson, y las tropas que los persiguen también han consumido o destruído cuantos productos alimenticios han encontrado.

Un ochenta por ciento de la gente carece de subsistencias, y hasta de semillas para sembrar la cosecha venidera. En muchas partes se están comiendo a los niños. Estos tienen miedo de aventurarse fuera de sus casas, pues temen ser atrapados y devorados.

El General Rodriguez les Inflige Una Derrota a los Rebeldes

MEJICALI, Abril 19.—Esta mañana se inició el tan esperado ataque del general Abelardo Rodriguez contra las fuerzas rebeldes de Sonora. Destacó una avanzada de 150 hombres desde la base militar de San Luis, al noroeste del Estado, con ella atacó y se hizo dueño de Sasabe, puesto avanzado que se halla cuarenta millas al oeste de Nogales.

Según los informes recibidos en el cuartel de Mejicali, los 200 soldados revolucionarios que ocupaban el fortín fueron derrotados tras una hora de reñido combate, no sin que perecieran ocho insurrectos y fueran hechos prisioneros veintiséis. Otros veintidós huyeron y se refugiaron en Arizona. Los federales tuvieron siete bajas: dos muertos y cinco heridos.

Además del avance con sus tropas de infantería, da cuenta el gobernador Rodríguez de que se emprenderán diariamente ataques aéreos contra las tropas del gobernador Topete, los que partirán desde tres diferentes aeródromos.

Sandino Buscará Refugio en Méjico

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Abril 19.—Hoy decían informes autorizados a Excélsior por el ministerio de Relaciones que a Agustín Sandino, cabecilla insurrecto nicaragüense, se le concederá derecho de asilo en este país. Pronto llegará, pues, aquí, y permanecerá indefinidamente entre nosotros. En breve es esperan declaraciones oficiales sobre este particular.

Su estancia aquí será a condición de que se abstenga de toda actividad política. Preguntado el señor Morrow acerca del sentir de los Estados Unidos a este respecto, manifestó que no habría objeción por parte de su país.

Dícese que los Estados Unidos sólo desean que Méjico observe en el caso de Sandino la misma neutralidad que ellos observan en el de los rebeldes mejicanos que cruzan la frontera del norte.

Tiénese entendido que el general Sandino ha iniciado desde hace varios días negociaciones con el gobierno mejicano para conseguir aquí un lugar de destierro, donde pueda disfrutar del "largo descanso" que anhela.

Sandino tiene multitud de admiradores en Méjico, entre cuyos habitantes despertó gran simpatía la larga campaña que sostuvo en su país contra los infantes de marina norteamericanos.

DOWNTOWN STRUCTURE PURCHASED

Pershing Square Building Bought by San Francisco Company for $3,250,000

Harrison Securities Company of San Francisco yesterday purchased the Pershing Square Building, Fifth and Hill streets, for $3,250,000.

The deal was announced by Glenn N. Deuel, co-partner in the Charles G. Andrews Company, real estate brokers, who represented the former owners of the building. H. J. Dempsey of the Dempsey Realty Company of San Francisco, represented the purchaser.

The Pershing Square Building, a height-limit office structure, was built in 1924 for a syndicate of local men whose organization has been known as the Fifth and Hill Building Company. The site was leased for ninety-nine years from the Spinks Realty Company, which will continue to retain ownership of the land.

As part payment, the former owners of the Pershing Square Building took four pieces of San Francisco income property. They are listed as the Crestview Apartments, 1895 Jackson street; Inverness Apartments, corner of Bush and Van Ness streets; the French Building at Polk and O'Farrell streets and a seven-story apartment-house on Gough street.

Mr. Deuel recalled the fact that the owners of this corner of Fifth and Hill streets refused a cash offer of $500,000 for the land in 1909 and in 1923 negotiated a lease on the basis of a 6 per cent return on $1,500,000.

Tree to be Set by Green Cross Association

The American Green Cross Association will plant a tree in Exposition Park on May 12, and dedicate it, in observance of Mothers' Day, to the mothers of California. George H. Barnes, head of the association, will preside and introduce Frederick Warde, who will deliver the dedicatory address. The tree then will be planted by Barbara Bayne. Addresses will follow by Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, Mayor Cryer, John Steven McGroarty and Solan L. Parkes. Music will be by the Jinnistan Grotto band. Dist.-Atty. Pitts will cast flowers on the spot from an airplane piloted by Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson. Campfire Girls and Girl Scouts will form a background of a "human flag," in which a green cross will predominate. Boy Scouts will serve as ushers.

VETERANS WILL FROLIC

Veterans of Foreign Wars attached to the William C. Mesmer Post, No. 904, will hold their eighth annual frolic this evening at 1816 South Figueroa street. The party will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

National Leader Will Arrive by Plane at 4 P.M.

Banquet in His Honor to Be Given at Chamber

Delegations representing every American Legion post in six Southern California counties, augmented by twenty musical units from Los Angeles county, will march this evening in the parade that will escort National Commander Paul V. McNutt to the Chamber of Commerce, where he will be welcomed formally to the city at a banquet to be given in his honor. The parade will start from the Biltmore at 6 p.m., two hours after Commander McNutt's scheduled arrival by airplane at the Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale. The visitor is making a tour of inspection of American Legion posts.

One other event, a dance under the auspices of Aqueduct Post, will occupy Commander McNutt's attention after the banquet. He then will return to his hotel until tomorrow.

SUNDAY SCHEDULE

The Sunday morning schedule calls for a visit to the Sawtelle hospital, an inspection of the Hollywod Post Clubhouse and an appearance at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Eighth and Hope streets, where he will deliver an address at 11 o'clock. Both the address and a musical program by the American Legion chanters will be broadcast over Radio KHJ.

From the church, the commander will go to the South Pasadena post clubhouse for another banquet at noon, thence to Monrovia and Huntington Park. He will leave the latter place at 2:45 p.m. going to the Glendale airport, where he will take off for Fresno at 4 p.m.

Born of pioneer stock in Franklin, Ind., Commander McNutt is distinguished not only as head of the American Legion to which he unanimously was elected at 37 years of age, but also as the youngest Indiana University faculty member to be made a dean. He was appointed dean of the law school there in May, 1925.

RAPID PROMOTION

Graduating from Indiana University in 1913, with honors that included editorship of the Indiana Daily Student and presidency of the Indiana Union, he entered newspaper work for a short period, then turned to law and took his degree from Harvard in 1916. When war was declared he enrolled in the second officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. He was commissioned a captain of field artillery and promoted two successive grades to lieutenants-colonel. At present he holds a commission in the organized reserves as colonel and commands the Three Hundred and Twenty-sixth Field Artillery.

He conducted a tour of Legionnaires and auxiliary members throught the important countries of Europe, prior to the national convention of the Legion in Paris in 1927, later becoming a member of a group of soldiers and statesmen who visited continental capitals as a good-will party. Since then he has been in great demand as a speaker. He is a Mason, an Elk, and a member of Beta Theta Phi, Phi Delta Phi and Acacia fraternities and of the University Club, Rotary Club and Martinsville and Bloomington country clubs.

QUINN WILL HELP ENTERTAIN COMMANDER

Interrupting his campaign activities for the next two days, John R. Quinn, as former national commander of the American Legion, will devote his time to the activities attendant on the visit to Los Angeles of Paul V. McNutt, National Commander of the Legion.

Mr. Quinn, as a member of the 1930 national convention committee, will greet Commander McNutt on his arrival at the Grand Central Air Teminal this afternoon, and will accompany him to the Biltmore, where Eugene M. Berger and the other members of the committee officially will welcome McNutt to Los Angeles.

Sunday morning Mr. Quinn will introduce Mr. McNutt when the latter delivers an address over radio station KHJ, from the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

The storm, which moved eastward yesterday and centered over Utah, brought the Los Angeles season total within 2 inches of the normal fall. The figures from the Weather Bureau give the storm total as .09 of an inch, bringing the season total to 12.5± inches, as against 9.47 inches for the same time last season, and the normal fall of 14.51 inches for this date.

No additional rain may be expected for the next few days, according to the forecast of yesterday. Generally fair weather is predicted for today and tomorrow, with moderate temperatures.

ON EDGE OF STORM

Southern California was on the edge of a rainstorm which gathered off the northern coast, according to Col. Hersey, weather forecaster, and contralized over Northern Nevada. This accounts for the "spotty" conditions which marked the disturbance in this section, the weather man reports.

The fall was very light over most of the section reported by the County Flood Control, and was made up almost entirely of intermittent showers. La Crescenta reported .17 of an inch; Santa Anita Dam, .26 and Pacoima Dam only .08 of an inch.

The precipitation in the High Sierras was negligible.

The freakish maneuvers of the rain were plainly shown in the fall in the adjoining towns of Ontario and Upland, which are separated only by the invisible line of corporate limits. In Upland the fall measured .17 of an inch, while Ontario reported only a trace. Chino, three miles south, had a precipitation of only .06 of an inch.

VALLEY INDICATIONS

Indications for a continuance of rain were reported from the valley points. The shower brought Porterville .04 of an inch, making the season total, 9.02, as compared with 7.61 inches this time last year. Lindsay received .14 of an inch, bringing the season to 8.34 inches, while a year ago it was 7.41 inches.

More rain is expected in the San Diego mountain sections, according to yesterday's report. The storm brought varying falls in the southern localities. The downtown

ROTARY DODGES DIVISION BATTLE

Quiet Leader Steers Session Away from Dispute

Honolulu Asks 1932 Meet; Governor Elected

More than 3000 men wearing red and white badges of Rotary sat nervously in their chairs yesterday morning at the Philharmonic Auditorium waiting for the sound of a gavel that was scheduled to launch a bitter controversy over the division of Second District of Rotary International into three separate parts.

But the tocsin of battle did not sound and the fourteenth annual conference of Rotary clubs subsided to sighs of relief as the delegates began to call each other by first names again. The quiet-voiced leader who steered the meeting away from the threat of dissension was H. J. Brunnier of San Francisco, former governor of the district.

REFERENDUM SUGGESTED

At the juncture when an explosion of words was expected, he arose and submitted a resolution suggesting that the question of the division of the district be left to the clubs themselves by a referendum vote. It was adopted by the Assembly, as one delegate put it, because "the weather was too warm and pleasant for argument, anyway."

What promised to be a display of verbal fireworks became a burst of applause as Paul Rieger of San Francisco, former governor and one of the champions against division, seconded the motion for adoption of the resolution. By the terms of this action, the district governor will submit a vote to the clubs with a terse argument, pro and con, regarding the problem. The organizations are requested to register their desire in the matter with the governor before June 15, which is the date of the meeting of the executive committee of Rotary International in Chicago.

COMMITTEE WILL ACT

That committee will act on the decision of the clubs. If division of the district is wanted, a subcommittee will be appointed to mark the boundaries of the created districts and its report will be referred to the clubs for action. Approval by three-fourths vote of the presidents of the affected clubs is necessary before separation can be made.

Rotary officials believe the division will be effected because, they pointed out, the district is too large to handle effectively. A governor virtually must give up his private business in order to adequately administrate the affairs of the organization, they said. The second district now includes California, Nevada and the Hawaiian Islands. Tentative plans for division call for districts in California, north, central and south, with the central division taking in Hawaii and the southern section including part of Nevada.

HONOLULU MAKES BID

Minor skirmishes in the battle to bring the Rotary International convention of all the clubs in the world to Los Angeles in 1932 were enacted before the delegates. Honolulu made an official bid for the gathering through John W. Caldwell, secretary of the Honolulu club. He told the conference that the city will be host that year to the fourth annual Pacific Conference and the Rotarians would be given a glimpse into workings of the Assembly laboring toward better international relations in the Pacific. The matter will be taken up thoroughly at this year's convention in Dallas, Tex., May 27-31. Los Angeles offers the Rotarians the added attraction of the Olympic Games.

There was no contest in the selection of a district governor for this year. Harvey B. Lyon of Oakland was nominated by acclamation. His election will be official when his name is confirmed by the executive committee at the Dallas convention. This merely is a formality, officials stated. Lyon has been a member of the Oakland club since 1914. He was president in 1925-26. The new governor is the author of the "Charge to Members" used in Rotary clubs throughout the world and

ACTRESS SCORES IN LEGAL BATTLE

Olga Baclanova

BACLANOVA VICTORIOUS IN CONTEST

Court Decision Releases Cinema Player from Her Contract With Agent

Following a trial that lasted nearly a week, Olga Baclanova, Russian film actress, yesterday was freed of the terms of a five-year contract that bound her as a client of Al Rosen, booking agent, by a decision handed down by Superior Judge Hazlett.

The actress was in court when Judge Hazlett made his ruling and was jubilant over the victory.

"It ees fine!" she exclaimed, beaming on everybody, particularly her husband, Nicholas Soussanin, an actor, whom she married about six weeks ago, and who was with her in court at every session of the trial.

A coterie of the actress's friends from the Russian colony in Hollywood rushed forward to extend their congratulations.

Miss Baclanova brought suit to rescind a contract made October 7, 1927, with Rosen, the life of which was five years, with the agent having the right to option at the end of the first year. He was to get 10 per cent of her salary.

TERMS MISUNDERSTOOD

In her prosecution of the suit the actress asserted that when she entered into the contract she was of the belief that it was for only one year with her given the right to option at the end of the first six months. She accused Rosen of taking advantage of her lack of knowledge of American motion-picture contracts and her unfamiliarity with the English language at the time the instrument was drafted. Rosen denied this, declaring the actress could speak several languages, English among them, and knew what she was doing when she signed.

COURT'S OPINION

In his ruling Judge Hazlett declared that in his opinion Rosen had not practiced any fraud or framed the contract with any intent to take advantage of Miss Baclanova.

"I am of the opinion that in their transaction their minds never met," said Judge Hazlett. "At the time she was unfamiliar with the English language. They had talked over the terms of a contract and she had refused orally to enter into one of five years. She had, however, agreed to sign one for a year. I believe she didn't fully understand because of her lack of knowledge of the English language. The judgment will be for the plaintiff."

Miss Baclanova was represented in court by the law firm of Shapiro & Shapiro and H. Y. Romayne.

The actress at the present time, is under contract with the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE reason all Mexican wars are a joke is that the soldiers do not really want to kill. They like to shoot and holler and call names, and occasionally some one has the bad luck to run into a bullet and get killed.

The cold-blooded, scientific slaughter of an Anglo-Saxon war is not to their taste. When a Federal artillerist was told that he nearly killed Gen. Topete, the rebel chief, with one of his shells he looked grave and said: "I didn't mean to do it."

By the same token, that is the reason they dread any encounter with American troops. If the Americans come over they will come killing and with every possible implement of slaughter.

OUT OF HIS CLASS

The death of Charles Sebastian in Los Angeles is the end of a tragedy. Had he left politics alone he might have been right now an efficient and successful police lieutenant—which was the measure of his ability. As Mayor of Los Angeles he was the most helpless, bewildered public official it has ever been my lot to meet.

HELEN WILLS

Miss Helen Wills is rightfully nervous about her one-man art exhibition in London.

In this country any picture painted by a beautiful young lady tennis champion is a high-class work of art. But English art critics are more hard-boiled than traffic cops.

T.N.T. ON THE TUMMY

The temperance campaign of President Portes Gil is a step in the right direction, but not a very violent leap.

The greatest thing that could possibly happen to Mexico would be the taking away of mescal from the peon and substitution of something to eat for the tortilla.

Mescal isn't hard liquor in the ordinary meaning of the word. It is an explosion of T.N.T. in the human tum-tum. Mexico is a nation of undernourished dyspeptics. The wonder is that they have enough left in the way of stomachs to be able to have indigestion.

PICTURES CAME DOWN

The International Club at Agua Prieta is run by a diplomat. Before the fracas the walls were adorned with framed photographs of Calles, Obregon and Juarez. Agu Prieta being in the hands of the rebels he discreetly had a general housecleaning, after which the only picture that went back was that of Benito Juarez. He was an Indian and a rebel, and so more or less neutral territory.

DESERT FLOWERS

I have never seen any place where were so few flowers as on the Arizona-Mexican border. It is pathetic to see how they cherish the few blossoms that manage to struggle to life. It is partly poor soil, partly the high winds that rage along the border. "Ma," at the Nac Hotel, is trying to induce some roses to climb over the front of that now famous hostelry. All the percentage girls and the gamblers and the mysterious Mexican gents who hang around like ministers without portfolios have all been organized into a water brigade to tend these pitifully struggling plants.

BRONCS

It seems a very curious contrast when a troop of Mexican cavalry rides within sight of an American troop.

Alongside our big troop horses

NEW GRAND JURY SELECTED

Judge Doran Names 1929 County Inquisitorial Body; Fitts Promises It Sensational Keyes Data

The 1929 Los Angeles county grand jury was selected yesterday by Superior Judge Doran, who named Elwood De Garmo, president of the Warner Oil Company, as foreman.

Arthur St. Clair Perry of 1669 Wellington Road was appointed secretary to serve for the ensuing term of one year. At the same time it was decided that the grand jury will meet for the first time Tuesday to complete organization.

OTHER MEMBERS

Other members of the grand jury selected by Judge Doran are: D. Pigrang, 1734 Ardmore street; Hector J. Holmes, 1010 North Los Robles street, Pasadena; L. F. Arnold, 856 Bundy Drive, Brentwood Heights; Edgar T. Wehn, 2007 Budlong avenue; Walter Q. Patten, 426 Norin Barrington street, Brentwood Heights; Brewster C. Kenyon, 261 Granada avenue, Long Beach; P. A. Behannessey, 1122 North Western avenue; Frank L. Allen, 1348 South Genesee street; George E. Cross, Puente; J. H. Henry, 1199 South Oak Knoll avenue, Pasadena; Ralph L. Hamlin, 656 South Hundson street; Leonard E. Herbach, 454 South McCadden Place; Leo P. Bergin, 650 South Muirfield Road; Frank A. Barnes, 840 West Seventh street; Louis S. Nordlinger, 515 South Lorraine avenue; Harry Harrington, 261 South Highland avenue, and A. J. Mellenthin, 168 Highland Place.

After administering the oath of office to the nineteen veniremen, Judge Doran turned the new grand jury over to Percy Hammon and Fred W. Shelley, deputy District Attorneys in charge of grand jury matters, who were instructed to assist the new inquisitorial body in completing its organization, and selecting the date of its meetings.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon, after he had finished his conference with the new grand jury, said he does not expect to present anything except routine matters involving the extradition of minor criminals from other States during the next two weeks.

As soon as the new jury is thoroughly organized and accustomed to

FISHERMEN COMBAT SEA LIONS

Statistics Show Herd of 20,000 in Southland's Waters Eat $100,000 Worth of Edible Fish Daily, So State Authorities Will Be Called Into War

Using as the basis for their argument the assertion that more than $100,000 worth of edible fish are eaten by sea lions in Southern California waters every day, deep-sea fishermen and sportsmen are preparing to fight for the extermination of the mammoth herds, it was revealed yesterday. More than 20,000 sea lions make their home along the coast, from Point Fermin to below San Diego and their daily consumption of fish has grown to such proportions as to affect the markets of the Southland and the sport of deep-sea fishermen.

Demand on State authorities for the extermination or at least the reduction of the sea lion groups to a negligible point, will be made within a few days, it is said.

In preparing for their fight, facts gathered show that each sea lion consumes approximately fifty pounds of fish a day. The entire herd, therefore, according to fishermen, consumes 1,000,000 pounds of edible fish each day, which, at a wholesale price of 10 cents a pound, would mean a loss of $100,000 a day.

Sea lions have no economic value. Neither hide nor fur can be used and the flesh is not edible and cannot be rendered for commercial purposes. Originally the herd was useful in controlling fish life but the demands of the markets for edible fish have done away with this need.

However, figures furnished by the State Fish and Game Commission reveal that during January 49,311,255 pounds of edible fish were unloaded on the wharves in Los Angeles Harbor.

LOTS DRAWN FOR ORATORS

Speaking Order Decided for Seven Contestants in Each of Six Groups in Semifinals

Two guardians of educational welfare assumed the responsibility yesterday of drawing the order of delivery of orations for forty-two participants of The Times semifinals in the Sixth National and Fourth International Oratorical Contest on the Constitution which will take place next Friday night.

H. S. Upjohn, superintendent of schools of Los Angeles county, who took permanent office last Monday, and F. A. Bouelle, superintendent of schools of the city of Los Angeles, who entered the position February 1 decided the all-important speech order at the latter's office in the Chamber of Commerce Building.

"The first shall be last and the last shall be first," laughed Mr. Upjohn as he drew a slip of paper from the flower vase held by Mr. Bouelle.

METHOD OF DRAWING

But here is the manner in which the drawing was decided: Seven slips of paper numbered from 1 to 7 were stirred up in the vase. The first slip drawn was to give the position on the program of the lowest district, by number, in each given group. Mr. Upjohn drew forth the slip marked 4 and the other drawings came 1, 3, 7, 6, 5 and 2.

This is known as the code method and the drawing applies to all six groups, as there are seven orators in each group.

"Were you ever an orator, Mr. Bouelle?" asked Mr. Upjohn.

"I made one knee-knocking, heart-shivering attempt in normal school years ago and I have had the deepest respect ever since for all debate and oratorical participants," he responded. "However, the national advancement of oratory in the public schools is to prove of inestimable benefit in the unending evolution of American manhood and citizenship. The influence is strengthening not only to the contestants, but also to the audience. It is making better listeners out of our people, resulting in a deeper concentration of thought. Because I feel this way I am disposed to foster the National Oratorical Contest in every way possible and appreciate the fact that my department has a duty to per-

EIGHT APPEAR IN USURY QUIZ

Two in Court Voluntarily; Others Arrested

Judge Busy Setting Dates for All Hearings

Cases Grow Out of Julian Oil Debacle

Eight more persons charged with usury in connection with the money-lending orgy which preceded the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse yesterday appeared before Municipal Judge Bogue to answer the charges filed against them in August, 1927, on which warrants recently were released by City Prosecutor Nix.

Walter D. French and Abe Karp, each charged with three counts of usury, appeared voluntarily before Judge Bogue and requested that they be given time to plead to the charges. The court set today for Karp to plead and allowed French until Monday for the same purpose, releasing each on $500 bail.

OTHERS ARRESTED

Investigators arrested the remaining defendants, who appeared after being served with warrants. Hallam Cooley, film actor, and Meyer Brown, 746 South Detroit street, were released on $500 bail. Cooley's case was set over until Tuesday for plea while Brown entered a plea of not guilty and asked for trial without jury, which was set for May 8, next. H. L. Granover, 1834 West Eighty-first street, was released on the same bail pending his plea on twelve counts of usury, which will be heard by Judge Bogue on Monday.

PLEAS ENTERED

A. Stept, 1808 Canyon Drive, entered a plea of not guilty to seven counts of usury and asked for jury trial. He was released on $1000 bail as was Aaron Sackin, real estate operator of 987 Shatto Place, who was given until this morning to enter his plea to six counts of usury. Dr. Morris Smith, dentist of 650 South Grand avenue, through his attorney, interposed a demurrer to the complaint charging twelve counts of usury. He was released on $1000 bail to await hearing on the demurrer, which Judge Bogue set for next Friday.

Morris A. Kursten, brick manufacturer with offices at 412 Stack Building, indicated that he would interpose a demurrer to the usury complaint against him. Samuel Goodman, 847 South Alvarado street, and E. M. Hackel, 217 East Eighth street, who were arrested Thursday, appeared before Judge Bogue yesterday for plea and attorneys for both men interposed demurrers to their complaints. Hearing on all three demurrers was set for next Friday.

STAFF INDUCTED BY FEDERATION

New District Officers of Club Women Seated

Teachers' Pensions, Jails and Cigarettes Discussed

Glendale Paid High Tribute by Reformatory Head

BY MYRA NYE

Climaxing a successful convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, the installation banquet last night at Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, with nearly 1000 guests and members present, was a brilliant affair.

Mrs. William Waller Slayden, the outgoing president, who is a candidate for the State presidency, presided as toastmistress, and was showered with flowers and given beautiful gifts. Mrs. James Birney Lorbeer, past president of the district and now president-at-large of the State federation, with impressive simplicity installed the newly elected officers. They are: Mrs. Howard U. Sherwood of Monterey Park, president; Mrs. Charles McKelvey of Los Angeles, vice-president; Mrs. Herbert Riley, Los Angeles recording secretary; Mrs. Grace Y. Hudson, federation secretary; Mrs. Bettie Hughes, treasurer, and Mrs. P. H. Johnson, auditor; directors from Los Angeles are Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant and Mrs. Gertrude Maynard, and from the Covina-Pasadena district, Mrs. Frederick Gilmor of Pasadena.

SPEAKERS OF EVENING

The address of the evening was given by Dr. Bruce Baxter, a graduate of Oberlin College, chaplain of the University of Southern California. His subject was the theme of the entire convention: "It is the Spirit That Giveth Life."

Mrs. Slayden expressed appreciation of the year's work with her fellow-club women.

The afternoon program began with a song recital by Ellen Beach Yaw, accompanied by Georgiella Lay. Among the numbers on her artistic program were: "Per la Gloria," by Buonocini, others by Mozart, Schubert, Brahms, Debussy, Meyerbeer, and a number by Mme. Yaw's cousin, Mary Carr Moore.

Mrs. Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith spoke inspirationally from the literary, dramatic, historic and achieving angles of "Women Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," reading excerpts from some of the leading plays and books of the year.

President Walter Dexter of Whittier College substituted for Mrs. Alice Ames Winter.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED

Resolutions were unanimously passed by the delegate body approving an increased pension for teachers after thirty years of service and another resolution condemning the exploitation of womanhood to advertise cigarettes.

Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, the only woman in the Governor's cabinet, was the speaker of the morning. Mrs. Saylor was introduced by Dr. Etta Gray, chairman of public-welfare work for the district, and her subject dealt with such work pertaining to the entire State.

Mrs. Saylor made an ardent plea for the closing of all county jails in California that are unfit for human habitation; for the detention of witnesses in rooms separate from prisoners; for additional probation officers, with prisoners in their care allowed outside the jails to work for their families.

Mrs. Saylor quoted the head of the boys' institution at Preston as saying:

"The spot in all California whence come the fewest boys to our institution in proportion to population is Glendale, and this city has held this good record through many years because the club women there have supervised the dances of young people and most of the community activities."

The average American farm woman works eleven and a half hours a day in winter and thirteen and a half hours in summer.

is a contributor to the magazine of the organization. He is president and manager of the Lyon Storage and Moving Company in Oakland.

The gavel of office was turned over to him at the yesterday afternoon session by Herbert E. Harris of Whittier, outgoing governor.

The Rotarians were addressed at the morning session by Edward B. De Groot, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America. He praised the organization for its work among the boys of the various countries and its relief fund for crippled and delinquent children. Harry H. Rogers of Tulsa, Okla., past president of Rotary International, talked on "Closer Co-operation Within the Organization."

The afternoon session was addressed by Dr. Tully C. Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific at Stockton, on "European Problems and Rotary's Relation to Them." Crawford McCullough of Fort William, Ont., talked on the "Personal Application of Rotary Principles."

ATTENDANCE HIGH

This conference boasts the largest attendance of any meeting in the history of the district. According to official figures compiled yesterday, 4421 persons have registered from 131 clubs of the 150 organizations in the second district. The registration includes many wives of members. It is estimated that more than 3000 members of Rotary are here.

The place and date of next year's conference will be named later by the new district governor. Officials believe he will follow the custom of the organization and select a city near his home. It is probable that Oakland or San Francisco will be named.

A ball in honor of the outgoing governor was given last night at the Biltmore. Today a golf tournament for the visiting delegates will be held at Fox Hills Country Club. This will conclude the program of the conference.

A complete silver service for tea and dinner was presented to Harris for his efforts in the upbuilding of as a mark of appreciation for his work as chief executive during the last year. A resolution praising him Rotary was passed by the delegates.

Funeral for Judge York to be Today

The body of Judge Waldo Marvin York, who died Wednesday at the family home, 1809 Virginia Road, will lie in state until noon today at Reed Brothers' Company funeral parlors at 721 West Washington street. Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, Twentieth and Figueroa streets. Dr. Hugh K. Walker will officiate.

WALDO M. YORK

Interment will be in Inglewood Mausoleum.

Pallbearers at the final rites for the jurist will be: Judge William Hazlett, Judge R. Morgan Galbreth, Judge Frederick W. Houser, Dr. Edward T. Dillon, U. K. Walker, Jr., Williard W. Dill, Dennis Evarts Bowman and Sanford L. Porter.

Vocal selections will be rendered at the services by Frank Geiger and Gage Christopher. Maj. S. H. M. Byers, poet and friend of the deceased judge, will deliver an original poem in memory of the jurist.

Judge York died of heart disease aggravated by bronchitis after an illness of several weeks. For many years he was a prominent figure in Los Angeles legal circles and also was known for his writings in verse. He leaves his widow, Clara Whitworth York; one daughter, Miss M. Jessie York, and a son, Judge John M. York.

Fry Services at Inglewood

Funeral services for James Madison Fry of 1021 West Forty-ninth street were conducted at Inglewood Park Cemetery on Thursday. The services were sponsored by the American Odd Fellows' Lodge of which Mr. Fry had been a member since 1888. He died Monday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 67 years of age, and had lived in Los Angeles for twenty-seven years, being a contractor and building superintendent.

Prior to coming here he lived in Hawaii. He leaves his widow and two sons, Charles Eugene, a student at the University of Southern California, and Horace M. Fry.

HOOSIERS MEET TUESDAY

Hoosiers and their friends will attend the monthly dance and entertainment of the Indiana State Society Tuesday evening at the Fraternal Brotherhood Building, 845 South Figueroa street. The program will consist of an illustrated lecture on Boulder dam and vicinity, and community singing will be followed by dancing.

its duties, new and sensational facts closely associated with the expose which resulted in the conviction of former Dist.-Atty. Keyes, Ed Rosenberg and Ben Getzoff, on bribery charges, will be presented for immediate action, Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced last night.

The District Attorney said that since the adjournment of the last grand jury his investigators have obtained additional information which is expected to implicate at least six well-known public characters in other matters involving the administration of the former incumbent of the office.

In addition to this, Mr. Fitts announced, several other matters of outstanding importance will be presented for the consideration of the new grand jury, which will result in a startling exposure of political machinations in Los Angeles city and county.

Ticket Sale for Firemen Unauthorized

Responding to complaints from business men and housewives that solicitors representing themselves as members of the Los Angeles Fire Department have been selling tickets and advertising in connection with a forthcoming ball, Chief Engineer Scott yesterday said the campaign has had no authorization from his department.

"For three years," he said, "the only approach we have made to the citizens of Los Angeles has been in the sale of tickets, once each year, for our departmental football game. At present we are not selling tickets for a fireman's ball or any other purpose.

"Whenever the Los Angeles Fire Department sends solicitors into the field to raise funds for any purpose each man is required to carry authorization papers signed by the Board of Fire Commissioners and by the Chief of the department. Therefore any citizen readily may understand that if a solicitor cannot produce such authorization he is not representing any activity of the local department."

LILYAN TASHMAN'S SISTER SUCCUMBS

News of the death of a sister of Lilyan Tashman, screen actress, was learned yesterday. The sister, Mrs. Betty Lindau, wife of J. W. Lindau, New York advertising man, was buried in the East Monday, according to word received. Miss Tashman, wife of Edmund Lowe, screen actor, said her sister died following an illness of six months. She expects to go east as soon as she finishes her present picture at Warner Brothers.

Schoenborn's Death Attributed to Gas Poisoning

Whether A. L. Schoenborn, capitalist, who was found dead in a garage at Sawtelle Thursday, was a victim of suicide or accident never will be known. No inquest will be conducted, it was announced yesterday by Deputy Coroner McDonald, following an autopsy performed by County Autopsy Surgeon Webb which revealed the man came to his end as the result of carbon-monoxide poisoning.

Recently, it was reported he had suffered a nervous collapse and he is believed to have been delirious at the time of his disappearance. He was 38 years of age, vice-president of the Pacific States Savings and Loan Association, and the accredited founder of North Owensmouth.

Funeral Today for Kammerling

Funeral rites for Albert John Kammerling, part owner of the Western Towel Supply Company, and a California native son, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today at Reed Brothers' chapel, 721 West Washington Boulevard. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Kammerling was born fifty-one years ago in San Francisco. He resided here at 2318 Redondo Boulevard. He leaves two brothers, C. W. Kammerling of Los Angeles, and Emil W. Kammerling of San Francisco, and one sister, Mrs. Anna Knowles of Seattle.

Theater Benefit to Honor Officer

In public tribute to Patrolman James L. Alexander, who single-handed frustrated an attempted box-office hold-up at the Marcal Theater, Hollywood, on the 8th inst., Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and other screen celebrities will mount the stage there Monday evening, the 22nd inst., and participate in a feature program. The proceeds will be devoted to the police fund for the relief of widows and orphans of officers.

Led by Police Commissioner Schweitzer, Chief of Police Davis, Capt. Jack Finlayson and Capt. McCaleb, a parade down Hollywood Boulevard will precede the performance.

Alexander surprised two bandits in the act of holding up the cashier at the theater. He shot one of them dead. The other escaped, carrying the body of his accomplice, but was captured a few hours later.

IMPASSE LAID TO FOSTER

Council Member Held to be Health Obstructionist at Meeting on Food Handlers Examinations

Dr. Douglas E. Foster, member of the Health and Sanitation Committee of the City Council, was held to be an obstructionist to measures for the health of the public in Los Angeles at the regular meeting of the Health Commission yesterday, when representatives of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association, which has close to 63,000 members, were informed that nothing could be done toward physical examination of food handlers until after the city election on June 4.

Mrs. Margaret Holtakon and Mrs. Sidney MacQuire, for the association, appeared before the commission and asked permission to use the third floor of the City Health Building, or to rent quarters across the street, to "bridge the gap" by examining food handlers at no expense to the city pending approval for the health department to do such work by the Health and Sanitation Committee of the Council.

President Pontius and Commissioners Wilke and Kleinberger informed the petitioners that it was hopeless to expect any favorable action by the Health and Sanitation Committee of the Council while Dr. Foster is on it, and urged that the matter be held up sixty days until after the election and a new Health and Sanitation Committee is appointed.

Mrs. Holtakon declared that the association is a unit in favor of the physical examination of food handlers, that such examinations are conducted in every large city in America, and that Los Angeles, because of its climate, is receiving more "riff raff" than any other city in America and therefore should have such examinations. She said the city is being ridiculed for not doing it.

Dr. Parrish, city health officer, said all the large food handlers are in favor of it and the only objection is from small grocery stores. The larger companies, he said, desire the privilege of hanging up cards showing their employees to be free of disease.

The entire tenor of the Health Commission's meeting was that there is no hope of remedying the situation as long as Dr. Foster is on the Health and Sanitation Committee of the Council.

IT requires 6,000 people to serve Los Angeles' 365,000 telephones.

These telephone people would make a good-sized city in themselves if all were brought together. But they are scattered widely over the city they serve. Their daily task means the handling, in Los Angeles, of an average of about 1,750,000 telephone messages each day. It is a most personal type of public service. In performing it, telephone folk have only one goal. That is, to give you the most accurate telephone service that it is within their power to render.*

Telephoning is a mutual undertaking that involves the person calling, the person called, and those who operate and maintain the delicate mechanism. Service can be satisfactory only when it has the close co-operation of all three.

Therefore, Los Angeles' telephone folk deeply appreciate your co-operation. With your sympathetic understanding we shall continue to go forward, providing a better and better telephone service that is more and more free from imperfections and delays.

You are always welcome to visit any of our central offices.

*As examples of the steady advance in Pacific Coast telephone service: In 1928, out of each 100 calls placed, an average of 98.6 were handled without error. The average time required to make a long distance connection has been reduced, in 2 years, from 3 minutes 36 seconds to 1 minute 48 seconds. About 96% of all out-of-town calls are now handled without the customer leaving the telephone.

JURORS INDICT FILM CONCERNS

Accused of Scheme to Violate Antitrust Act

Independent Theaters Held to Have Been Victimized

Corporations Involved in Criminal Prosecution

Ten leading motion-picture producing and distributing companies were named in an indictment returned yesterday by the Federal grand jury, which charges conspiracy to violate the provisions of the Sherman Antitrust Act, and is in the nature of a criminal prosecution.

The defendant companies named are West Coast Theaters, Inc., Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, First National Pictures, Universal Film Exchange, United Artists, Inc., Fox Film Corporation, Vitagraph, Inc., Film Exchange, Inc., and Warner Brothers.

The indictment, which is similar to an information filed a year ago against fine of the companies, charges that the companies combined in restraint of trade to discriminate against independent theaters, especially those giving two motion pictures on one program, and giving prizes to patrons and also charging an admission fee of more than ten cents.

It is stated that under the present system "zoning and clearances" between the independent theaters and obtain a picture until six months after it is released.

Arrangements are being made for the appearance in court of representatives of the various companies.

Glenn W. Lull's Funeral Today

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. today for Glen W. Lull, former Los Angeles automobile dealer, who died unexpectedly Thursday morning at his home, 1518 Orange Grove avenue. He was 44 years of age. Following the last rites at Pierce Brothers' chapel, 720 West Washington street, cremation will take place at the Los Angeles crematory.

Mr. Lull came to Los Angeles from Michigan in 1903, associating himself as secretary of the old Auto Supply Company. In recent years he had been manager of the building department of the Berger Manufacturing Company. He was a graduate of Stanford, and a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, of the Masons, Sciots and of the Jonathan Club, California Country clubs.

He leaves his widow; Mrs. Eva A. Lull, his mother; Mrs. Bertha L. Lull, and Mrs. C. A. Worthington, and Carey A. and Linford Lull, brothers, all of Los Angeles.

CAR-THEFT RING BELIEVED FOUND

Federal Grand Jury Brings in Three Indictments

Activities Asserted to Have Covered Three States

Thefts Running to Thousand of Dollars Laid to Trio

With the filing yesterday by the Federal grand jury in the United States District Court of an indictment against three men, Department of Justice agents asserted they have uncovered a large auto-theft ring plying between California, Denver and points in Nebraska.

The three indicted are Melvin Gale Wells, Charles Henry Carey and Fred L. Reidlinger. The court fixed their bail at $3000 each. All three are under arrest and being held pending the posting of bail.

It is stated that the asserted operations of the so-called ring involve the theft and transportation of automobiles valued at many thousands of dollars. The method said to have been used was to transport stolen cars from California to other States and bring cars, said to have been stolen, to California from the other States.

The grand jury also indicted Alexander S. Smith, a bell boy in a hotel on West Seventh street, on a charge of violating the national prohibition act. Smith was arrested on the 5th inst. and is said to have had two pints of liquor in his possession.

Wilbur Lauds Value of Near East Colleges

Curtis D. Wilbur, newly appointed Federal judge, yesterday spoke at a luncheon in the California Club given in honor of Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, chairman of the Los Angeles committee of the Near East College Association. Judge Wilbur praised the influence of American colleges in the Near East. He said Germany accepted the American ultimatum following the Lusitania sinking rather than antagonize the many Bulgarian leaders who had been educated in Roberts College, Constantinople. This saved the United States a year of war which would have cost $20,000,000,000 and many invaluable lives, he said.

Hostesses at the luncheon were Mrs. Fred Bixby, Mrs. Albert L. Cheney, Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. Walter Lindley, Mrs. Andrew Stewart Lobingier, Mrs. John C. MacFarland, Mrs. Seeley W. Mudd, Mrs. J. P. Sartori, Mrs. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid and Mrs. Joseph M. Witmer. Rt. Rev. W. Bertrand Stevens, chairman of the Los Angeles committee, introduced the former Navy Secretary.

Other speakers were Dr. Andrew Stewart Lobingier, Dr. Hugh K. Walker, moderator of the Methodist Church, and Miss Frederika De Laguna. Bishop Stevens introduced Miss Mary Wallace Weir, manager of the campaign for the $15,000,000 endowment fund of the American Near East Colleges, and Dr. W. W. Peet of Constantinople. It was announced that the fund campaign is within $2,000,000 of its objective.

GROUP TO CONSERVE OIL NAMED

Kettleman Hills Interests Appoint Committee at Instance of Wilbur

Methods of conserving oil at Kettleman Hills will be handled by a committee of seven appointed yesterday during the executive session presided over by Umpire P. C. Van Deinse and attended by more than sixty permittees and operators interested in government oil and gas permits in the field.

E. D. Reiter was appointed chairman of the group. He is the representative of E. J. Miley, independent operator. Mr. Reiter will be assisted in handling details by the following: Ellsworth McGowan, secretary; W. H. Berg of the Standard Oil Company; W. L. McLaine of the General Petroleum Corporation; R. E. Ferguson, geologist, representing the permittees; J. H. Raney and P. N. Logpan of the Milham Exploration Company.

The conference was called by Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, to discuss primarily the conservation of oil at Kettleman Hills, and principally that of the north dome, where the General Petroleum Corporation brought in its big gasser three weeks ago. The Milham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 1 well is producing on the same dome and was said to have been considered in the present move for conservation in Southern California.

The group approved in principle the suggestion of Secretary Wilbur. It was not stated just when the committee will make a report.

Umpire F. C. Van Deinse was selected unanimously as permanent chairman of the group just before it went into executive session.

Mr. Van Deinse stated at the close of the executive session that virtually no opposition was heard against the adoption of a conservation program for Kettleman Hills.

MIX-UP ON STATIONS CONTINUES

Police Ready to Go on With Hollywood Building But Fire Department Isn't

Following a conference yesterday of the police commissioners and the fire commissioners on the problem of where quarters for the two departments are to be in Hollywood since the station occupied jointly by the two has been disposed of, it developed that the police department is prepared to go ahead with its plans for construction of a station at Wilcox and De Longpre streets, but that the fire department is not.

The site obtained for the fire department, it developed, is liable to be hung up in the courts for a period of years in condemnation proceedings, so the Fire Commission decided to hold to its original plan for construction of a station on its Vine-street site, pending the offer of one more suitable in exchange and to which there would be no objection on the part of adjoining property owners.

In the meantime the two departments are required to pay $500 a month for their present quarters in Hollywood, following the trade for other sites, and this payment has been guaranteed by Hollywood realty dealers until September 30, pending settlement of the mix-up into which each department wandered as the result of the trading.

Unless a suitable site is forthcoming shortly, President Werdin of the Fire Commission asserted, the department will go ahead and complete its station on the Vine-street site.

The police department, through Chief Davis, already has initiated action toward the construction of a station at Wilcox avenue and De Longpre street.

form in co-operation for the continued success of the movement."

ORDER OF SPEAKERS

"I am sure that you are an orator and that reminds me of a statement made by a teacher of mine when I was a boy," said Mr. Upjohn. "This teacher said, 'men who achieve in oratory almost invariably rise to positions of importance in the public weal.' This contest is building such men for the future," he added.

The result of the drawing, has been awaited by the semifinalists. They will speak in the following order:

Group A, Districts 1 to 7, inclusive, to be held at San Diego High School; Martha Gene MacDonald, Oceanside-Carlsbad High School; Lytton Robinson, San Diego High School; Jerry Tannenbaum, Santa Ana High School; Winifred Barnett or Barton Rush of Brea Olinda High School; Genelle Gilliman, Banning Union High School; Marjorie Forsyth, Long Beach Polytechnic High School, and Ruth Correll, Calexico Union High School, last speaker on the program.

Group B, Districts 8 to 13, inclusive, and including District 11-A, to be held at Fresno State Teachers' College, Fresno: Lee Symonds, Coalinga; John R. Locke, Jr., Dinuba Union; Kathleen Lambert, Bishop Union; William Bopp, Edison Technical of Fresno; Byron Gentry, Corcoran Union; Lois Schmidt, Taft Union, and William P. Broderick, Kern County High School.

IN OTHER GROUPS

Group C, Districts 14 to 20, inclusive, to be held at Glendale Union High School, Glendale; Jack Woods, Burbank Senior High School; Phillip Shipley, Santa Paula Union; James W. Dilley, Glendale Union; Jack Casstevens, Alhambra; Hidow Utsunomiya, Santa Maria Union; Ted Hatlen, Pasadena, and Tom Gillis, Pacific Grove.

Group D, Districts 21 to 27, inclusive, to be held at Jefferson High School, "the big seven of Los Angeles:" George Smith, Hollywood; Earl Immel, Polytechnic; Sarah Weitz, Jefferson; Jerome W. Hull, Jr., Franklin; Robert Page, Manual Arts; Leonard Horvitz, Los Angeles, and Anna Todaro, Lincoln.

Group E, Districts 28 to 34, inclusive, to be held at Roosevelt High School, Los Angeles: Ray Vogel, Belmont; Ellena Anderson, Santa Monica; Rice Ober, Woodrow Wilson; John Young, Torrance; Nathan Slutsky, Roosevelt; Jack Schwartz, San Pedro, and William McCoy, Warren G. Harding High School.

Group F, Districts 35 to 41, inclusive, to be held at Whittier Union High School, Whittier: Helen Cox, Needles; Richard Nixon, Whittier Union; Leland Klingerman, El Monte Union; Karl Von Der Ahe, Loyola High School; Hilla Willard, Pomona; Henry Myers, Metropolitan, and Robert McArthur of Chaffey Union High School.

All of these group contests will be held at 8 p.m. next Friday, and are entirely free to the public.

TODAY'S CONTEST

It will be recalled that Barton Rush of Excelsior Union High School, was awarded first place in District 1 finals and then was disqualified tentatively because his speech ran over the ten-minute time limit. Arrangements are being perfected as the result of a conference to have him compete with Winifred Barnett in a special elimination to decide which shall represent District 1. A majority of the contestants understood that they would be allowed to complete their speeches.

Today at 2:30 o'clock at Bovard Auditorium of the University of Southern California, the preliminaries will be held of the Collegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution. Seven speakers will be chosen from the twelve speakers representing twelve colleges which are in the competition. The seven chosen will then held the finals of Southern California at 8 p.m. at Bovard Auditorium.

A feature of the night program will be songs by Margaret Messer Morris, "Southern California Songbird," accompanied by Miss Evelyn Kent. Mr. Frank Geiger, basso, will also give a number of selections. The Shillamar Trio will play.

DEFIANT YAQUIS GET MIND TESTS

Indian Pair to Have Insanity Hearing Next Thursday

Officers Recovering After Battle With Couple

Bombs, Flares, Water and Truck Used in Siege

Insanity complaints against John D'Avili and his wife, Angelita, elderly Yaqui Indians who were taken into custody only after they had held fifteen police officers at bay for seven hours, will be heard before judge Gould at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The defendant pair, who fired more than fifty shots at a cordon of peace officers thrown around their home at 2213 East Thirty-eight street during the siege Wednesday night, are under the observation of specialists in the psychopathic ward of General Hospital. The examining doctors will make their report to the court.

DEPUTY RECOVERING

Deputy Sheriff Thompson, who received a superficial wound in the elbow when he attempted to retrieve a county car which had been driven into the yard of the prisoners, and which was being used by the wrinkled and weazened husband as a barricade from which he directed his shots at the officers, is recovering with no bad after effects anticipated.

Detective Lieutenant Leslie, who led the assault against the frame dwelling, which finally resulted in uncovering the wanted pair after the two-room hut and the surrounding fence had been almost demolished, was treated for bruises and a lame back yesterday.

NEIGHBORS COMPLAIN

The subjection of D'Avili and his wife, who have made their home on the same plot of ground for the past twenty years, was brought about through complaints of neighbors, and action by Chief of Police Giles of Vernon in swearing out a warrant.

D'Avili resisted the officers, who were forced to use tear bombs, flares, a stream of water from a fire hose and finally a heavy truck as a battering ram, before he could be dislodged from his "fortress."

MARCO NOW PRISONER AT SAN QUENTIN

Transfer from Jail Here to Prison Marks End of Long Legal Fight

Albert Marco, asserted vice baron of Los Angeles, convicted of two counts of assault with a deadly weapon, last night was taken to San Quentin prison, where he is scheduled to serve from two to twenty years' imprisonment. He was in custody of Undersheriff Biscailuz.

Marco's transfer from the County Jail to San Quentin marks the end of a long fight by his attorneys to avoid execution of the sentence. The defense did not abandon hope until the California State Supreme Court had denied its appeal.

Marco was convicted of shooting Dominic Conterno and Harry Judson during an altercation in a Venice cafe last summer. Neither victim was seriously injured.

Since his conviction on these counts Marco went to trial with seven others charged with conspiring to falsely and maliciously cause the arrest of Councilman Jacobson with Callie Grimes on a morals charge. When the case went to the jury, Superior Judge Wood dismissed the charges against Marco and Charles Crawford, stating that no evidence had been introduced implicating them in the conspiracy.

Household Show to Be in Shape by This Evening

More than 700 persons toiled yesterday in or near the Ambassador Auditorium to make ready for the Fifth Annual Food and Household Show, which opens there Monday afternoon. At the rate work is progressing, Waldo T. Tupper, managing director, said the exhibit will be completed tonight.

The show is well stocked with side lights. Miss Edna Kirby will live in a glass house for six days; a sweeping contest for girls will be held Tuesday noon, and a housewives' beauty contest is set for Thursday.

While the show opens to the public Monday, a professional preview, expected to be attended by 20,000 food and household appliance men, will be held tomorrow.

TEXANS GATHER TODAY FOR SAN JACINTO FETE

Texans today will celebrate San Jacinto Day at their annual picnic in Sycamore Grove Park. Lyston Black, president of the Texas State Society, predicts that 20,000 former residents of the Lone Star State will be on hand to join in the singing led by Hugo Kirchhofer. John R. Quinn is scheduled to voice the welcome while J. Dabney Day, president of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank, formerly a Texas banker, is to speak. Other orators announced are Zack Lamar Cobb and Thomas J. Martin, formerly Chief of Police of San Antonio. Jules Verne Allen, singing cowboy, will render frontier songs. The celebration is to begin at 2 p.m.

INJUNCTION MOVE URGED

In accordance with a resolution introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman Fester, City Attorney Stephens was asked to consider injunction proceedings against persons who are filling in the holes along the right of way being acquired by condemnation for Silver Lake Boulevard. It was pointed out in the resolution that these holes will be required for fills in the improvement of Silver Lake Boulevard.

This is a day of specialization. The best cooks no longer use ordinary flour for cakes as they have discovered that with the specially prepared cake flour, their cake baking is far more successful.

The same applies to coffee. Thousands of particular housewives who take pleasure in serving everything the best have found the new healthful way of making coffee far more satisfactory. They have discovered that it is less trouble, requires no watching, or timing, the coffee goes farther, the flavor is more delicious, and best of all the beverage is digestible and healthful, but the above results are not obtained unless you use the specially prepared Ben-Hur Drip Coffee. Bulk coffee or other brands which have been blended for the obsolete boiling or percolating methods will not produce the same results as the special Ben-Hur Drip Coffee as the flavor is ruined in regrinding and it is only a chance that the coffee might be suitable for the Drip method in the first place. Every variety of coffee that goes into the blend of Ben-Hur Drip Coffee is selected first for delicious flavor and then for a quick releasing characteristic.

In connection with Ben Hur Drip Coffee the manufacturers are offering to the public, through the grocers, one of the most scientific filtration coffee makers on the market. It is called the Ben-Hur Healthful Coffee Maker, and is a much better type of utensil for coffee making than has heretofore been sold for $2 in the stores. They are offering these coffee makers together with a pound of the delicious new Ben-Hur Drip Coffee both for $1. This offer shows the manufacturers a considerable loss, which is charged to their advertising budget. This demonstrates the confidence of the manufacturer that the superiority of Ben-Hur Drip Coffee will induce you to continue its use permanently and thus repay them for the money they have spent in educating you to this proper method of preparing coffee.

The use of the Ben Hur Healthful Coffee Maker with the specially prepared Ben-Hur Drip Coffee produces a beverage in which the indigestible insoluble fats are eliminated, and in preparation of coffee by this method the release of the bitter, astringent tannic acid is checked.

If my readers will adopt the use of this specially prepared Ben-Hur Drip Coffee and the healthful way of preparing it, they will avoid subjecting themselves to the danger of physical ailments in the future due to accumulation of objectionable substances in the system. Why not adopt this safety precaution of making your coffee the proper healthful way, especially so when the coffee is so much more delicious and economical, and the method of preparation is so simple?

To wash and freshen rusty black lace—use equal parts of water and vinegar, heat until lukewarm and wash without soap. Rinse in a like solution and iron (on wrong side) while damp, between flannel or bath towels, until it is dry.

Candy-making, cake icing, chocolate dipping and lessons in Glace fruit may be had from the Liberty Candy and Supply Co. Their expert teachers have had experience in Europe, so, if you want to learn for home or commercial purposes, or make money in your spare time, call or write and get their plan at once. The address is 355 S. Broadway (Grant Bldg.) TUcker 4156.

Who wouldn't find Coca-Cola refreshing and delicious! Then is it not particularly desirable now that it is packed so conveniently in the Special Home Package of twelve bottles for the infinitesmal price of 50 cents. If you haven't begun to use it in this ideal way do so now. Your grocer can supply you, I am sure. Only you had better buy several cartons, 'cause Coca Cola is certain to prove popular with every member of your family.

To make linen goods glossy and prevent starch sticking to iron, add a teaspoonful of salt or a few drops of turpentine or glycerine to starch

Here is news which is particularly interesting! Do you know that you may now buy the finest improved country sausage you have tasted in years right here in the city? It is made by the Western Sausage Company from the very best government inspected eastern shoulder pork which is as you know famous for its flavor . . . this is carefully ground and then added to it is seasoning comprised of thirteen different ingredients which results in the most excellent sausage imaginable! Don't you want a pound this very day?—Well, then go to 300½ South Broadway or 302 South Hill, and in Hollywood 6400 Hollywood Boulevard.

Is it not true that every day in Southern California is like a Sunday in Paradise with the summer time being if anything a bit more ideal than the rest of the year, for we then may enjoy not only the beaches to keep us cool, but Guasti Concentrated Grape Juice which when diluted with four parts water gives us the most refreshing beverage you could possibly ask for. Indeed with so cooling a drink you have no need of sea breezes for it keeps you well and happy and contentment just naturally follows.

Now aren't you all agog to know where you may buy this Guasti (pronounced Gwah-stee) Concentrated Grape Juice? The answer is from any first class grocer . . . and if it so happens that he is sold out at the moment, just phone the Italian Vineyard Company, 1248 Palmetto street, MUtual 2124, and they will see that your order is taken care of at once. They will also see that you get a copy of their interesting booklet called "Grape Drinks and Desserts," which you will find very helpful.

To clean wringer rollers—kerosene is excellent for cleaning the rubber rollers of a wringer; after it has been applied rinse the rollers with warm water. Use a little shaving soap instead of oil on the wringer and avoid any danger of getting grease spots on clothes in the wash.

"Hughes Ice Cream—the incomparable"—that is what people say about this superpalatable ice cream which is delicious every season of the year because it never changes in quality, maintaining at all times the same high standard.

You see it is made so carefully being a combination of thick rich cream, fresh fruit juices and the best chocolate and vanilla obtainable. There is certain to be a Hughes dealer in your neighborhood.

There certainly is a distinct pleasure to be derived from banking in the Woman's Department of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association! First of all, there is an air of friendliness that is most enjoyable—while the assistance Miss Grace S. Stoemer gives her clients in financial matters is priceless. Let me urge you to open an account there soon.

Strawberry jam and almonds—add chopped almonds to strawberry jam and put it between slices of buttered bread.

The draperies you have made by H. E. Simank of 725 W. 9th Street, will of a certainty be satisfactory in every way, for the materials you have to choose from are the very smartest and ultra in the extreme, while the prices asked are very small—the workmanship leaving nothing to be desired. Samples and prices are submitted if you desire. (TUcker 2462.)

Oh, but you will find simply luscious the "special" this week at Mrs. A. M. Walden's Cake and Pastry Shop, 638 South Western avenue. (WAshington 6805.) It is cream milk chocolate cake—the best you ever tasted! Then another special is fresh rhubarb pie which you must try today. These Saturday "specials" are proving more popular each week, as you will agree once you form the habit of buying cakes, pastry and pies from Mrs. Walden.

To freshen chiffon and make it like new, hang it up in the bathroom when it is filled with steam; then hang it up in the open air.

San Clemente—"the Spanish Village by the Sea," is one of the most charming, picturesque spots in Southern California and a motor trip down there would be too ideal for words for it is only a short ride—being half way between Los Angeles and San Diego with Travaglini's Cafe San Clemente the piece de resistance or pot of gold at the journey's end. You will say after eating one of Mr. Travaglini's dinners, that you never dined better nor received more courteous attention. It is invariably the comment of those who visit this famous cafe where such delightful hospitality is dispensed. We must make mention of Travaglini's Roma Rotisserie and Food Shop at 1801 West Seventh, corner of Burlington. There you may buy cooked food as well to take home if you so prefer.

It's almost too good to be true—but true it is nevertheless—that you may actually operate an electric refrigerator for the infinitesimal cost of but $1.50 a month or even less in some instances. To think that you may now own such a refrigerator is the best news of the sort we have had in many moons and I know what your first act is going to be: You will at once make for the nearest dealer handling the electric box which best meets your needs. You see it is a well-known fact that such an article is the greatest joy and comfort any housewife may own. Her food is kept perfectly cold with no trouble whatsoever and besides that she can make delicious frozen desserts and ice cubes with no effort at all.

And isn't the low cost of operation a distinct and pleasant surprise—that we may thank the Bureau of Power and Light for—their reduced electrical rates have made electrical refrigerators fit our purses and so to this splendid concern let's express our appreciation and pleasure. This feeling will continue to grow as you use your electrical refrigerator, for it is certain to be the joy of your life!

To make water softer for washing—use four ounces of alcohol and one-half-ounce of ammonia. If for toilet purposes add to this one dram of oil of lavender.

Why not free yourself this spring from "the drab tyranny of plain walls"? Do you know how you can do it . . . Why, first of all go to any one of Mathews Paint Company's three stores and there choose wall papers with fresh new woods in line and color—so refreshing after the one-color surfaces which are now passe. The new papers are joyful in tone and gay as can be, being of the modern type in many instances. You are going to find the papers shown at Mathews's desirable, so let's start changing the old out-of-date rooms right away! Remember the three locations of Mathews: 1245 S. Hill; in Hollywood at Selma and Vine and in Pasadena, 740 E. Green.

A white crepe de chine waist may be colored by putting crepe paper of the desired color in water long enough to get the right shade; then rinse the waist.

Remember by your silver are you judged and if it is badly worn or in need of repairing it reflects upon you. So, don't let this happen because the Peerless Platers of 230½ S. Spring do triple plating and mending very reasonably. They also repair jewelry and do special designing of any article you may desire. VAndike 5417 is their phone number.

If your extra pounds are causing you concern, why not lose them in the easiest and most pleasant way I know of?—merely by eating a slice of Basy Bread with each meal. It means you do not have to conform to any old hateful diets but can eat the things you like but still grow slender and, what is more advantageous, keep slender. Basy Bread is ideal in every way and good to taste. You may buy it from Young's Market Co., 7th and Union Streets. Phone your order if you prefer. The number is DUnkirk 2201. Be sure to ask for the descriptive booklet telling all about Basy Bread and what it can do for you, won't you.

Tongue and ham sandwich—chop two parts of cold tongue and one part of cold ham very fine; pound this to a paste and season with paprika and a suggestion of mustard if desired; spread between thin slices of bread.

It will be well worth your while to go up to Witzel's Studio and see their window display of wedding photographs. The altar depicted is very impressive with the tapers and candlesticks on either side of it; the wedding bell being suspended above. And the studies of the brides are simply lovely. These are wedding days and you must have a portrait of the bride and groom, too. Suppose you make an appointment with either one of Witzel's Studios right away, taking advantage of the present of a beautiful photograph Mr. Witzel gives as a token of remembrance of the biggest day in the lives of bride and groom. The addresses are 1011 W. 7th, and 6324 Hollywood Blvd.

Lobster sandwich—remove lobster meat from shell and chop; season with salt, cayenne, prepared mustard and lemon juice, or moisten with any salad dressing. Spread mixture on crisp lettuce and place between slices of buttered toast.

Everybody will adore the homemade caramels I found out about this week past! They are known as Van Bus Kirk's "Karamel Kuts" and oh! but they are delicious—being made of pure cream creamery butter and sugar. Better secure right now one of their special week-end boxes by phoning MOrningside 17878. The address is 5120 3-4 Hollywood Boulevard.

Church Lecture Series Will be Free to Public

Free Christian Science lectures will be delivered as follows:

Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C.S.B., of Boston, tomorrow at 12:45 p.m. in Tivoli Theater, 11525 Santa Monica Boulevard, Sawtelle, under the auspices of Nineteenth Church, and Monday at 8 p.m. in Odd Fellows Hall, Beech and One Hundred and Second streets, under the auspices of Twenty-second Church.

Charles E. Jarvis, C.S., of Los Angeles, tomorrow at 3 p.m. in Madrid Theater, Sherman Way, under the auspices of Twenty-fourth Church.

The speakers are members of the board of lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston.

TRAILFINDERS TO MEET

Contests in flapjack-flipping, rope-spinning and fire-making by primitive methods will feature the gathering today of the Trailfinders, an outdoor organization for boys, at Lolomi Lodge, their headquarters at 6535 Monterey Road. The meeting will begin at 10 o'clock this morning. Through the competition the boys expect to select the best camp chef, the champion roper and the most skillful fire-maker.

Today's Bible Text

And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord. Isa. lix:20.

THEIRS NOT TO REASON WHY

A naturalist tells us that crickets fiddle for their own amusement and not for any signal or ceremonial. Now will the professor tell us why a guy plays the saxophone.

ROADSIDE TRADERS

The Assembly has passed a bill which would make it a misdemeanor for anyone to buy goods from a car parked on a State highway. This is an effort to put anonymous traders out of business, but it is going to be hard to apply the blooming thing.

BIGGER BUSINESS

American exports last year exceeded $5,130,000,000 in value. This is an increase and represents a vast commerce. No wonder we have world-trade problems that call for discretion and judgment. It might be mentioned that we are this year buying and selling more abroad than we did last. This is a great country and a big world.

OVERCOME GRAVITY

Possibly with the help of Prof. Einstein we can make the heavens more safe for our aviators by repealing the law of gravity. Anyhow, our flyers might have writs of injunction restraining the operations of the law. Then in the case of a threatened tail-spin they could straighten out and go ahead—maybe.

MARRIAGE LINES

Kemal Pasha is going to make the Turkish girls like the new Latin alphabet he has prescribed for his country. Hereafter no marriage licenses will be granted unless the principals can write and speak under the new formula. If the young Turks cannot get spliced without a Latin grammar, why they will learn Latin.

WAY TO DISARM

Lloyd George asserts that Great Britain should take the lead in disarmament—not in talking about it, but in doing it. He says that there may be a seeming risk, but actually there is none at all. The temper of the world would take care of that and the nation would gain world prestige for voluntary action. The way to disarm is to disarm.

MORNING CURFEW

Under an old ordinance the night clubs in New York are to be closed at 3 a.m. That is the Gotham curfew, but the night clubs look upon its enforcement as a conspiracy of the police to ruin them. Business is just getting good at that hour and they wish to hold the trade until the call to breakfast is heard. But the police commissioner feels that a sucker can spend all the money he can afford by that hour and it is well to knock off until another night.

A JOB FOR CANUTE

If King Canute were on the job in Chicago he might be able to make a better demonstration of his power over rising waters than he did on the memorable occasion when he commanded an Atlantic tide to recede. The ancient king's courtiers laughed in their sleeves; but to the residents of the shores of the Great Lakes the risen and still rising level of the waters are no laughing matter.

In Chicago the distress is general along the lake shore. Apartment-houses and other habitations are reported to be flooded in certain districts and the Chicago River is so high that tugs cannot pass under the bridges, though in former seasons there has been a clearance of as much as sixteen feet. The water is said to be higher at Chicago and Milwaukee than it has been in many years. Officials report that there has been a steady rise in Lake Michigan's level in the last decade.

The Chicago Daily News makes light of the rise of the water, saying that it refutes the statements often made in former years by the people of Wisconsin and other lake-bordering States that Chicago was drinking and otherwise draining the Great Lakes dry.

Be that as it may, if ever there has been any doubt about Chicago's wetness—and few have expressed such a doubt—it is now completely dispelled.

AN ACT TO SWAT TAXPAYERS

If the bill now pending in the Legislature, known as Senate Bill No. 112, and entitled "An act to prohibit the employment of aliens by contractors and subcontractors on public work," were labeled instead, "An act to swat taxpayers, to prevent public work, to encourage the importation of Porto Rican negroes and for other undesirable purposes," the title would fit it better. This measure, introduced by Senator Hurley at the behest of the union-labor lobby, is one of the most potentially mischievous pieces of legislation that ever has been considered by a California legislative body. That it has passed the Senate can only mean that the upper house acted in ignorance of the vicious character of the bill.

Under its provisions, no person not born in the United States, or fully naturalized, could be employed in road building, dam building, aqueduct building, or any other public work "except in cases of emergency caused by fire, flood or danger to life or property." It is aimed, of course, directly at employment of Mexican transient common labor; but its projectiles will demolish the taxpayers' or assessment payers' pocketbook, by multiplying the cost of all public improvements.

The reason for this is that there is no other common-labor supply in California from which contractors may draw their labor crews. The assumption that there are Americans anxious and willing to do such work is a false assumption, as every employer of labor in the State, whether on public or private work, can testify. It is with difficulty that enough Americans can be recruited for the skilled labor operations. Americans will not do pick and shovel work under a California sun for a laborer's wage.

The only alternative for employers, if such a bill passes, is to import Filipinos or Porto Ricans, neither of which can be shut out or prevented from employment under the proposed statute, and neither of which is a desirable addition to the mixture of races already existing in California. The Filipinos cannot do the work as well; the Porto Rican negro, while capable of the work, is untractable and generally undesirable. The expense of importing either would be a direct burden upon the public, and the extra expense would be of benefit to no one, least of all the American laborers, for whose benefit the act is ostensibly drawn.

The proponents of the bill forget that public work employs a large amount of skilled as well as unskilled labor, and that any restrictions which make it more expensive will inevitably decrease its volume and so cut down the opportunities of skilled labor, as well as common labor, for employment. It will also have an unfavorable effect upon those employed collaterally in making materials for use in public work. The throwing of these men, directly and collaterally employed in public work, out of employment will inevitably decrease wages in all trades, and thus depress business, adding still further to the distress of labor generally.

Even if there were an American common labor supply of sufficient volume, the additional expense imposed upon contractors in making sure that every man in their crews is a citizen would make the restriction undesirable. There is in Southern California, for instance, a large population of American-born Mexicans, difficult to distinguish from those born just across the line. If a contractor had to demand a birth certificate from every man he hired he would be in trouble at once. He would also have to safeguard himself against being imposed upon, since the act provides heavy penalties for even unintentional violation. It thus opens the door to blackmail and extortion.

Measures that provide that preference shall be given American labor in public work are proper enough and most contractors will do so anyway where it is possible. This bill makes no such saving provision; it is an absolute prohibition of the employment of aliens. There is no reason for its passage, and every reason why it should not pass.

THE CITY ATTORNEY

Possessing an importance to the general body of Los Angeles citizens which should not be ignored or slighted in the forthcoming municipal election, the contest for City Attorney calls for the exercise of careful thought and discrimination upon the part of those who, on May 7, will go to the polls in the city's primary election.

The City Attorney and his staff of assistants deal with laws and not with politics; their chief and virtually sole consideration is the legal aspect of municipal business. The head of the city's legal department should give his attention without political bias or preference to the highest interests of all the people.

As the official adviser of the City Council, the City Attorney must render a service calling not only for the experience and training of a legal mind, but for the clear vision, courage and conviction of one unselfishly determined to assume and maintain a course expressive of unwavering civic devotion.

This community on the whole has been singularly fortunate in the type of men it has selected to fill this fundamentally important post. There are several candidates at this time seeking election as a successor to the retiring incumbent, Jess E. Stephens.

The Times, after an investigation of the merits of the various aspirants, recommends the election of Edwin P. Werner, chief counsel during the last eight years of the State Inheritance Tax Department.

Mr. Werner is a seasoned attorney, well acquainted with the public business and thoroughly cognizant of the obligations and duties of public office. He possesses judgment, balance, sincerity and an understanding of the requirements of the office he seeks. He is a man of proven ability, honesty and energy.

His candidacy is sponsored by men and women representing the best elements of the community, virtually all of whom have, during his twenty-eight years as a resident of this locality, become acquainted with his private life and public career.

Mr. Werner is a graduate of the Los Angeles public schools and of the University of Southern California. He is 36 years old and is married. He is a World War veteran, a member of Pentalpha Lodge of Masons and of various civic, fraternal and social organizations here. He is a good citizen and has been an efficient public officer. His election, in the opinion of The Times, will assure a continuance of effective, industrious, non-political administration of the City Attorney's office.

SOVIET GESTURE FAILS

Now that the Russian proposals for radical world disarmament are out of the way, the Preparatory Disarmament Commission at Geneva may be able to get down to work. M. Litvinoff, head of the soviet delegation, withdrew his plan from consideration in order to save it from defeat after its fate was evident. Whether the commission can accomplish anything is still an open question; it has worked four years without result; but there is no reason why it should waste further time on an obviously impractical scheme, for which the world plainly is not ready.

The fact that, except Germany, Austria, Hungary and other nations whose armaments was restricted by the peace treaties, the nations of the world are spending as much or more for war preparations now than before 1914, indicates the need for a scaling down all along the line. But such scaling down must be gradual. So far as the nations signatory to the Washington conference are concerned, disarmament has been begun, and the beginning points the way to a continued process which would, in time, reduce all military and naval establishments to a police basis.

Members of the League of Nations are pledged to bring about this result; the United States, as the principal non-member, has already evinced a willingness to co-operate in any such movement carried out in good faith, and given a practical demonstration by scrapping a number of formidable ships. It will make further reductions if and when other nations can be induced to do likewise.

If the Geneva conference arrives at no result, the United States may well initiate further proposals, since disarmament is too important a matter to be allowed to be forgotten. But most of the nations assembled there are under written pledge to accomplish a practical plan for it, and should be given the opportunity, unhampered by such disturbances as have been caused by the Russian contingent.

DRYING MEXICO

It is announced that the new administration in Mexico is going to urge and encourage temperance without making any attempt to apply prohibition. The vice centers in the cities will be cleaned up as soon as possible and no new ones will be create. The young folks will be educated in the ills and evils of alcohol and the old ones will gain advancement and recognition on their sobriety. All of which should make a good program for a country which although centuries old is still new.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

YESTERDAY we went out to the Highland Park police station to visit a poet.

You've guessed wrong again. It never pays to jump to conclusions.

He wasn't behind the bars. In this land of the free they don't jail people for debt or even for writing poetry. Not even for vagrant verse, the only "vag" that is safe in Los Angeles. So very rarely do poets get behind the bars—only once in awhile when one tries to turn business man and hold somebody up.

We went there to see Sergeant Cyrus C. Johnson, the poet laureate of the police, who fairly may be called the champion cop poet of the world.

Poet's Dream Comes True

The current number of Sunset Magazine (San Francisco) features one of Johnson's poems. So does the current number of Psychology (New York.) Several other poems of his have been accepted—and paid for—but have not yet been published, and one New York magazine which circulates nationally and pays real money for verse, recently wrote Johnson: "We like all your poems, and have accepted all you sent us in your recent letter." If you imagine many poets, even the best known, often get letters like that, just try to find some more.

Somehow this reminds us of the good joke we have on Columbia University, New York. Columbia is getting up a report entitled, "Study of the Origins of Successful Journalists." Several members of The Times staff were complimented with questionnaires by Prof. Pitkin, who is compiling this work, and somehow one came to us. One of the questions was: "How did you secure your first $10,000, by inheritance, loan or as result of your own savings?" Answer: We secured our first $10,000 by dream, thereby proving that we have a wonderful imagination.

That's the only way we ever had a whole batch of poems accepted at once, too—by dream.

Light Feet

So any poet who can ship 'em out by wholesale and get acceptances for entire consignments can't be much of a flatty in his poetic feet, cop or no cop.

But let Johnson's verse speak for itself. Here is the poem just published in Sunset:

HILLS OF CALIFORNIA

There are elfin bugles blowing high above the fields of wheat,
There are bluebells and wild pansies where the sage and sorrow meet,
There are crystal drops of nectar in the fossels at my feet
On the hills of California in the morning.

I can hear the padres chanting in the wistful winds that blow,
They are haloed in the sunshine and the gloom of long ago.
Azure spirit voles are folding antelope and buffalo
On the hills of California in the morning.

Now white caravans assemble, watched by furtive savage folk,
And the tired oxen tremble, patient-eyed, beneath the yoke;
In the blue horizon circle blazer wisps of rifle smoke,
On the hills of California in the morning.

Shapes and phantom shadows fleeing where the wind-blown yucca waves,
Wind-drowned outcries thrill and chill me like the war cries of old braves . . .
Only ghosts my eyes are seeing, ghosts o'er long-forgotten graves,
On the hills of California in the morning.

Natural Gift

Quite a flight of fancy for a cop, what? Of course, cops are famous for their flights of fancy in evolving theories, but few would care to woo the muse while there are nursemaids still unwooed.

Johnson's verse is a natural spring. He never got past the fourth grade in grammar school. Then he went to work as a blacksmith's apprentice, and later became a blacksmith. But through long days of labor and nights devoid of ease he still heard in his heart the music of wonderful melodies. He went to night school all he could, for years, and also has taken some university extension work.

What We Call Ambition

Johnson sums up his philosophy in these verses:

Not fame, not pomp or gaudy show,
Not gold to hoard at set of sun—
If only one joy I may know
Let it be that of work well done.

My tools are poor, and dull, and crude,
But worn with labor none the less,
And if tonight comes solitude
And blissful stars . . . or nothingness . . .

What matter to this dust of skins
If I play no immortal parts
If only I do work so fine
As to give strength to human hearts.

WHEN IN ROME

Italian art dealers have been organized to catch the American trade. Some of the painters who have been turning out old masters are having difficulty in catching the top of the market. The laws of Italy make it a bit difficult to sell genuine antiques to these overseas strangers, yet the dealers have to present their wares to the Americans as originals in order to make a sale. So there are a few embarrassments that this new organization hopes to correct. Anyhow, the American who goes to Rome with a million dollars will be received with courtesy and eclat. No visitor need come away empty-handed.

DOGS OF PEACE

Americans are said to have surrounded nearly 900,000,000 hot dogs during the course of their meanderings last year. The combined bites of these dogs would reach from here to one of the farthest constellations—which might be Sirius. But the humble little frankfurter has surely gained a commanding place in our refreshment column. Nothing in the fodder line seems to have won so general a circulation.

IRRELEVANT AND IMMATERIAL

By James J. Montague

"The gangsters have no courage"—Police Commissioner Whalen.

It may be that the gangster
A coward is at heart,
He may evince a wish to wince
The while he plies his art.
He may be but a craven,
And neither bold nor game,
However, I shall always try
To dodge him just the same.

His pistol hand may tremble
When holding up a bank,
He may be scared and unprepared
For such an evil prank.
But when he sets his mind on
The gathering of loot
If he's deterred by scowl or word
He probably will shoot.

No doubt the scoundrel cowers
With palpitating fright
The while he roams about the homes
Of wealthy folk by night.
But still a lethal weapon
Though held with fear and dread
As men have found the world around
Can shoot one rather dead.

The gangster may be timid,
And it is widely known
That on his way to rob or slay
He never goes alone.
But I shall always view him
With shudders of alarm
Though craven he perhaps may be
He does a lot of harm.

Home Work for School Children

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This morning's Times speaks of Child Health Day—President Hoover the Author of the Child's Bill of Rights—Boys' Week is Coming. If any man, woman or newspaper has a heart for the real problem of children let them do something to free children from home work given to them by the schools.

Children suffer these days from the high tension we all live under. School standards are measured out not by the child, but by the mature mind accustomed to routine and hardened by exposure.

It should not be the aim of grown people to pile just as much upon children as they possibly can, but to allow them the few carefree, irresponsible years which come only once in a lifetime.

Under our present system of education there are no moments of relaxation for the children. Our schools are wonderful institutions, but they stimulate force—develop the child beyond physical endurance. The mania for speed is in the schools also and the method of rushing children through school early is of no advantage and of considerable harm.

When evening comes children are worn out, they have studied hard, played hard, listened to lectures, seen pictures. The brain all day long has photographed impressions and sensations. Dinner time comes, generally their one heavy meal, and after supper they are again required to study when the system is low of vitality.

In the high schools many young boys and girls just at the age when they are developing physically, are forced to sit up until after midnight in order to make their grades. Little boys and girls who seem nothing but babies but are in junior high schools, struggle in the evening with three and four subjects when they are sleepy and ready for bed. This tax upon their eyes alone is a black mark against our educational system which the children must suffer for all their life.

The school hours are long enough to accomplish whatever work is necessary. The school should not crowd itself into the home to rob the parents of the only few hours of the day when the family is together.

This system is all wrong and I appeal to you to come to the rescue of the children, and help to give them a childhood which is 100 per cent youth. Ask the parents what they think of home work for the children.

Distribution of Funds?

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Several years ago a friend contributed to the Chest, and was told she could designate where she wanted her contribution to go, and it would be given to the organization she named. Afterwards she asked the home that she had wanted her gift to be sent to, if they had received the donation, and they replied that they had not. Since that time, she has failed to contribute to the Chest. Now it seems to me if the officers of the Community Chest would publish an itemized statement in the daily papers, and let people know just where their money was being used; the amount given to each charitable institution, more folks would be willing to contribute to the Chest. Our church treasurers give us itemized statements of all moneys taken in and paid out and we know just where our money is going, but with the Community Chest we do not know who is given aid or how much of our finances contribute to those missions we are interested in, and many fail to give on that account. Many feel that far more is given to some organizations that do not need it so much, while others receive small amounts.

JOHN QUINN

The Record-Ledger is for John Quinn for Mayor of Los Angeles.

We do not know John Quinn, but we know his father, Harry Quinn, very well, we know that great sheep ranch up in the foothills and mesas of Kern county, where he was raised, and we have heard more or less about him since he left the ranch and began to make a name of his own.

And from what we know of the political situation in Los Angeles we think it needs a Mayor with the qualities of rugged strength, courage and honesty that John Quinn's father brought from Scotland and the north of Ireland and developed into a stalwart, self-reliant character through many years of pioneering in Australia and California. Also it needs some of the southern chivalry, graciousness and idealism that John Quinn's mother brought from her North Carolina ancestry.

The Record-Ledger is for John Quinn.—[The Record-Ledger of the Verdugo Hills.

Distress in Belfast

Poverty is so prevalent among unemployed workers of Belfast, Ireland, that the Belfast Distress Committee is co-operating with city officials in opening a distress fund. The fund will probably allow $4 a week to an unemployed man, $1.50 to his wife and 37 cents for each of his children. The committee has announced that if the distressed people are to be saved for the good times which it believes are ahead, it can only be done by granting adequate relief.

A PLEA FOR TREES

By The Foothill Philosopher

A speaker at the City Club recently voiced eloquent praise of local school children for their enthusiasm in planting thousands of trees in and near this city and told his audience that Los Angeles must become "tree minded" if the citizens would preserve and enhance the attractiveness of their metropolis.

A movement, sponsored by many splendid organizations (including the Board of Education, the Park Department and the P.-T.A.) has been started to persuade the City Council to establish the position of city forester. Creation of such a position would (or ought to) mean employment of an expert to superintend and encourage the planting of trees for the beautification of our city, already renowned for the beauty of its buildings and the prosperity and progress of its people. Money from the city treasury often is spent for less commendable enterprises.

In the heart of man is an innate hunger for the sight of growing things, especially of trees. This is true of all men, whether or not the fact is recognized by the city-born, city-bred man. In the case of the person who comes from the country to live in the city, the absence of trees creates a sense of nostalgia and loneliness which he never entirely overcomes. There is something about a tree that inspires to gladness and to goodness and their presence in big cities, in large quantities, would be at least one step toward eradication of crime. Surrounded by beautiful trees, men might, at times, be "wicked" but they never could be mean. Peaceful and calm, like resurrected saints, they seem to challenge all the fevered world, bidding the heart be quiet and setting the mind at rest. Their loveliness reacts upon the character and lives of those who dwell near them as certainly and as powerfully as qualities of inward grace react upon environment.

In the old Aztec civilization, every time a babe was born a tree was planted in its honor. If the people of Los Angeles would adopt this plan our lovely boulevards soon would resemble the evergreen-lined lanes of heaven.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Machine Shop Work?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address, Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

With $40,000 worth of real industrial equipment, men are receiving free instruction in the machine shop of the Venice Evening High School, at the corner of Walgrove and Venice avenues, Venice. The class meets on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and is open to all men who mean business. There is no charge of any kind, but men making their own tools furnish their materials.

G. E. Gyllenswan, the instructor, worked with the Union Tool Company at Torrance for years. Students under his direction have made for themselves sixteen-inch woodworking band-saws. Such saws would retail at about $35 to $50, but students make them out of about $10 to $15 worth of material.

Most of the students are already in allied trades. Some are from aircraft companies, some from machine shops, and some are plumbers. Beginners receive their share of the teacher's time, too, on whatever problem they have.

This course is excellent for apprentices, whose daily tasks keep them on one particular kind of work, and who desire to get a good grasp of every phase of machine-shop work.

Machine-shop apprentices get from $18 to $20 a week. After apprenticeship for three years, if they have shown themselves proficient, they become journeymen machinists at from 80 cents to $1.10 an hour, depending on their skill. Expert tool makers even get $1.25 to $1.50 an hour.

JUDGE WALDO M. YORK

He has gone to the land of the mystics,
The friend that we cherished so well;
And no one can tell where the land is—
For no one comes hither to tell.

Wherever it is, they will greet him,
Nor ask of the road that he came—
Still less what his faith or belief is,
Or what be his creed or its name.

If only the road be a straight one,
If only his vision was clear,
What matter the faith he believed in,
Whose life was forever sincere?

His passport all over was written
With kindliest things he had done—
The names of the poorest were on it;
A thousand had signed it as one.

What more could be asked at the portal
Whose Builder had written above:
"The road to My heaven is loving,
The road to My palace is love."

This is the fifth of a series of articles called "A Cleansing Spring Diet," which started in Tuesday's [illegible]

HOW FRUITS HELP ELIMINATION

This day will be the second day of your eliminative diet, and by this time you have probably lost the craving for other foods besides the orange juice. Oranges really contain a considerable amount of sugar, which is mostly made up of some fruit sugar and valuable salts and vitamins. In addition to the tremendous amount of elimination which is going through all of your eliminating functions, I am sure that a good deal of food comes from the chemical changes which are produced by some of the calcium and vitamins which your blood is able to assimilate from the orange juice with almost no effort.

BLOOD CHANGES

The quality of your blood always changes during a fruit fast. This change is easily seen if you have [illegible] blood examinations made [illegible] the time you are on this [illegible] diet. There is a decided and [illegible] increase in both the color of [illegible] blood and the number of red [illegible] cells. There is also a corresponding decrease in the white blood [illegible] cells. If they have been in excess, the white cells are body scavengers and they rapidly decrease in [illegible] as soon as the increased [illegible] is well established.

[illegible] you pockets in the body are [illegible] through the lymphatic [illegible]. Rheumatic toxins are more [illegible] eliminated, and the liver and [illegible] pour out their secre[illegible] more copiously.

GRAPEFRUIT IF DESIRED

Excellent results can be obtained [illegible] using the grapefruit juice [illegible] of the orange juice, and [illegible] is especially to be recommended [illegible] having any kind of liver [illegible]. If you will chew out [illegible] from the skin of the [illegible] you will be able to get [illegible] benefit of the organic elements [illegible] which have a stimulating [illegible] upon the liver elimination. [illegible] you can try substituting [illegible] grapefruit for the orange [illegible] using it part of the day [illegible] the orange juice the rest of [illegible].

Be sure to continue drinking large [illegible] of water, using at least [illegible] every half-hour from the [illegible] you get up in the morning until [illegible] time you go to bed.

GRAPEFRUIT TEA

An additional change can be [illegible] by using the skin of the [illegible] to make an infusion of [illegible]

The real thing in
BRAN FLAKES

WHEN you taste Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes your search for perfect bran flakes is at an end.

You taste the flavor of PEP such as no other bran delivers. They stay crisper in milk or cream. You get the vitamins, the mineral salts of the wheat. And just enough bean to be mildly laxative.

Sold in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy

Author of "Your Heart Year to Health"

Write me your personal questions on health and diet, addressed to me in the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

This is the fifth of a series of articles entitled "A Cleansing Spring Diet" started in Tuesday's issue.

FRUITS HELP ELIMINATION

Today will be the second day of your alkaline diet, and by now you have probably instituted for other foods besides fruits and juices. Oranges really are a remarkable amount of value which is mostly made from fruit sugar and valuable salts and vitamins.

In addition to the tremendous value in the elimination of dissolution which is going through all of your eliminating organs, I am sure that a great deal of food comes from the fruit juices which are produced from the calcium and vitamins which your blood is able to assimilate from the orange juice almost no effort.

BLOOD CHANGES

The quality of your blood always changes during a fruit fast. This is true even if you have treated examinations made from time to time you are on this diet. There is a decided and marked increase in both the color of the blood and the number of red corpuscles. There is also a corresponding increase in the white blood cells which have been in excess. These cells are body scavengers and they rapidly decrease in number as the increased blood is well established.

The poisons in the body are carried through the lymphatic circulation. Therefore toxins are more readily removed, and the liver and kidneys pour out their secretions copiously.

GRAPEFRUIT IF DESIRED

Similar results can be obtained by using the grapefruit juice instead of the orange juice, and personally to be recommended that during any kind of liver trouble. If you will chew out the skin of the grapefruit you will be able to get some of the organic elements which have a stimulating effect on the liver elimination.

However you can try substituting grapefruit for the orange by using it part of the day and orange juice the rest of the day.

In order to continue drinking large quantities of water, using at least a pint every half-hour from the time you get up in the morning until the time you go to bed.

GRAPEFRUIT TEA

An additional change can be made by using the skin of the grapefruit to make an infusion of grapefruit tea. This is made by pouring boiling water over the grapefruit skin and allowing it to stand for a few minutes until the oils and the organic elements are extracted. Use fruit jars or earthern dishes for this, and not metal ware.

This grapefruit tea will have a slightly bitter taste, due to the organic glucoside "Naringin," but you will find it helpful in producing more biliary elimination, and this change will also help you in drinking more water.

Be sure to keep up your enemas and sponge baths, also the deep-breathing exactly as I advised you to do on the first day of these instructions. To be sure you get it right, I am going to rewrite the regime I gave you on the first day.

INSTRUCTIONS REPEATED

Upon arising, brush the teeth vigorously for about five minutes using a stiff brush and any good tooth powder or dentifrice. Take a few deep-breathing exercises before an open window. Next, take an enema, using a quart of warm water, followed by a warm or cold sponge or shower bath. Use the cold water if you get the proper flush of blood to the skin. Next, drink an eight-ounce glass of orange juice, and repeat about every two hours during the day. This is the only food you are to have.

Use at least one eight-ounce glass of water every half-hour until bedtime, but take more if you can.

Use another enema and shower bath before retiring at night.

You can go about your regular duties as usual, and will notice no particular symptoms except possibly a slight headache which will pass away after the first day or two and must be endured without using any headache remedies.

These same instructions are to be followed also on Monday when another article will appear giving you next Tuesday's instructions.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Ear Noises

Question: Hopeful writes: "Have had whistling noises in my head for over a year, following a severe illness. Frequently get a tired feeling in the heart. Would it be injurious for me to work in a place where the air is filled with gold dust which is printed on labels? My lungs are not any too strong. I am 34 years old."

Answer: I am sending an article on ear noises, together with fasting and dieting instructions. The breathing of the air filled with the gold bronze can certainly not be healthful, especially if the lungs are affected, but I do not believe this would cause your ear noises.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 1:30 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will give a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

VIENNA CREAM CAKE

Beat the yolks of six eggs until thick and lemon colored, with one cupful of sifted sugar, sift three-fourths of a cupful of flour with two tablespoonfuls of chocolate, add this to the yolks of eggs, beat well, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the six eggs and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla extract; place in a round pan, that has been lined with paper and bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Cool, split and fill with a nut cream and cover the top with powdered sugar.

NUT CREAM

Scald a double boiler one cupful of cream and allow to reach the boiling point. Beat the yolks of two eggs and two tablespoonfuls of sugar until light and add to the hot cream, which has been thickened to add two-thirds of a cupful of chopped walnut meats, remove from the fire, add a tablespoonful of orange juice and spread on the cake when cold.

SOUR CREAM MARYLAND

Cut a small Belgian hare in pieces, roll in dry flour, season, and fry in beaten egg, that has been diluted with two tablespoonfuls of water, roll in fine bread crumbs, heat a saute pan, place in it two tablespoonfuls of butter, and two tablespoonfuls of shortening, lay in the pieces of Belgian hare, cook until golden brown on all sides, place the pan in a moderate oven, and cook until tender; cover the bottom of a hot platter with a cream sauce, lay on the sauce slices of buttered toast, cover with the cooked hare, garnish with slices of crisp cooked bacon and corn fritters. Sprinkle over the top chopped parsley.

CORN FRITTERS

Sift one cupful of sifted flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, mix into it one cupful of milk, two well-beaten eggs, half a teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, and one can of corn, that has been rubbed through a sieve, drop by large tablespoonfuls onto a hot well-oiled griddle and bake a nice brown on both sides.

VEGETABLE BOUILLON

Place in a saucepan four cupfuls of canned tomatoes, one large scraped and sliced carrot, five chopped stalks of celery, four chopped young green onions, one chopped pimiento, one bay leaf, and a small blade of mace, bring to a boil, and simmer for twenty minutes. Strain, add two tablespoonfuls of cider, two tablespoonfuls of orange juice and a seasoning of salt and paprika, reheat, and serve in consomme cups.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Tuesday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

ACTOR WOULD BUY UP NEIGHBORS' PIANOLAS

Neighbors of House Peters, film actor, living at 806 North Camden Drive, Beverly Hills, were offered an opportunity yesterday to sell their pianolas at market price. After the purchase the musical instruments are to provide fuel for a public burning.

The offer, made publicly by Peters, is in connection with the debate that has been under way for some time between the actor and his neighbors. This discussion has to do with noise-making devices that are brought into play in the early hours of the morning, thus disturbing the quiet and peace of the residential district.

Peters was placed under a $1000 bond last Tuesday by Police Judge Strellinger of Beverly Hills on a complaint of Maj. William Korst, seconded by W. H. Simons. They charged that Peters operated his radio early in the morning and had perfected some sound innovations which greatly disturbed the neighborhood.

The actor retaliates now by charging that the player-pianos are operated at all hours of the night, and that a well-known master of ceremonies rehearses his dancing chorus in a near-by residence at a time when people should be asleep.

In making his offer Peters says: "I offer to buy every pianola in my block, in the house across the way, and those abutting my place in the rear, at the present market value. I will guarantee to burn the torture devices in any spot designated by our Fire Chief, provided the neighbors will sign a pledge to purchase no other noise-making devices while residing in Beverly Hills. This offer is open for inspection and until midnight next Friday."

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children if stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-sucking, symmetrical spine, pad wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lung water, rupture, stool and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

BUTTERMILK AN APPETIZING AND WHOLESOME FORM OF MILK

At regular intervals, someone writes me: "What do you think about buttermilk? Can I give it to my older child as well as the baby?" Or, "Is buttermilk as good as sweet milk for children? My son likes it better and will drink all I give him."

Buttermilk made from churned sour milk is entirely fat free, and for those children who find fat in any form irritating, it is a more successful food than skimmed milk, which cannot always be entirely freed of fat. It is just as good as the milk it is made from, which only means that if the milk was good, clean milk and churned as soon as soured, the resultant buttermilk would be excellent; and if the milk were old and dirty, no amount of churning would make it fit for the small child to drink.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR OWN

Unless you do your own churning, or know the churner and his product, it is safer to make buttermilk at home by the use of some of the well-known agents for turning sweet milk into sour, such as Bulgarian bacillus tablets or an acidophilus culture. With these, one may buy the best grade of milk, use whole milk (if the child has no difficulty with the cream content) and "set" the milk as one would bread, in a covered pan on the back of a warm stove or in a warm place and let it incubate for twelve hours or longer. Then the cream is skimmed off, if a fat-free mixture is better for the child, the whole beaten smooth with an egg beater, and for the small baby the sugar and water necessary for the formula added to it. The child of nine months or so may have it just as it is.

LACTIC ACID MILK GOOD

Lactic acid milk, which is just another form of buttermilk, is made with whole or skimmed milk and lactic acid added to it drop by drop, or mixed first with water and sugar and then this mixture added to the milk. Mothers who have reared their babies successfully on this type of formula do not need to be told how good it is. The others may feel safer with a buttermilk with the contents of which they are more familiar than with the lactic acid milk.

For the child who is recovering from an attack of diarrhea, the soured milks are marvelous. For the child who has eczema because of an intolerance for fat, these milks are a solution to a fat-free formula. For the child who is a chronic vomiter, and has difficulty with sweet-milk formulas, these thicker milks should be given a trial because of their thickness and their ease of digestion.

One would think we were making out a case for sour milk against sweet milk, which, of course, isn't true, but it has a real place in the diet of the infant or the child and buttermilks, natural or artificial, should be better known.

HEARINGS POSTPONED

The City Council yesterday postponed the hearing of protests against the ordinances of intention for the improvement of Dalton avenue between Eighty-seventh and Ninety-second streets and of Gardner street between Hollywood Boulevard and Fountain avenue, the next date for the former being set as May 17 and for the latter as October 4.

LAST SAD HONORS PAID TO AIR-CRASH VICTIMS

While encircling airplanes droned a requiem overhead, the bodies of Oscar Bayer and Leslie J. Johnson, who met death in the crash of a plane at Clover Field Tuesday, were laid at rest yesterday in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale. Interment followed separate funeral services. Last rites for Bayer were conducted from Brown Brothers' chapel, 935 West Washington street, and for Johnson, in the Little Church of the Flowers.

As the cortege for Bayer, heroic motorcycle officer, left the chapel and started for the cemetery, accompanied by a large following of his police and civilian friends, five planes kept vigil over it from the sky, and hovered about during the ceremonies at the grave. At the conclusion of the services, one of them dropped a flag and floral piece, attached to a small parachute, from an altitude of 1500 feet. Rev. C. Sydney Maddox of the West Adams Baptist Church, read the service over Bayer.

Near by, Johnson was going to his last resting-place. An inspector for the Douglas airplane factory, he was better known as a member of the Golden State Band, the Elks' Greater 99 Band, and the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry Band. For six years he had been a trumpeter with them, so yesterday the Golden State Band attended in a body, wearing civilian clothes; and a firing squad from the infantry organization discharged a volley over the grave. A bugler sounded taps and the services were at an end. Rev. S. H. Bailes officiated.

It became known yesterday that Johnson, who only last Saturday had received his commission in the Naval Reserves, was to have been married in June. Bayer had a wife and four young children, the youngest of whom was the first child to have been born in Los Angeles in 1929, the birth occurring shortly after midnight, New Year's Eve.

The airplanes participating in the funerals yesterday were piloted by Lieuts. Sweeley and Herberger and W. A. Hall H. E. Renaud and Emile Genersaux. They were monocoupes supplied by the Lincoln Airlines, Mono Aircraft Company and Compton Airport.

Throng Sees Style Revue by Shriners

A pageant of feminine beauty and attractive wearing apparel was unfolded before more than 6500 members of Al Malaikah Temple of the Mystic Shrine, their wives and friends last night at the Shrine Auditorium. It was the first fashion show presented by the Shriners, and was under direction of Peggy Hamilton, style expert.

A bathing-beauty contest was held as a preliminary to the show at which more than fifty young girls of Los Angeles vied for honors. Loving cups were presented to the winners of each classification by Noble Joseph Musgrove, master of ceremonies. Miss Jacqueline Johnson won the sweepstakes premium as the cutest and most popular girl in the contest, judged by the applause of the audience. She will receive a scholarship to a well-known school for girls as a reward.

Leading fashion shops of the city entered costumes ranging from negligee to valuable fur coats in the show. More than seventy-five models appeared in the grand finale arranged as a wedding scene with Miss Hamilton gowned as the bride. An elaborate vaudeville program was given between the style presentations. An informal dance was given by the Shriners following the show.

"Syncopation Season" Starts

Syncopation Season opens today, the celebration being sponsored by the Music Trades' Association in conjunction with the Radio Trades' Association. Commencement of the thirty days' gala season of live music is to be heralded by a parade headed by Cyril Edney's American Legion Drum Corps. The procession starts at 5 p.m. from the Biltmore and will proceed down Broadway to the Chamber of Commerce. The Fox Criterion Theater has entered a gorgeous float which will be exhibited throughout the celebration.

Everything pertaining to the realm of music is stressed in Syncopation Season. Music dealers, orchestras, bands, night clubs and ballrooms will feature the newest sheet music, records and window displays. Hits of "Syncopation," the musical extravaganza, which opened yesterday, include "Do Something," "Jericho," and "I'll Always Be In Love With You."

Couple Wedded in Night Court

A life term was decreed in the night court last night when Judge William B. McConnell officiated at the first marriage ceremony in the city's newest place of justice. The first couple to hear this sentence in this court were Policeman Roy Rogers of the Central Division, and Mrs. Sadie Rogers, a house detective of Bullock's Department Store. Each is 33 years of age, and for each this is the third matrimonial venture.

Policeman Robert L. Armstrong of the warrant office, and Mrs. Armstrong stood up with the bridal party as best man and matron of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will make their home at 4227 Lexington avenue.

CEMENT PLANT ISSUE EVADED

Council Quickly Sidesteps Discussion of Project

Randall Resolution Buried Until After Election

He and Hall Alone in Their Effort to Get Action

Creating a mad scramble among office-seeking Councilmen to evade the issue, Alphonzo Bell's Santa Monica cement proposition, objected to by scores of organizations and property owners, made its appearance in the Council chamber yesterday and promptly was "buried" until after the coming elections.

The cement issue was submitted to the unwilling attention of the Council by Councilman Randall, who introduced a resolution which, if adopted, would have removed hearing on Bell's application for a permit to operate from the City Planning Commission to the City Council.

Hardly had the resolution been read, however, before signs and sounds of pained disapproval were apparent.

"Let's adjourn," said one Councilman, seeking an easy way out.

"Refer it to the City Planning Committee," suggested another, opening the way for another sidetrack.

RESOLUTION SECONDED

None of the voices that grew almost to an uproar identified themselves, however, and Councilman Hall rose amid the melee and seconded Randall's resolution.

The situation, from the politically ambitious Councilmen's point of view, apparently was getting serious. Just outside the Councilmen's ring of seats were several persons prominently identified with the Bell-Traylor-Day cement crowd. In another group, fully as apparent, were official representatives of the numerous protestants.

Councilman Alber (not running for re-election,) apparently sensing his colleagues' predicament, asserted himself against Randall's resolution. He made a motion that it be referred to the City Planning Committee.

Randall rose in his own defense.

RANDALL'S PLEA

"There is no use in any Councilman trying to run away from this issue," he declared. "Don't make a political football out of it. Let's settle it before the election—before the primaries."

This brought vociferous objections from the listening Councilmen. Several pointed out that the hearing on the cement application before the City Planning Commission has not been completed and asserted they have nothing on which to base an opinion.

In answer Councilman Hall pointed out that the city charter provides that the Planning Commission make a report within thirty days of the filing of an application, in the absence of which the matter might be taken up by the City Council at its option, and that the Planning Commission in a written statement has admitted that its jurisdiction automatically has ended.

MATTER SIDETRACKED

These views, however, met with such little favor that finally Councilman McAllister made a motion that the Randall resolution be "received and filed," which meant buried, to all intents and purposes.

"Call the roll," demanded Hall.

"What do you want a roll call for?" asked another Councilman.

"Well, I want to put your fellows on record, anyway," admitted Randall.

"Let's adjourn!" shouted Councilman Ingram.

He got a lot of spontaneous seconds to his motion, but Councilman Davis, who was acting president of the Council in the absence of Bonelli, decided that the roll would be called.

VOTE ON ISSUE

Those voting to file Randall's resolution were Councilmen Alber, Davis, Foster, Hughes, Ingram, Lewis, McAllister, Martin, Sanborn and Webster. Those voting against it were Councilmen Randall and Hall. Councilmen Bonelli, Jacobson and Colden were absent, the latter having left the Council chamber on an "important engagement" a few minutes before the cement matter came up.

Close observers of the situation, however, declare that the vote does not correctly indicate the stand of the various Councilmen on the cement situation and that if forced to a show-down many that voted to "bury" Randall's resolution would vote against the Bell application. However, it was pointed out, in view of the coming election the Councilmen wished to avoid that showdown at the present time.

CANADIAN MILITARY MAN DIES

Prince Edward Island Guest in City Succumbs to Heart Disease

Col. Fred S. Moore, former provincial military commander of Prince Edward Island, died yesterday at 249 South Oakhurst Drive, Beverly Hills. He was spending the winter here with Harold G. Black, as he had done on alternating winters for fifteen years. Col. Moore's home was Charlottetown, capital of Prince Edward Island. His body will be taken there by his son-in-law, Charles H. Black, who arrived here Tuesday. Heart disease was the cause of death.

Col. Moore was born in Charlottetown in 1846. He gained prominence in the military organization there. He served as Regent of Mt. Allison University, N. B., and was a prominent member of the United Church of Canada. He leaves a son, Capt. Louis A. Moore of Summerside, P.E.I., and a daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Black of Charlottetown. Military honors will attend his funeral at his home city.

RELIGIOUS WORK WILL BE GUIDED

Mrs. C. R. Boyd, Col. C. R. Boyd

NEW 'ARMY' POST GIVEN COL. BOYD

Salvation Leader Named as Principal of College at San Francisco

Col. C. R. Boyd, formerly divisional commander of the Salvation Army for Southern California, yesterday was appointed principal of the Western Salvation Army Training College at San Francisco. Col. and Mrs. Boyd will leave Los Angeles for their new post today and will take up his duties at the college next Friday.

One of the best-known and ablest Salvation Army officials in the United States, Col. Boyd became divisional commander for Los Angeles and the Southland in 1918 and maintained that position until 1926. He organized the Salvation Army Advisory Board soon after his arrival here from Milwaukee and was closely associated with many civic and charitable movements and institutions, including the Community Chest.

Appointed, in 1926, as commander of Salvation Army work in the Hawaiian Islands, Col. Boyd went to Honolulu, remaining there until last September when he returned to Los Angeles for a surgical operation and an extended vacation. As principal he will be under the direction of Commissioner Adam Gifford, western territorial commander.

Col. Boyd will finish the training of the cadets during the present session and in June the graduates will be commissioned as officers to various posts of the western territory.

TATUM TO BE HONORED AT LUNCHEON TODAY

The event, according to Cecil B. Barker, general manager of the Tatum concern, also includes the celebration of the successful inauguration of the $6,000,000 Tatum Investment Trust, of which the Babcock corporation is fiscal agent.

NEW ERA DAWNS IN MEXICO

Masonic Club Luncheon Speaker Says End of Revolt Will Bring Great Economic Advance

The present crumbling revolution in Mexico is the dying rumble of 100 years of strife in Mexico and marks the beginning of a new era of marked improvement in the southern republic, Dr. C. N. Thomas, educator and authority on Mexican affairs, told those gathered at the Masonic Club luncheon yesterday.

Dr. Thomas recently returned from a tour of Mexico during which he traveled more than 1000 miles by automobile and 4000 miles by rail.

The plan of the present revolutionary leaders was to start an independent republic in the northwest of Mexico, including Chihuahua, Sonora and Sinaloa, the speaker asserted, and the rebels believed that they could get substantial cooperation from sinister groups in the United States.

President Hoover's mandate forbidding co-operation with the revolutionists, however, Dr. Thomas believes, blocked this plan, and the action will be tremendously far-reaching on the future diplomatic relationships between Mexico and all Latin-American countries, who have regarded this country with some doubt since the United States acquired Texas and other lands as a result of the war with Mexico.

Dr. Thomas sees undoubted advancement in the centralization of the Mexican Federal government, the broadening viewpoint of the Mexican people, and their application of the railroads, tractors, the radio and other modern improvements. Sixty per cent of 2,500,000 children of school age are attending school, he said, and education is thus becoming a vital force in Mexico.

In conclusion, the educator predicted Mexico's economic improvement will be California's gain, as trade relationships between this State and Mexico already are well established.

NEW CLEWS IN BEATING OF COOLEY

Fingerprints Discovered in Pasadena Room to be Checked by Police

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, April 19.—Fingerprints of the man believed to have been the person who ransacked the apartment of Victor A. Cooley, prominent automobile dealer here, after Cooley had been beaten unconscious, may lead to the solution of the mysterious Tuesday midnight attack, Chief of Police Kelley announced tonight.

Examination of articles in the North Vernon - avenue apartment where Cooley was assaulted while apparently asleep in bed, revealed numerous fingerprints that do not tally with Cooley's or other persons' who have been questioned in connection with the case.

Four persons and possibly five are to be questioned by police to throw additional light on the assault, Chief Kelley announced. One will be J. L. Howard, Cooley's roommate, who found Cooley unconscious when he returned to the apartment shortly after midnight and called police.

Through Howard police hope to learn enough of Cooley's private life to lead them to some person who had a grudge against Cooley. Robbery as a motive, police say, has been eliminated.

At the Pasadena Hospital attaches said Cooley's condition is so grave that he may not survive the night. Mrs. Cooley, his estranged wife, continues her bedside vigil and remains in the hospital even during the few hours she sleeps.

Three more photographs of Mrs. Evelyn Merritt Hanan, daughter of the late Lewis J. Merritt, millionaire mining man, and who flew here by airplane Wednesday from Reno, Nev., when she heard of the attack, are being held by police along with the one of her found on the wall of Cooley's apartment.

On the back of one photograph is inscribed: "From one who will always love you, no matter what sorrow you may bring her."

Mrs. Hanan, who recently divorced Ralph Hanan, one-time chauffeur for the Merritt family, was unable to throw any light on the assault and is in seclusion at her late father's home. She visited Cooley's hospital room Wednesday night.

An endearing letter from an unidentified writer postmarked at Reno, Nev., on the 14th inst., is being investigated, Chief of Police Kelley said. Today it was shown to Howard by Detective Clauser to identify the handwriting.

Police have been unable to ascertain whether Cooley's assailant entered the room by pass key, was let in by the victim, or whether Cooley retired without locking his door, as he often had done, Howard reported.

DRY FORCES CONFER ON CAMPAIGN

Meeting Held at Office of William R. Woods, Jr., Prohibition Administrator

Mobilization of the dry enforcement forces of Southern California was begun yesterday at a conference held at the offices of William R. Woods, Jr., recently appointed Federal dry administrator for this district. The meeting, which was attended by heads of all dry enforcement agencies in Southern California, was called by Mr. Woods and Maj. Frank R. McReynolds, who recently was appointed to the position of field supervisor of Federal dry forces for the Pacific Coast States and Hawaii.

Those attending the conference were Mr. Woods, Maj. McReynolds, Chief of Police Davis, Capt. James Benton, head of the Sheriff's dry force; Clyde Plummer, head of the District Attorney's dry force; U.S. Atty. McNabb and W. L. Peters, assistant Federal dry administrator.

Methods of bringing about cooperation between the various Federal, city and county forces were discussed and tentative plans were outlined. A similar meeting is planned for the future.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council confirmed the assessments yesterday for the improvement of Regent street between Hughes avenue and Jasmine street and of White Oak avenue between Burbank and Ventura boulevards. The Council put over to Monday and Tuesday, respectively, the hearing of appeals against the confirmation of the assessments for the improvement of Elm street between Isabel street and San Fernando Road and of Longfellow street between Avenues 52 and 54.

CHURCH TOPICS ANNOUNCED

Numerous Interesting Events Scheduled for City's Houses of Worship Tomorrow

Last Rites for Former Mayor Set for Today

Funeral services for Charles E. Sebastian, former Mayor of Los Angeles, will be conducted this afternoon at 2:30 in the chapel of Robinson & Adair, undertakers, 817 West Venice Boulevard, Rev. Glen MacWilliams officiating. The body will be cremated and the ashes placed in the grave where his mother was buried in Rosedale Cemetery many years ago.

Full Masonic rites will be read by the Mizpah Lodge under direction of Worshipful Master Sturdevant, who, with other lodge officers will have charge of the arrangements.

A police honor guard composed mostly of men who served under Mr. Sebastian when he was Chief of Police will escort the body to the Rosedale Crematory from the funeral chapel.

Sportsmen Buy Dinner Tickets

An even $10,000 had been subscribed up to yesterday for the second annual sportsman's banquet and entertainment at the Biltmore next Wednesday, according to announcement by Kennedy Ellsworth, president of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sale of tickets to the dinner during the next five days will result in a considerably larger fund being raised this year than last year to carry out the Junior Chamber's annual program of winter sports and games, Ellsworth said. New subscribers are John G. Bullock, Wilbur May, Bernal H. Dyas, Dr. Harry Wilson, Marion Gray, L. M. Lockhart, Garretson Dulin, George P. Lyons, Fred McPherson, Hal Shields, Thomas W. Banks, Ed Nolan and L. D. Sale.

PETITION TO BE FILED

On recommendation of its Public Works Committee the City Council yesterday voted to file the petition for the improvement of Formosa avenue between Beverly Boulevard and Third street, the property owners having requested that the petition be withdrawn.

THREE AUTOISTS SUED BY VICTIM

Injured Man Names All Car Owners Participating in Accident

Walter Bennet didn't know which of three automobiles that were involved in the accident that resulted in his injuries last November was responsible, so he sued the owners of them all. The case was taken by submission by Superior Judge Gates yesterday. Defendants were George T. Wilson, Gordon Rysinger and Daniel Clayton. Wilson ran into Rysinger's car, which knocked Clayton's car into Bennett.

SUIT ON BOY'S DEATH SETTLED FOR $8500

A $51,000 damage suit was compromised for $8500 when attorneys for Arthur J. Linde and Willard Warne, contractor, took a stipulation before Superior Judge Smith yesterday. Linde sued Warne for the death of 4-year-old Arthur LeRoy Linde. The boy was riding along a sidewalk where a pot of tar used for curing concrete was boiling. Becoming overheated, the liquid exploded, burning the boy so badly that he died the next day.

TWO SIGN FOR "JOE COLLEGE"

Leo McCarey Will Direct Film for Pathe

Paul Page and Lola Lane Go to Havana

Buck and Bubbles, Negro Comics, to Talk

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Both a director and a leading lady were signed yesterday by Pathe. And both are to be connected with Eddie Quillan's next starring picture, "Joe College."

JEANETTE LOFF

It is probably polite to mention the lady first, and therefore it is with interest that we announce that Jeanette Loff is to share honors with Sally O'Neill in a quite equally important role as that which Miss O'Neill will play opposite Quillan.

The director signed for the picture is Leo McCarey, who was formerly with Roach during as many as eight years, and who is considered one of the finest comedy directors in the business.

FOX NAMES LEADING PLAYERS FOR FILM

That sound and dialogue pictures can be made anywhere is rapidly being demonstrated, as take the case of Fox's "The Girl from Havana." This picture will be "shot" in the locale named in the title, and sound equipment will be transported down there, I hear.

LOLA LANE

In the meantime two charming young players have just been assigned the leads in the picture, which Ben Stoloff, who made such a success of "Speakeasy," will direct. Paul Page and Lola Lane are the players in question. Both have been making a success in the talkers.

The company which Stoloff will take to Havana with him on May 6 will include not only Page and Miss Lane, but also many other members of the cast, as well as many technicians and mechanics, a company altogether comprising some thirty members.

Ralph Graves Columbia Lead

Since Ralph Graves signed his five-year contract sans option with Columbia, he has been a sort of jack - of - all trades for Harry Cohn, his duties including those of writer, supervisor and other important members of a picture company staff.

Ralph Graves

Now, however, Ralph is to get a chance to act once more. He was assigned yesterday the featured role in "Flight," a story of the life of a marine in the aerial branch of the service.

Graves, you remember, filled an important role in M.-G.-M.'s "Flying Fleet," and it was undoubtedly because of this that he was decided upon by Columbia executives for the featured role in "Flight," which Frank Capra will direct.

Wallace Beery Plays Drama

You may just as well get it out of your head first as last that Wallace Beery can play only comedy roles. Indeed it looks as though he were destined for straight dramatic roles from now on.

His latest assignment by Paramount indeed is probably the most powerful in which he has appeared since his departure from comedies. He will play Gen. Orlando Jackson in Charles Rogers's new all-talking production, "Magnolia," from Booth Tarkington's story.

Myrtle McLaughlin with M.-G.-M.

That charming young California girl, Myrtle McLaughlin, seems destined to attain a like success with many other talented California girls.

At any rate, following a long and earnest period of study abroad during which she trained under Frank La Forge, composer, and Halatesta, noted voice teacher, in Milan, Miss McLaughlin has decided to go into talking pictures, and has already secured an engagement.

Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer have signed the young artist for a role in their "Hollywood Follies," in which Miss McLaughlin not only will act, but will also sing.

Buck and Bubbles in Films

Still the colored artists continue to rise in film popularity.

Buck and Bubbles, one of the most popular teams of colored comedians on the vaudeville stage, have been signed by Pathe to play the roles of Wildcat and Demmy in the series of two-reel dialogue comedies which the concern is producing from Hugh Wiley's popular Saturday Evening Post negro stories.

SONGS ARE FEATURED IN NEW TALKIE

"Syncopation" at Criterion Depends Mainly on Jazz for Entertainment

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

She hands back to the villain the jewels that he gave her; so every thing comes out nicely at the close!

"Syncopation" isn't so powerful on plot, but it has a plenitude of music. Barbara Bennett, Bobby Watson, Morton Downey and Ian Hunter are among its principal players. They are Greek as names to the majority of film fans, but one or the other of them has talents that fit into the talkie scheme of things.

Downey does some singing in a high tenor voice, and Miss Bennett and Watson dance. Waring's Pennsylvanians do most of the accompanying. And there are some clever and amusing lines.

"Syncopation," which is showing at the Criterion Theater, was adapted from the novel, "Stepping High." The story and dialogue are by Gene Markey, and the adaptation by Frances Agnew. Bert Glennon directed.

Some of the best moments in the production are provided by Mac-Kenzie Ward—I believe it is he—in an effete role, and Dorothy Lee with her song, "Oh, Do, Do Something Now."

Downey carols a good sentimental number "I'll Always Be In Love With You," and the jazzical "Jericho." If you like his sort of high-pitched voice, you'll like the songs.

"Syncopation" tells the story of a vaudeville dancing team, husband and wife, the latter of whom goes New Yorky. Meaning the same practically as going Hollywood, only with a transplanting of the locale. She gets too "good" both socially and professionally for her spouse, adopts the Ritz manner, and is intrigued by the smooth persuasions of a scion of the idle rich.

It is patented plot No. 11 or 12—I forget which. But if you aren't too particular about story you may enjoy the warbling, and the occasional comedy repartee. Myself I'm not sold on this type of picture for the advancement of the talkie art, though in its way it may perhaps be termed entertaining.

In addition to the feature, there is a Robert Benchley film, and a short sketch, written by Eugene Walter, with nary a woman in the cast. However, it's a woman that motivates the plotlet. And despite that she is never seen she causes plenty of trouble. This short feature is not without its punch. Robert Edeson is among those appearing.

The Benchley sketch is hardly up to precedent.

Operetta Said to be Advance

Roy Del Ruth has written another chapter in motion-picture history. This is the opinion of many among those who are daily viewing the first Vitaphone light opera, "The Desert Song," playing currently at Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood, which he directed.

In making "The Desert Song" Del Ruth is said to have turned out a production which is a revelation of the new order that will revolutionize the talking picture, just as the talking picture has revolutionized the silent screen.

The director is credited with having caught much of the glamour and fascination of the famous operetta in his picture—the gay, light, swinging rhythm of it, and the drama.

Proof that Warner Brothers are more than pleased with his work is seen in the fact that they have entrusted Del Ruth with the making of "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," an all-technicolor, all-talking, singing and dancing special featuring Nancy Welford, Ann Pennington, Nick Lucas, Conway Tearle, William Bakewell and a supporting cast.

Singing Comics Welcomed Here

Stage and screen celebrities, studio and theater officials and others of note will officially welcome Gus Van and Joe Schenck, song stars, back to California tomorrow at the Orpheum.

Just back from London and Paris, where they were acclaimed more highly than on any of their previous continental visits, the inimitable pair comes here for a special engagement, following which, it is reported, they will plunge into Hollywood studio production on feature talkies.

With them at the Orpheum next week will be Will Fyffe, Scottish comedian; Ken Murray with his revue, and other Radio-Keith-Orpheum attractions. Fyffe and Murray, held over by popular demand, will present new acts.

Theater Turned Over to Kiddies

A complete show, designed for children only, will be featured at the Paramount Theater this morning, when the first of a series of kiddies' matinees will be inaugurated.

This is believed to be the first time that a de luxe downtown motion-picture theater is staging a children's show as a regular feature of its weekly program.

"Monk" Watson, the master of ceremonies, and Milton Charles, featured organist, will have special stunts and acts on the stage for the younger folks. Comedies not usually seen on a regular program will also be screened.

STAR TO COME

The same degree of success which marked Nancy Welford's stage work is being freely predicted for her on the screen. Miss Welford, who is regarded as one of New York's brightest musical-comedy stage stars, is now enacting one of the featured roles in "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," which Roy Del Ruth is directing for Warner Brothers as a Vitaphone production.

"Tons of Money" to be Weighed

Aileen Pringle

Will be an attraction at the Vine-street Theater tomorrow evening, when the farce comedy is presented to first-nighters by Franklin Pangborn.

BEHRMAN WIT DESCRIBED

S. N. Behrman, who writes smart sophisticated high comedy, and whose style frequently is compared with that of Somerset Maugham, was first introduced to American playgoers by his Theater Guild success, "The Second Man," to be presented as the second the Guild repertory company series of four at the Figueroa Playhouse for one week, beginning Monday evening.

In "The Second Man," Behrman, uncommonly wise about his own generation, has chosen an intriguing psychological idea on which to work out his gay wit: the better self—the self which would rule life by sheer emotions but which is held in leash by the practical problem of expediency presented by the mind.

It is this dual self in the cynical, witty, debonnair young fiction writer which causes the entangling situations involving himself, a wealthy, gracious widow and an emotionally insurgent young girl.

Produced under direction of Philip Moeller, and with sets and costumes by Raymond Sovey, the offering already has created much interest among drama patrons. Four of the principal roles will be handled by Elisabeth Risdon as Mrs. Frayne, Peg Entwistle as Monica, Alan Mowbray as Clarke Storey and Neal Caldwell as Austin Lowe.

Clubwomen to View Exploits

One of the largest matinee parties so far arranged for attendance at the Fox Carthay Circle Theater will take place Friday afternoon, when the club members of the Southern California Federation of Women's Clubs will gather for a performance of Douglas Fairbanks in "The Iron Mask."

It is estimated that more than 700 members from the city and surrounding towns will be on hand for this occasion.

In the film, Fairbanks portrays again the role of D'Artagnan, Dumas's famous hero, in these further adventures of that brave swordsman and his three trusty companions, Athos, Porthos and Aramis.

DOCTOR IS SUSPECTED

Suspect No. 1 in the mysterious case of the killings in the home of millionaire Tobias Greene is selected in the person of Ulrich Haupt. He immediately will be questioned by Philo Vance, the noted criminologist, Dist.-Atty. Markham and Sergt. Heath, the men who investigated the "Canary Murder Case." Haupt comes under suspicion in Paramount's all-talking film version of S. S. Van Dine's latest detective tale as Dr. Van Mion, family physician to the strange Greene family.

"ILLEGITIMATE" AN EVENING PROSPECT

Wanda Hawley

A drama, "Illegitimate," will be proffered at the Egan Theater for an indefinite period commencing this evening. Little is known of the piece other than the names of its author, Hunter Keasey; its producer, Tom Kress, and its cast.

Wanda Hawley will have the role of Mary Martin. Others are Byron Hawkins, Rollo Dix, Eileen Burgette, George Belden, Marie Williams, Tom Schamm, Bessie Fisher and William Oakley.

MIDNIGHT SHOW HAS CARRILLO

Popular Star to be Guest at "Broadway Melody's" Late Performance

Leo Carrillo, dramatic star, will be the guest of honor at tonight's special midnight matinee of "The Broadway Melody" at Grauman's Chinese Theater, according to an announcement just made by Sid Grauman.

Officiating as master of ceremonies in presenting Carrillo and other stars of stage and screen who will take part in impromptu festivities will be Fred Niblo. Grauman has arranged a number of surprise features for the performance, including the appearance of a dancing team of New York City.

Cycle Ballet at Loew's Enjoyed

Is the fashion cycle of the gay '90's to return?

Literally, it has already returned at Loew's State this week. Here sixteen of Fanchon and Marco's Sunkist Beauties have taken up bicycle riding as a hobby and after weeks of intensive training do a novel cycle ballet in intricate formation on the stage. With the increasing interest in bicycle races and the growing fad among the fair sex to take to cycling as a hip reducer, the act is said to be timely.

The entire act, which is called "Wheels" Idea, reverts back to the gay '90's for its atmosphere and types. The gay show girls and chorus boys are reproduced to the amusement of the audiences. Will Ritchie has three bicycles which are broken into at least forty pieces each as he does his falls.

Clark and McCullough, highest-salaried team ever to appear at the theater, were secured from the Fox Movietone studios to play in person this week. Rube Wolf and his band make music.

Orchestra's Final Concert Wins Audience

An ambitious program was presented by the Woman's Symphony Orchestra in its final concert of the season last evening at Philharmonic Auditorium, under the direction of Henry Schoenefeld.

The Weber Overturne "Preciosa" opened the program and was one of the best numbers, being distinguished by a well-defined rythm and climax. The sections of the orchestra are fairly well balanced but the ensemble is not always perfect. Mr. Schoenefeld succeeds, however, in effecting good variations in the tonal shading and in bringing out the moods of the compositions in the performance.

The Allegretto movement of the Beethoven Symphony in F major was especially pleasing in this regard, and contained some good crescendo passages. The closing number, the "March Hongroise" by Berlioz, was marked by a typical Hungarian spirit.

Erwin Nyiregyhazi, young wizard of the pianoforte, was the soloist of the evening, and was warmly received. He played the Schumann A minor Concerto with amazing technique and while there seemed to be a few moments of harshness, these were more than compensated for by the many passages of beauty and sweetness. Debussy's "Clair de Lune," was delicately appealing. In sharp contrast, however, was the Mephisto "Valse No. 1," by Liszt, which followed. This was an exhibition of keyboard pyrotechnics, and while it was wearisome in its length and too harsh in its utterance to be thoroughly enjoyable from a purely musical standpint, nevertheless it seemed to please a large number of the audience.

The orchestra, under Mr. Schoenefeld's leadership, played an admirable accompaniment to the Schumann Concerto.

Musical Troupe Arrives Today

Headed by F. S. MacFarland, producer, the "Wishing Well" musical-comedy company, composed of more than eighty persons, arrive in Los Angeles this morning preparatory to the gala opening at the Mason Theater on Monday night. Harriet Bennet, California's own prima donna, heads the large cast. Most of the principals were imported from England to portray their original characters in the Americanized version. These include Peter Gawthorne, the author; Reginald Dandy, Phyllis Nicholson, Basil Rodford, Wylie Watson and Evelyn Shirley.

The company includes "forty peppy Picadilly peaches" and a male chorus.

B Minor Mass Sung Tonight

Musical history will be made at Shrine Auditorium tonight when the Los Angeles Oratorio Society presents, for the first time in the West, Bach's celebrated "Mass in B-minor," with John Smallman conducting.

Acclaimed by critics the greatest choral composition of all time, the "Mass in B-minor" will be presented in its entirety by a chorus of 250 singers, assisted by fifty instrumentalists from the Philharmonic Orchestra.

MacLean Trails Crooks to Lair

The use of telephoto as a means of tracking criminals is an outstanding feature of Douglas MacLean's new talking comedy-drama, "The Carnation Kid," which began a week's engagement at Lazarus's Million Dollar yesterday.

In "The Carnation Kid," MacLean appears in the role of a traveling typewriter salesman who is mistaken for a notorious gangster and thus becomes involved in an exciting series of underworld events. Alfred Cohn, scenario author of "The Gorilla" and "Cat and Canary," wrote this latest thriller.

CARLOTTA KING'S RECITAL

Carlotta King, the new star of the singing screen, will be heard in person in two series of songs which she will present at her Coronado Beach Hotel concert, Sunday night. Miss King will offer both an English and Italian group, and prominent among the former will be "The Song of Spring," the work of the poet-composer, Sydney King Russell. In private life Miss King is Mrs. Russell. Other selections will include the aria from "The Marriage of Figaro," together with other pieces from Mozart, Sadero and Donaudy, "Silent Noon" by Elinor Rennick Warren, and Besly's "Second Minuet."

Within the next two weeks Jean Hersholt will move his belongings from the Universal studios, where he has been under contract for the last five years. Already Hersholt has been signed for two talking pictures by other large producers and immediately following his completion of the starring role in "The Climax," which Renaud Hoffman is directing for Universal, Hersholt will start on his first picture as a free-lance character actor.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by the Times for payment of Want Ads, as no mistakes will be rectified without them.

Cancellation of advertisements before appearance cannot be guaranteed to take effect until after the advertisements have appeared once.

Changes in want-ads must be received by 1:30 p.m. for daily issue and 6 p.m. Friday for Sunday Times. Cancellations of want-ads received by telephone will be accepted after 4:30 p.m. except on Sunday.

Rates for display advertising will be furnished on request.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The inadvertent omission or incorrect publishing of advertising will be rectified only by cancellation of the charge made for the service rendered.

Friday, 5 p.m., is closing hour for all ads for the early issue of the Sunday Times. Copy for the final and complete Sunday Real Estate Section is Saturday noon. Cancellations of any advertisement running in the Real Estate Section cannot be accepted after Friday noon.

SID GRAUMAN TO TURN PRODUCER

Will Build Own Studio for "Talkies" and Prologues

Plant Near Santa Monica to be Artistic Ensemble

Impresario to Dispose of Chinese Theater

Sid Grauman, motion-picture impresario, is going to build a studio of his own to produce his own sound feature pictures and sound atmospheric prologue films, according to his announcement yesterday. Plans for the construction of his studio will culminate after he takes a vacation which marks his retirement from the exhibition field.

The fact that Grauman is to produce independently came as a surprise in Hollywood yesterday. He plans on constructing a studio on a 150-acre tract of land between Culver City and Santa Monica. Grauman says his studio city will include administration buildings and stages designed and planned by himself on a unique scheme of harmony and beauty.

Grauman's retirement from the theatrical business will take place as soon as his interest in the Chinese Theater is disposed of, he said. Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists, also owns an interest in the theater and he is negotiating the deal for its sale. Schenck said yesterday he probably will have some announcement to make today.

The sale of the Chinese Theater is being negotiated with Publix Theaters, releasing subsidiary of Paramount-Famous-Lasky, which now operates the United Artists Theater downtown. Grauman said the theater deal is entirely in Schenck's hands.

"After a vacation of two months, which will include a trip to New York with Mr. Schenck, I plan to start work on my studio ideas," Grauman declared. "It has been my desire for some time to produce sound pictures and atmospheric prologues."

Grauman has been in the theatrical business in California for twenty-eight years, starting with his father at the old Unique Theater in San Francisco.

Schenck and Grauman are expected to leave for New York early next week. Schenck is going east to negotiate the proposed $60,000,000 United Artists consolidation and Warner Brothers merger. It is said that Jack Warner is getting ready to go to New York shortly and that his brother, Harry Warner, president of Warner Brothers, will arrive from Europe some time next week for the merger conferences.

It has not yet been definitely decided whether Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks will go to New York for the conferences. Samuel Goldwyn already is there and D. W. Griffith is en route from Texas.
